This catalog is an official publication of Johnson & Wales University. As such, it and any other publications or policies provided on JWU's website are subject to revision at any time. The university reserves the right to add, withdraw or revise any course, program of study, provision or requirement described within the catalog as may be deemed necessary. Occasionally, program requirements will vary by the publication date of the catalog. Requirements stated in the edition published closest to the September enrollment date will take precedence.

Students should read and fully understand the rules, requirements and policies described in this catalog. Additionally, all enrolled students are expected to be familiar with the contents of the Providence Campus Student Handbook. The Providence Campus Student Handbook contains important information regarding the academic performance and personal conduct of students as well as university grievance procedures. It also outlines the conditions under which students may be placed on probation or suspension from the university. The Providence Campus Student Handbook (<http://catalog.jwu.edu/handbook/providence>) is available online. Copies of the Providence Campus Student Handbook and this catalog are available at Student Academic & Financial Services.

Letter from the Providence Campus President and Chief Operating Officer

It is my honor to welcome you to Johnson & Wales University's Providence Campus, the oldest and largest of our four campuses. Combined enrollment at our four campuses is approximately 17,000 students from 49 states and 96 countries.

For nearly a century, we've been transforming the dreams of career-minded students into reality. From recruiting students who are best prepared for a JWU education, to providing them with a well-rounded, industry-focused curriculum, our strategic objectives embrace quality. Through our academically rigorous, industry-relevant and experientially based programs, we're developing tomorrow's industry and civic leaders. In addition, our academic programs, student services and activities, campus facilities and dedication to the community make the Providence Campus comfortable for all types of students from various backgrounds.

Providence is a truly vibrant and cultural city with a small town feel and all the charms of New England. These elements make for an attractive place to live, work and visit. With close proximity to Rhode Island's famous beaches and larger world-class cities including New York and Boston, Providence is home to six colleges and universities, while the state of Rhode Island is home to five more. I've been a part of the JWU community since 1988, and am proud of our commitment to educational excellence that inspires professional success and lifelong personal and intellectual growth.

I invite you to visit and learn more about our dynamic campus (<http://www.jwu.edu/providence/visit>) and commitment to excellence.

Sincerely,
Mim L. Runey, LP.D.
Providence Campus President and Chief Operating Officer

About JWU

Founded in 1914, Johnson & Wales University is a private, nonprofit, accredited institution with approximately 17,000 graduate and undergraduate students at its four campuses in Providence, R.I.; North Miami, Fla.; Denver, Colo.; and Charlotte, N.C. An innovative educational leader, the university offers degree programs in arts and sciences, business, culinary arts, education, nutrition, hospitality and technology. Its unique model integrates arts and sciences and industry-focused education with work experience and leadership opportunities, inspiring students to achieve professional success and lifelong personal growth. The university's impact is global, with alumni from 152 countries pursuing careers worldwide.

Here's what makes JWU different.

A Career-focused Education

- Our degree programs are designed to provide you with the knowledge and skills employers have identified as necessary in your field of choice. And you don't have to wait to build your career skills, as you'll have the opportunity to take courses in your major in your first year.
- Our faculty, many with industry experience, bring real-life knowledge, hands-on learning and, often, networking opportunities into small classroom settings. You'll learn industry best practices and train on career-specific tools and software.
- Dedicated faculty advisors and career advisors help you set professional goals and develop an educational plan designed for you to best attain those goals. In addition, specialized workshops help you build your résumé, highlight your skills and develop a portfolio of work to help set you apart.
- You'll have the opportunity to network with employers who visit campus each year, including career fairs, on-campus interviews and career events geared to your major.

A Full University Experience

- At least one-third of credits in each JWU program are in the arts & sciences to help you develop the critical thinking, communication and analytical skills necessary for long-term career progression.
- JWU offers more than 40 study abroad programs and independent exchanges, all of which include study such as lecture, industry visits and cultural excursions. Study Abroad staff members will help you identify programs that best fit your academic and career goals.

Hands-on Learning

- JWU's programs provide opportunities for real-world experience, which can include internships, community service learning opportunities and classroom projects with actual companies.
- Students learn by doing. Faculty teach through the practical application of theory in the classroom.
- Our students intern at more than 1,700 sites each year, related to their field of study.

Leadership and Community Opportunities

- Participation in competitions as a member of DECA, BPA, FCCLA and other nationally recognized student organizations help build leadership, career skills and your résumé.
- Community service is integral to our educational philosophy. Our ongoing commitment to community service has repeatedly earned JWU a place on the President's Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll.

Four Campuses, One University Ahead of its Time

- Four distinct campuses — in Providence, North Miami, Denver and Charlotte — offer a full university experience
- Each is uniquely positioned for you to connect with internships and professional opportunities in the region related to your major.

History of JWU

Johnson & Wales University (JWU) was founded as a business school in 1914 in Providence, R.I. by Gertrude I. Johnson and Mary T. Wales. From its origins as a school devoted to business education, JWU has grown to a junior college, to a senior college, and ultimately to university status.

JWU was accredited in 1954 by the Accrediting Council for Independent Colleges and Schools (ACICS).

In 1963 the State of Rhode Island granted a charter that authorized the university to operate as a nonprofit, degree-granting institution of higher learning and to award associate degrees in accounting, business administration, court reporting and secretarial sciences.

In 1970 the State of Rhode Island approved a revision in the university's charter allowing it to award baccalaureate degrees as well as associate degrees.

In 1972 and 1973 the university announced the addition of new associate degree programs in the fields of hospitality and culinary arts. This led to additional two- and four-year degree programs in the hospitality and food service fields.

In 1980 the university was granted a legislative charter to replace its previous charter and became authorized to award advanced degrees.

In 1984, a JWU campus was established in Charleston, S.C., which offered a variety of two- and four-year programs in food service, hospitality and travel-tourism. A JWU campus opened in Norfolk, Va., in 1986, offering one- and two-year food service programs.

In 1985, graduate degree programs were introduced at the university. Today the Alan Shawn Feinstein Graduate School offers an MBA degree program, as well as master's degrees in criminal justice and education. An Ed.D. in Educational Leadership is also offered.

The university officially changed its name to Johnson & Wales University in 1988.

In 1992, JWU opened a campus in North Miami, Florida, offering two- and four-year food service, business and hospitality programs. That year also marked the university's formal establishment of the College of Business, The Hospitality College, the College of Culinary Arts and the School of Technology. A new emphasis on general studies was introduced with the development of the School of Arts & Sciences.

The university's School of Technology offered courses in Worcester, Mass., from 1992–2002.

JWU received regional accreditation from the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC) in 1993. In that same year, JWU opened a campus in Vail, Colo., which offered an accelerated associate degree program in culinary arts to college graduates. The year also marked the beginning of a four-year bachelor's degree offering in culinary arts.

From 1994–2004 JWU offered programs at the Institute of Higher Marketing (IHM) Business School in Göteborg, Sweden. This joint educational agreement allowed business and hospitality students to complete one year of study in Sweden and finish their degrees at one of the university's domestic campuses.

The university consolidated its institutional accreditation efforts under NEASC on June 30, 2000.

September 2000 marked the opening of the Denver, Colo., campus, which offers two- and four-year degrees in culinary arts, hospitality and business, as well as an accelerated associate degree program originally offered in Vail. In 2000, the Vail Campus merged with the Denver Campus.

In 2002, the university made a strategic decision to consolidate its smaller Charleston and Norfolk campuses to build a campus in Charlotte, N.C. JWU's Charlotte Campus opened in fall 2004 and offers associate and bachelor's degree programs in business, culinary arts and hospitality. The Charleston and Norfolk campuses officially closed in May 2006.

Beginning with the 2008–2009 academic year, JWU's College of Business and The Hospitality College eliminated associate degrees and began offering only bachelor of science degrees that allowed students to customize their education through specializations or concentrations. This decision did not impact the College of Culinary Arts and the School of Technology.

In 2009–2010 JWU recruited, admitted and enrolled the entering class for two online bachelor's degree programs in food service management.

In fall 2012 the university began offering a degree in counseling psychology, the first bachelor's degree program offered through the John Hazen White School of Arts & Sciences. This was followed in fall 2013 by the addition of two more arts and sciences degree programs.

Mission & Principles

Johnson & Wales University ... an exceptional education that inspires professional success and lifelong personal and intellectual growth

In support of our mission and recognizing the importance of preserving our unique student-centered culture we will be guided by the following principles:

- Undertake continuous improvement and planning for a sustainable future.
- Foster a teaching-focused university that encourages appropriate scholarship and offers relevant programs that maximize student potential.
- Enrich our academic programs with experiential and work-integrated learning.
- Be cost-conscious in our endeavor to provide an affordable private university education and be a good steward of our resources.
- Embrace diversity for a richly inclusive community.
- Model ethical behavior and local, national and global citizenship.
- Value our faculty and staff by investing in their quality of life and professional development.
- Provide facilities, technology and other resources to meet the needs of students, faculty and staff.

Campus Facilities

Providence, Rhode Island

Since its opening in 1914, Johnson & Wales University's original campus in Providence, R.I., has grown from a small business school to a large, international university featuring business, culinary arts, hospitality, technology and arts & sciences programs.

The City

Providence offers big-city sophistication on a welcoming scale, and is often voted one of the country's best places to live. A historic yet fast-paced city, Providence is located within the highest per capita concentration of colleges and universities in the U.S., so it's alive with things to do.

The major business, financial and retail districts of the city are all within walking distance of the Downcity Campus, which is convenient for students who want to look for part-time jobs. Also within walking distance are the Providence Performing Arts Center, Providence Public Library, Dunkin' Donuts Center, Rhode Island Convention Center, Trinity Repertory Company, Providence Place, outdoor skating at the Bank of America City Center, the Rhode Island State House, Rhode Island School of Design, Brown University and places of worship of many major religious denominations. Restaurants for every taste and budget, many owned or operated by JWU alumni, can be found throughout the city as well.

Providence's unique geographic location — only an hour's drive from both Boston and Cape Cod, and three hours' drive from New York City — makes it an inviting place to live. Interstate bus and train stations are within easy reach of the Downcity Campus, and the state airport in Warwick is only about 10 miles to the south. The Rhode Island Public Transit Authority (RIPTA) provides free transportation within Rhode Island to students with a valid ID.

The Campus

The Downcity Campus is anchored by Gaebe Commons, a popular hub of student activity, and surrounded by a variety of shops, restaurants, cafés, music venues and a picturesque riverfront. This campus is home to students in the College of Business, The Hospitality College, the School of Technology and the John Hazen White School of Arts & Sciences.

The nearby Harborside Campus sits on 105 scenic acres along Narragansett Bay, and houses the College of Culinary Arts, the Alan Shawn Feinstein Graduate School, the Wildcat Center (home of the NCAA Division III Wildcats), and the Culinary Arts Museum at JWU. Residential facilities are located throughout Providence and Cranston. JWU provides free shuttle bus service between the campuses and residence halls.

Academic Facilities and Administrative Offices — Downcity Campus

The ALUMNI HOUSE, at 1146 Narragansett Boulevard in Cranston, is utilized for distinguished visiting professor lodging.

University-owned or -operated Practicum Educational Facilities

JWU is in a unique position to offer students hands-on learning in a variety of industry-related businesses. The following practicum educational facilities are owned or operated by JWU and provide students with internships in their field of study.

The RADISSON HOTEL PROVIDENCE AIRPORT, located in Warwick, R.I. near T.F. Green State Airport, offers internships in culinary, restaurant, food service and lodging operations.

Staffed by JWU travel-tourism internship students, the T.F. Green State Airport INFORMATION BOOTH helps travelers to Rhode Island find their way to the state's best attractions and learn about lodging and transportation options.

The R.I. SMALL BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT CENTER, located in the Richmond Building, houses a resource center for students, entrepreneurs and small businesses. The center provides small businesses space, technology and access to business professionals and students. Projects range from developing websites to creating marketing plans to full-scale business strategy planning.

Equine students study horse care and management at the CENTER FOR EQUINE STUDIES, a JWU-owned stable, paddock and ring in Rehoboth, Mass., reserved for the university's exclusive use, with limited space for students to board their own horses.

In SCHOOL OF TECHNOLOGY LABS including the Feinstein Center for Technology & Design, students perform graphics, Web, programming, networking, database and other technology-based services for a number of clients.

In UNIVERSITY FINANCE AND ACCOUNTING, accounting students have the opportunity to gain experience in a variety of accounting and financial functions including student payroll, accounts payable, accounting clerk functions in inventory and sales reporting, general ledger, financial reporting and budgeting, and accounting cycle functions.

The food service industry spans a range of operational facilities and outlets. Johnson & Wales University provides a variety of food service outlets that serve as practicum educational facilities for students participating in internships. The spectrum of food service operations varies from high-quantity, volume production to specialized coffee and retail outlets. Some of the practicum educational facilities available for internships include

CITY BURGER, located at the corner of Chestnut and Pine streets, is the best place to grab a fresh-ground hamburger, hand-cut fries and a milkshake.

HARBOR VIEW at the Harborside Campus is a quantity-food facility. It serves a wide variety of fresh foods daily.

MARKET PLACE is located in the John Hazen White Center at the corner of Pine and Chestnut streets. It serves great food cooked to order, and features Nature's Bounty Grill, where all items are sustainable, all natural or organic.

RED SAUCE PIZZA & PASTA, located in the Academic Center at the Harborside Campus, is the latest lunch, dinner and late-night dining option. The menu features made-to-order pastas, grilled pizzas, calzones, sandwiches and farm fresh salads.

SNOWDEN DINING CENTER is located on Weybosset Street, and specializes in a variety of grilled and made-to-order items and signature sandwiches.

STARBUCKS® store, operated by Johnson & Wales University pursuant to a license from Starbucks Corporation, is located next to City Burger at the corner of Chestnut and Pine streets. A second Starbucks store is located on the Harborside Campus. We Proudly Serve is located in The Yena Center. Menu items include coffee, tea and pastry selections.

The WEYBOSSET STREET CAFÉ, located on the corner of Page and Weybosset streets, offers an eclectic menu of international food.

The JOHNSON & WALES BAKERY COMMISSARY is located in Harbor View at the Harborside Campus. This high-volume professional baking facility produces desserts and pastries served universitywide.

LIBERTY MARKET, located in The Friedman Center, offers healthy foods and snacks, fresh coffee and pastries, art and school supplies and various residence hall room necessities. It also offers a large selection of juices, energy drinks, frozen entrées, ice cream and favorite snack foods, including vegetarian and organic items, as well as magazines, specialty gift baskets and personal items.

University Library Network

The Johnson & Wales University Library Network is comprised of the libraries of the Providence, R.I.; North Miami, Fla.; Denver, Colo.; and Charlotte, N.C. campuses. An important aspect of the network is the access it provides to resources, services and facilities shared by the Higher Education Library Information Network (HELIN), a consortium of academic, law, and health sciences libraries in southern New England. Johnson & Wales University Library is also a key partner with the university's academic programs in the enhancement of student research skills through the delivery of classroom instruction, online information literacy tutorials, Web-based guides customized to the research outcomes of specific courses and curricula, plus personalized reference services delivered to students in person, over the phone, through email, online chat, or SMS. In addition, the library hosts the Scholar's Archive@JWU (<http://scholarsarchive.jwu.edu>), an open-access digital commons dedicated to preserving and promoting examples of scholarly or artistic works produced at or belonging to the university.

The main Johnson & Wales University Library facility in Providence occupies the first two floors of The Yena Center at 111 Dorrance Street. It houses the largest of the University Library Network's book, periodical and audiovisual resource collections, as well as the administrative offices of the university dean of libraries. Other resources include access to numerous online databases, computer workstations, group study rooms, private study carrels, soft seating, an electronic classroom and wireless Internet connectivity throughout the facility. Coffee, tea and light snacks can be purchased from the We Proudly Serve café, generally open according to library hours. During the academic year the library's hours are Monday through Thursday, 7:30 a.m. to midnight; Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.; and Sunday, 11 a.m. to midnight. Professional reference services are available Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.; and Sunday, 2 to 10 p.m. Note that schedules are subject to change during exam weeks, term breaks, holidays and over the summer.

Library collections and services at the Harborside Campus are located in The Friedman Center at 321 Harborside Boulevard and primarily support the curricula for the College of Culinary Arts, with ancillary resources available for the Alan Shawn Feinstein Graduate School. Like its downcity affiliate, this facility provides access to online databases, computer workstations, group study rooms and wireless Internet connectivity, as well as numerous books, periodicals and audiovisual resources. In addition, this library holds an important collection numbering in the thousands of restaurant menus from around the world. Hours of operation during the academic year are Monday through Thursday, 7:30 a.m. to midnight; Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.; and Sunday, 11 a.m. to midnight. Professional reference services are available Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Sunday, 2 to 10 p.m.

Culinary Arts Museum at Johnson & Wales University

Located in The Friedman Center at 315 Harborside Boulevard on the Harborside Campus, the Culinary Arts Museum at JWU is an educational resource for Johnson & Wales University, the community-at-large, food scholars and the food service industry. The Culinary Arts Museum at JWU seeks to both preserve and interpret the broad culinary and hospitality heritage addressed by the university. It is a showcase for the work of students, faculty, alumni and distinguished visiting chefs. Through exhibitions and special events, the museum strives to interpret the evolution of food preparation and presentation, the development of culinary equipment and technology, the diverse menus offered and the places where people dine.

Since its founding in 1989, the Culinary Arts Museum has acquired several substantial donations and individual gifts which are in need of varying degrees of additional documentation and conservation. Starting May 20, 2013, Johnson & Wales University is conducting a comprehensive inventory of the holdings, a collection estimated to be more than 250,000 items. The museum will be closed to the public so that the staff can focus on completing this intensive project in a timely manner. The museum will reopen in September 2014.

Computer Laboratories

Johnson & Wales University has computer labs (<http://www.jwu.edu/content.aspx?id=6584>) available for students to use email, Internet Explorer, Microsoft Office, jwuLink and more. Additional labs are available to students enrolled in classes that teach specialty software or technology.

Students must have an active JWU email account to access lab computers. Documents can be saved to student-acquired USB drives or documents can be attached to and sent through email. Students cannot save files onto computers in the labs.

Lab locations are:

Downcity Campus

Academic Computer Labs
Academic Center — 4th floor
138 Mathewson Street, Providence, R.I.
(598-1504)

Xavier Computer Labs

Xavier Academic Complex — 2nd floor
259 Pine Street, Providence, R.I.
(598-1537)

Harborside Campus

Harborside Computer Labs
Harborside Academic Center
265 Harborside Boulevard, Providence, R.I.
(598-1592)

Residence Halls

NOTE: All halls are coeducational and smoke free. All are cable and Internet ready. During the first two weeks of the fall term, each room is provided with a MicroFridge®, which students may opt to rent for the rest of the year, with the exception of Renaissance Hall, The Cove and Harborside Village, which feature full-size refrigerators. Students are allowed only one MicroFridge per room.

Downcity Campus

The Cove

1 Park Row West, Providence, R.I.
(680-7780)

The Cove is open to sophomores, juniors and seniors and is located downcity near the train station and a short walk from campus. This hall has two-, three- and four-person apartments which feature gourmet kitchens, stainless steel appliances, granite countertops and hardwood floors. Bedrooms are carpeted and a washer/dryer is provided in each apartment unit (no card or coin required). Residents of The Cove are required to agree to abide by a community policy agreement as a condition to residing in The Cove. There is no meal plan included at this hall. Students can purchase Wildcat Meals from Student Academic & Financial Services.

Imperial Hall

15 Hospital Street, Providence, R.I.
(598-1166)

Imperial is a residence facility containing single-, double-, triple- and some quad-occupancy rooms. Single- and double-occupancy rooms on the second and third floors have private baths, at a slightly higher cost than the first floor. The first floor of Imperial offers community bathrooms as well as an on-site kitchen, plus community space on the lower level. It is reserved primarily for upperclassmen. There is no university parking.

McNulty Hall

101 Pine Street, Providence, R.I.
(598-4797)

McNulty Hall is located adjacent to The Yena Center (library) at the Pine Street perimeter of Gaebe Commons. McNulty houses first-year technology, business, hospitality, arts & sciences and culinary arts students, and features double-, triple- and quad- occupancy rooms, all of which are air conditioned and have private baths. Also, McNulty features laundry rooms and a variety of common areas for study and recreational use. There is no university student parking at this hall, although private parking is available from vendors in nearby lots.

Renaissance Hall

101 Cedar Street, Providence, R.I.
(598-2800)

Renaissance Hall is located at the corner of Dean and Cedar streets, near the historic Federal Hill section of Providence. Renaissance houses first-year, international and upperclass students. On a regular university bus route, it is close enough to classes that many students choose to walk together to class. This facility provides suite-style living with primarily four residents in each unit. Equipped with kitchens and private baths, this facility also maintains a recreation room and study rooms, as well as a laundry room. Limited university student parking is available through a lottery process for upperclassmen. There is no meal plan included at this hall. Students can purchase Wildcat Meals from Student Academic & Financial Services.

Snowden Hall

32 Page Street, Providence, R.I.
(598-1025)

Snowden Hall, available at a slightly higher cost, contains double-, triple- and quad- occupancy rooms with private baths and air conditioning. Residents of this hall are a mix of first-year and upperclassmen. It also houses a dining center featuring grilled-to-order items and signature sandwiches. There is no university parking at this hall.

Xavier Hall

60 Broad Street, Providence, R.I.
(598-1496)

Xavier Hall, adjacent to the Xavier Academic Complex, has a limited number of single occupancy rooms for upperclass students, and double-, triple- and quad-occupancy rooms available for first-year students. Student parking is not available at this hall.

Harborside Campus

East HALL (598-1189)
West HALL (598-1155)

South HALL (598-4720)

2 Washington Avenue, Providence, R.I.

East, West and South halls are neighboring residence halls located on the Harborside Campus near academic and student service facilities. Primarily for culinary and baking & pastry arts students, rooms in East Hall and South Hall house four residents. West Hall offers triple rooms. Each hall has community bathrooms, a laundry room, study room and recreation room. University student parking is available to all with a valid sticker.

Harbor View

1150 Narragansett Boulevard, Cranston, R.I.
(598-1154)

Harbor View is located on the Cranston-Providence line and overlooks Narragansett Bay. It is within walking distance of the Harborside Campus. Harbor View contains triples and some quads with private baths, as well as a dining center, recreation room with a large-screen TV, and study room. It is reserved for upperclassmen and some first-year students. There is limited parking available.

Harborside Village

100 Harborside Boulevard, Providence, R.I.
(808-6000)

Open to juniors and seniors, Harborside Village is comprised of 12 individual buildings with 12 four-person apartment units in each. Apartments are fully furnished and feature four single, private bedrooms; two private bathrooms; an eat-in kitchen; a common room; and a washer/dryer unit (no card or coin required). An on-site community building houses village resident mailboxes, a function room, a game room, and the community management office. Parking is available through a lottery process. Residents of Harborside Village are required to agree to abide by a community policy agreement as a condition to residing in Harborside Village. There is no meal plan included at this hall. Students can purchase Wildcat Meals from Student Academic & Financial Services.

Centennial House

135 Norwood Avenue, Cranston, R.I.

Centennial House, located a short distance from the Harborside Campus and open to sophomores and juniors, is a nontraditional housing option, different from that of a residence hall. Opening in 2013, Centennial House will house approximately 25 residents in a cooperative-style living environment focused on self-governance and community service.

Campus Dining Services

JWU is in a unique position to provide students with quality food service. Culinary arts and hotel students, as part of their laboratory training, provide much of the food service at the university, under the supervision of professional chef-instructors.

The following dining centers are available for students on a meal plan and their guests: Harbor View Dining Center, Market Place, Red Sauce Pizza & Pasta, Weybosset Street Café, Snowden Dining Center, City Burger, as well as three Starbucks® which are located on the Downcity and Harborside campuses.

All resident students, except for those living in The Cove and Harborside Village, are required to subscribe to the university's Room and Board plan, which provides 15 meals per week. Commuter and all resident students may make use of the campus dining facilities as well by purchasing commuter meals. Meals can be purchased individually or at a discounted price in blocks of 10, 25 or 50 at Campus Dining, located in The Yena Center, 111 Dorrance Street. For more information, contact Campus Dining at 598-1433.

Accreditations

Johnson & Wales University (JWU) is accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges Inc. (NEASC), through its Commission on Institutions of Higher Education. This accreditation encompasses the university's four campuses in Providence, R.I.; North Miami, Fla.; Denver, Colo.; and Charlotte, N.C. Inquiries regarding JWU's accreditation status should be directed to the Director of Academic Accountability & Initiatives, University Provost's Office, Johnson & Wales University, One Cookson Place, Sixth Floor, Providence RI 02903; or at 401-598-1345. Nondiscrimination Notice

Johnson & Wales University does not discriminate unlawfully on the basis of race, religion, color, national origin, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, disability, status as a protected veteran, pregnancy or marital status or any other unlawful basis in admission to, access to, treatment of, or employment in its programs and activities.

(The term "sexual orientation" shall mean and be limited to having an orientation for or being identified as having an orientation for heterosexuality, bisexuality, or homosexuality. This Nondiscrimination Statement shall not be interpreted to prohibit Johnson & Wales University from maintaining separate facilities, sports teams, housing, university-based social fraternities and sororities, and other programs and facilities, for males and females, in accordance with the provisions of Section 16-38-1.1 of the General Laws of Rhode Island, as the same may be amended from time to time, or similar laws applicable in other states where the university conducts its operations.)

The following person has been designated to handle inquiries regarding this statement:

Nondiscrimination Coordinator, Johnson & Wales University, 8 Abbott Park Place,
Providence, RI 02903, 401-598-2716

The nondiscrimination coordinator has been designated to carry out the university's responsibilities under all federal and state discrimination laws, including, but not limited to, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (Title IX), Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (504), the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990.

The university's full Policy regarding Prohibited Discrimination and Harassment, including Sexual Harassment and Sexual Misconduct, is included in the student handbook for each campus (available on the university's website or upon request to the nondiscrimination coordinator).

Inquiries concerning the application of the nondiscrimination statement may also be referred to the appropriate governmental agencies listed below:

Office for Civil Rights, U.S. Department of Education, Customer Service Team,
400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20202-1100, 800-421-3481.
This office may refer the matter to a regional Office for Civil Rights.

Communication Studies

(School of Arts & Sciences)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Communication Studies program provides students with a broad, liberal arts-based curriculum focused on the study of the contemporary media industries. Through the required and elective courses, students will gain a strong foundation in the theoretical and practical study of media. Students will engage with scholarly work from within the field of communication/media studies to analyze, interpret and evaluate the relationship between the media industries, the popular texts they produce, and the broader social world. Through this course of study, students will become critical thinkers capable of engaging questions such as why media texts are created in particular ways for particular audiences; how audiences respond to media texts; and what such representations mean for our human condition in a global society.

Our faculty members expect students to demonstrate a breadth and depth of knowledge across the areas of media industries, texts and audiences, within both global and local contexts. Students will study the interrelations among these general areas to satisfy their breadth requirements, and focus on writing and producing specific forms of media to fulfill their depth requirements. The major, then, has a tripartite structure: 10 core courses that cover industries, texts and audiences (breadth); and two strands, one in principles, and another in practices, with five electives per strand (depth). The principle strand emphasizes media theorizing, while the practices strand stresses media writing and digital production. The intent is to provide enough flexibility for students to select courses that complement their intellectual interests; for that reason, students may also create their own focus areas with five electives, in consultation with an advisor.

The university's longstanding commitment to professional job training continues with appropriate coursework in related professional studies — from Creative Advertising in the College of Business, to Sports/Entertainment/Event Management in The Hospitality College — and through a media internship. Students use their internship as a springboard for employment in a variety of media industries, as well as for media-related positions in non-media industries. The job titles available to students are just as varied as the industries themselves: social media designer, financial media consultant, television producer, arts grant writer, film distributor, music industry promoter, radio station program director, magazine editor, science journalist, health care communication director, and so forth. Students will also be well positioned to pursue graduate degrees in a wide variety of related fields.

Upon completion of this program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Evidence a working knowledge and understanding of how the major media/communication industries work in all facets, including production, distribution and exhibition.
- Identify and explain the significance of key moments in media history and apply this knowledge to explain how the media/communication industries operate today.
- Analyze, interpret and evaluate media texts in terms of their rhetorical and aesthetic construction.
- Analyze, interpret and evaluate the relationship between media/communications industries and the social world.
- Demonstrate a basic understanding of theory and research methods used within the field of media and communication studies.
- Conduct research by finding and evaluating sources and incorporating them into well-reasoned, original arguments.
- Demonstrate an understanding and appreciation of the ethical values underlying best practices in the production of media products.
- Write, design and/or create effectively in a range of media formats, such as news, radio, film, TV and social media; demonstrate an understanding of the rhetorical features specific to each medium.
- Demonstrate proficiency in practical communication and business skills specific to media and communication industries.
- Demonstrate proficiency in the critical thinking, writing and oral communication skills associated with the basic tenets of a liberal arts education.

Counseling Psychology

(School of Arts & Sciences)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Counseling Psychology program prepares students for careers as case/program workers and managers and aides who assist counselors in resolving clients' personal, family, educational, mental health or work-related issues. Graduates of this program may pursue employment in the public or private sectors working in educational settings, private agencies, hospitals, rehabilitation centers or in nonprofit organizations.

Upon completion of this program, graduates are expected to demonstrate knowledge of the theoretical frameworks in counseling, professional and ethical practices, social and cultural diversity, human growth and development, career development, helping relationships, group work, assessment and research.

In addition, upon completion of the program, graduates should be able to demonstrate the ability to

- Delineate the historical nature of psychology as well as the bio-psychosocial and developmental determinants of behavior.
- Practice effectively within the following core counselor practice domains: use of counseling strategies and techniques, client assessment, case management, treatment planning, addictions counseling, community resource utilization, job development and placement, vocational counseling, research application and ethical counseling.
- Identify, implement and evaluate the various frameworks for ethical appraisal of the individual, including use of methods of data gathering and interpretation, statistical concepts, individual and group testing, case studies, historical perspectives, and individual differences from multicultural and ethnic contexts.
- Employ basic scientific research methods to analyze and critique assumptions, examine available evidence including (but not limited to) statistical analysis, theorize, conduct ethical, representative, and viable research and draw logical conclusions in an attempt to identify and/or resolve a specific problem.
- Identify the nature and needs of diverse individuals in a multicultural society, demonstrating appropriate sensitivity to needs of these populations in applying psychological theory, employing research methodology, and in making referrals for mental health treatment.
- Examine the development, ethical issues and theoretical approaches to group counseling including defining and appraising group counseling theories, group therapy techniques, group purpose, group development and group dynamics.
- Develop criteria, skills, and strategies for providing effective crisis intervention, deescalation of conflict, and conflict resolution in crisis situations.
- Apply ethical principles while dealing with clients within the counseling psychology profession.
- Evaluate and describe the philosophy, mission, programs and services of various human service providers as well as to demonstrate the ability to make appropriate individual referrals to said human service agencies.
- Function professionally in a supervised clinical experience that will prepare them to employ effective counseling practices while developing an understanding of the inner workings public and/or private mental health and related human service agencies.

Courses have been selected to provide students with a broad foundation of knowledge concerning human thoughts, emotions and behaviors. The program features a significant number of psychology courses which address both the biological and psychological motivations for certain behaviors. Sociology courses also play a major role by exploring the impact that a person's social environment (i.e., family, culture, religion, etc.) has had on his/her development. Knowledge gained in these disciplines is then examined from the counseling psychology perspective to determine viable modes of intervention and treatment, if such actions are warranted.

Consistent with the Johnson & Wales University experiential education philosophy, Counseling Psychology students also gain practical experience while enrolled in this program. For example, courses like Principles of Group Counseling and Counseling Theories and Techniques provide students with classroom exercises in which they learn about, role play and model various counseling practices. Graduates of this program will be expected to employ critical thinking skills and ethical principles essential to interacting with and successfully treating clients in the professional environment.

To qualify for the internship, students must have a 2.75 GPA in their major courses, or have permission of the program director, and a letter of approval from their faculty advisor. Those who do not qualify for the internship will be required to take three additional counseling classes in lieu of the internship classes, CSLG3099 and CSLG4099.

In addition, students are expected to use the American Counseling Association (ACA) Code of Ethics and Standards of Practice as a guide for ethical behavior throughout the program.

PLEASE NOTE: A Master of Science degree is usually required for licensed positions as professional mental health counselors, marriage and family counselors and social workers. At completion of the bachelor's degree program in Counseling Psychology, students may also choose to pursue a Master of Science degree in Counseling Psychology. The bachelor of science degree program prepares students for entry-level case/program workers and managers and aide positions who assist licensed counselors.

Admission Standards

- Preference will be given to applicants who have maintained a B average or higher in a college prep curriculum throughout high school.
- Submission of SAT or ACT scores is strongly recommended.
- Students who wish to transfer into the Counseling Psychology program may do so if they have met the following criteria: a B average or better in all psychology courses and a 2.5 cumulative GPA.

Environmental Sustainability

(School of Arts & Sciences)

Minor

The School of Arts & Sciences offers two minors (22.5 credits) that enhance and strengthen the qualifications of graduates moving into business: Environmental Sustainability and Technical Communications.* These are intended to give students opportunities to develop expertise in an area that complements their major. Real-world applications are embedded in both minors.

This minor prepares students to understand the scientific, public policy and economic challenges of current environmental problems such as global climate change and renewable energy. Faced with balancing social, economic and environmental concerns, industry and community leaders are exploring sustainable business practices. Through coursework and field research, students develop the knowledge and skills needed to address sustainability issues and to navigate the emerging green economy.

* The only minors offered are those listed in the catalog. Students cannot elect to create their own minors.

Liberal Studies

(School of Arts & Sciences)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

Through the required and elective courses in the bachelor's degree in Liberal Studies, students will acquire knowledge and experience in the arts, cultural studies, history, philosophy, the behavioral sciences, math and science. With a required minor in either business or technology, students will be prepared to enter the workforce in business, nonprofit, government, and arts/cultural organizations. The degree will also prepare them for further graduate studies. In addition, the program will include experiential learning through an internship, service learning and an optional study abroad.

Key differentiators of the JWU Liberal Studies degree program include a requirement that students complete a minor in business or technology, the inclusion of a heightened form of experiential learning, and in-depth advising in fulfillment of our mission. The required minor is intended to assure that students have an introduction to a profession or set of professional skills prior to program completion.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Effectively apply oral and written communication strategies appropriate for a particular situation and/or audience.
- Solve mathematical problems and to apply mathematical reasoning to problems in other fields of study.
- Apply appropriate disciplinary criteria to examine complex issues, make decisions, analyze arguments, conduct credible research, solve problems and create original ideas and/or approaches.
- Apply ethical standards and reasoning to complex issues in personal, academic and professional decisions.
- Exhibit knowledge of the complexities of human behavior and society.
- Interpret human behavior from various social science perspectives.
- Analyze and interpret human history, philosophy, literature and the arts.
- Exhibit knowledge and application of the scientific principles that govern the natural world.
- Synthesize and apply knowledge from multiple perspectives to complex issues and real-world problems.

Accounting

(College of Business)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Accounting bachelor's degree program prepares students for the wide range of career opportunities available to accounting professionals. Students in the program receive a solid foundation in accounting theory and practice as well as in the areas of business, communications and general studies.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to:

- Understand and apply generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).
- Prepare and communicate financial reports to stakeholders and all levels of management.
- Use logic and critical thinking skills in the preparation and analysis of financial statements.
- Identify and analyze ethical issues in accounting.

Students completing the program are well positioned for entry-level opportunities in public accounting firms and similarly challenging opportunities in private, governmental and not-for-profit organizations. Positions include staff accountants, cost accountants, tax accountants and auditors.

Students wishing to satisfy the 150 Hours of College Education requirement, now required in many states before being allowed to take the Uniform Certified Public Accountants Examination, may achieve this objective and at the same time earn a master's degree by applying for acceptance to the university's Feinstein Graduate School at the end of their junior year. Acceptance will be granted provided the student receives the recommendation of two undergraduate faculty members, successfully completes an interview process, and fulfills the requirements for the bachelor of science degree.

To maximize the benefits of choosing electives, and because of different state requirements, students desiring to sit for the Uniform Certified Public Accountants examination are urged to contact their faculty advisor early in the program.

Students who maintain at least a 2.75 grade point average may have the opportunity to participate in internship opportunities either on or off campus. By participating in an internship students receive hands-on experience by performing accounting functions for various university operations and may graduate with experience in such areas as accounts payable, accounts receivable and general ledger.

Students are required to complete one 22.5 credit concentration or accounting option per program guidelines. Students are encouraged to meet with their faculty advisor before selecting a concentration so that the concentration selected best prepares the student for his or her career goal. Students may also apply for an internship in place of one term of classroom studies.

An important component of the program's education experience is the general studies courses taught by the School of Arts & sciences. Graduates are expected to show competencies in higher order thinking, communications, ethics, global diversity, responsible citizenship, leadership and artistic responsibility. The following literacies should also be demonstrated: sociocultural, quantitative, scientific and informational.

Advertising & Marketing Communications

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Advertising & Marketing Communications bachelor's degree program provides students with a wide range of knowledge and practical skills related to the development and execution of integrated marketing communication plans, which embrace the promotional elements of advertising, public relations, direct marketing, sales promotion, interactive marketing and personal selling.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Analyze and interpret research data and make appropriate recommendations.
- Make appropriate media choices for marketing communications messages.
- Develop integrated marketing communications campaign strategies.
- Formulate creative advertising strategies for goods and services.
- Analyze ethical issues and identify socially responsible marketing communication practices.

Specific skills developed include the planning and buying of media, writing publicity and cause-related material, managing market research projects, developing Web-based and viral advertising programs, producing concepts for print and broadcast advertisements, and writing creative strategy statements. Students have the opportunity to hone these skills while participating in a term-long internship, held at a wide variety of host sites. This is a one-term, 4.5–13.5 credit experience with a business partner anywhere in the world. Students complete a specific business-building project, which is reviewed by the faculty advisor and the business partner.

Upon graduation, students may be employed by media organizations, advertising agencies, or marketing communications companies in positions that utilize these skills. Typical areas of interest include entry-level positions in account management, account planning, media planning/buying, media sales and creative services.

Students should use their career electives and free electives to create a meaningful, customized career concentration. The university's faculty advising system will facilitate these selections.

An important component of this program's educational experience is the general studies courses taught by the School of Arts & Sciences. Graduates are expected to show competencies in higher order thinking, communications, ethics, global diversity, responsible citizenship, leadership and artistic responsibility. The following literacies should also be demonstrated: sociocultural, quantitative, scientific and informational.

Business Administration

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Business Administration bachelor's degree program provides a balanced combination of required core courses to ensure students can achieve a solid business and general studies education, and electives to inspire students to customize their programs to best fit their unique interests.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Exhibit competence in management, marketing, accounting finance, business law and economics.
- Solve problems by identifying alternatives and justifying decisions using higher-order thinking skills.
- Identify and analyze ethical issues while implementing socially responsible business practices.
- Demonstrate effective written and oral communication skills.
- Identify and analyze the effects of global forces within the business environment.

This program's business-related core builds a solid foundation by exposing students to relevant areas of Accounting, Economics, Information Technology, Business Law, Finance, Marketing and Management. Arts & Sciences courses also provide opportunities for students to acquire the skills important for professional success and lifelong personal and intellectual growth.

Students also tailor their degree by working with a faculty advisor to select 31.5 credits of business electives. In doing so, students have the freedom to choose from extensive options to best suit their goals. For example, students can pursue concentrations in business; concentrations in other areas; internships; directed work experiences; and/or study abroad credits to prepare for a more specific career.

The general studies courses taught by the School of Arts & Sciences are also an important component of the program's education experience. These courses help students develop competencies in higher-order thinking and communications while providing them with a better understanding of ethics, global diversity, responsible citizenship, leadership and artistic responsibility.

Creative Advertising

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Creative Advertising program provides students with a broad range of knowledge, experiential learning and practical skills to create advertising in the full spectrum of media, both traditional and new media. This program will prepare students for the disciplines of copywriting and art direction both in advertising agencies and within in-house communications departments in marketing-driven private companies, as well as in freelance practice.

While focusing on the creative side of the advertising field, students will also study the more strategic side of the industry, getting a balanced marketing communications education.

Classroom lectures play a vital role in Creative Advertising, but it is the hands-on experiential aspects of this program's core courses that provide students with practical, real-world assignments yielding the quality and quantity of finished creative output that constitutes a competitive entry-level portfolio.

This program utilizes the resources of JWU's School of Technology to provide courses in Adobe Photoshop and InDesign as well as other graphics and new media Mac-based programs, both foundational and advanced.

A traditional internship experience is also offered. This is a one-term, 4.5–13.5 credit experience with a business partner anywhere in the world. Students complete a specific business-building project, which is reviewed by the faculty advisor and the business partner.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Develop strategically sound rough concepts in great quantity and quality.
- Craft finished advertising in traditional media such as print, broadcast, direct mail, collateral, outdoor and point-of-sale.
- Craft finished advertising in new media such as Web, viral, environmental and other non-traditional and guerilla media.
- Complete a Web-based entry-level portfolio of work demonstrating their capabilities in the various media, skewed to either the copywriting or art direction specialty, or both.
- Analyze ethical issues and identify socially responsible marketing communications.

Criminal Justice

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Criminal Justice degree program prepares students for professional careers in the field of criminal justice. Through this course of study, students are expected to acquire the communication, logic, critical thinking and ethical reasoning skills essential for both the understanding of complex global and domestic criminal justice issues and for effective career performance and progression.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Explain the historical backgrounds, agencies, professions, purposes, functions and administration of the American criminal justice system.
- Develop and apply criminal justice research plans utilizing the scientific method; appropriate sampling, measurement, and data collection techniques; and data analysis including descriptive and inferential statistics, central tendency, variability, analysis of variance and correlation.
- Apply criminological theories and causes of crime, and appropriate methods of control and prevention of criminal behavior to situational contexts within the American criminal justice system.
- Explain the complex responsibilities, procedures, and policies of law enforcement agencies operating in the American criminal justice system.
- Explain the history and purpose of criminal law, classify crimes and identify criminal liability, and apply legal theory and substantive elements to situational contexts within the American criminal justice system.
- Articulate the philosophy, history and various perspectives of incarceration, and the development of prisons and other social institutions of penal correction within the American criminal justice system.

From heightened national security to concerns about corporate accountability, our changing world has created a high demand for well-trained criminal justice professionals. The Criminal Justice degree program prepares students for a wide variety of criminal justice employment at the local, national and federal levels, including careers in court administration, private investigation, airport security and social services, or as a federal agent, police officer or border patrol agent, among many others.

The program's judicious mix of Criminal Justice and Arts & Sciences courses is intended to develop and enhance each student's critical thinking and effective communication skills, as well as their appreciation for diversity, citizenship, leadership and public service. In keeping with the unique curriculum and varied career opportunities available to graduates of the Criminal Justice program, students are encouraged to take advantage of available internship, study abroad, and elective course opportunities which target their specific interests and goals.

Through the program, students have the opportunity to

- Learn from professionals experienced in a variety of criminal justice fields.
- Develop an appreciation for diversity, citizenship, leadership, science and technology, and qualitative and quantitative analysis.
- Customize your degree with an Arts & Sciences concentration or pursue a collection of Criminal Justice electives which target your specific interests and goals.

Criminal Justice Master of Science Program (Providence Campus)

JWU also offers a Master of Science Degree in Criminal Justice that provides a unique combination of management and criminal justice education. This program is relevant to criminal justice students whose goal is to assume management responsibilities at some point in their careers. The criminal justice field requires graduates to have comprehensive analytical skills, and the master of science program teaches not only these skills but also a broad understanding of the global nature of the criminal justice business.

Entrepreneurship

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

As Entrepreneurship majors in the Larry Friedman International Center for Entrepreneurship, students have opportunities to solve the kinds of problems that they would face in starting their own businesses, without the costly risks involved in the trial and error process. Through classroom discussions, case studies, guest speakers, internships and opportunities to study abroad, students are guided by successful entrepreneurs as they learn how to avoid the classic errors in starting and operating a business.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Exhibit oral and written communication competencies in the development of a viable business plan.
- Apply logic and critical thinking to the basic qualitative and quantitative analysis of small business development and sustainability.
- Identify the various types of capital funding sources for start-up and existing businesses.
- Analyze ethical issues and identify socially responsible business practices.
- Identify and analyze the effects of an international free market economy on start-up and existing businesses.

The Larry Friedman International Center for Entrepreneurship offers students the resources necessary to bring their business ideas to reality — technological, administrative and professional assistance. Through various programs supported by the Small Business Development Center (SBDC), students have the opportunity to interact with real-world business clients, SBDC consultants, students and instructors.

Graduates with a bachelor of science degree in Entrepreneurship are better prepared to both operate their own business and act as a proponent of intrapreneurship within existing organizations. An integrated mix of custom entrepreneurial courses, traditional management and marketing classes, and extensive experiential (hands-on) opportunities (both inside and outside of required classes) prepares students for their careers as business starters and/or corporate intrapreneurs in an extensive variety of industries. Typically students enter in these varied career paths as junior managers-in-training for more responsible management positions.

Entrepreneurship students participate in a hands-on learning experience at the Larry Friedman International Center for Entrepreneurship during their senior year. Students have the option of putting into operation the business plan they have been working on throughout their time at the university and starting their business prior to graduation. They may also choose to work for a small business as “intrapreneurs” (corporate entrepreneurs) as change and innovation proponents in order to identify and prepare to capitalize on emerging business opportunities.

To facilitate this, the center provides an office, available year round, with state-of-the-art technology and access to faculty and Rhode Island Small Business Development Center professionals.

An important component of the program’s educational experience is the general studies courses taught by the School of Arts & Sciences. Graduates are expected to show competencies in higher order thinking, communications, ethics, global diversity, responsible citizenship, leadership and artistic responsibility. The following literacies should also be demonstrated: sociocultural, quantitative, scientific and informational.

Equine Business Management

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Equine Business Management bachelor's degree program combines equine academic courses and hands-on equine labs with business and general studies courses. The program prepares students for areas of the industry demanding managerial skills, a knowledge of business practice and equine experience.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Analyze and format equine nutritional and preventative health plans.
- Select and rank sport horses based on conformation and movement and prepare the sport horse for presentation.
- Develop an equine facility business plan.
- Analyze ethical issues and identify socially responsible business practices in the equine industry.
- Understand the international nature of the equine industry.

Specialized science-based equine classes develop the understanding of the functioning of the horse with study in anatomy, lameness, physiology, sports therapy, genetics, nutrition, diseases and reproduction. Further classes develop the ability to evaluate horses for sport, develop a farm management plan and manage horse shows. Through these equine academic courses graduates are expected to demonstrate competencies in formulating rations, designing a herd health program, selecting sport horses, and developing an equine business plan.

Equine students participate in hands-on educational activities at the Center for Equine Studies in Rehoboth, Mass. Students gain experience in all aspects of horse management including health and dental maintenance, nutrition, facilities management, equipment usage, trailering, lunging, ground driving, vaccination and anthelmintic programs.

An important component of the program's educational experience is the general studies courses taught by the School of Arts & Sciences. Graduates are expected to show competencies in higher order thinking, communications, ethics, global diversity, responsible citizenship, leadership and artistic responsibility. The following literacies should also be demonstrated: sociocultural, quantitative, scientific and informational. Students may participate in a summer term in England to complete their arts and sciences electives.

Both equine degree programs offer three specialized Equine Management labs which emphasize the hands-on aspects of horse management including daily care, presentation of the horse in hand, first aid, lunging, long lining and other applied skills. As an outcome of the lab classes, graduates have the skills needed to obtain a position in the farm management sector of the horse industry.

Business concentrations emphasize the connection between the equine industry and the business world. Students may tailor their degree through the selection of numerous concentrations in the College of Business, School of Technology, The Hospitality College or the School of Arts & Sciences. Some popular concentrations include marketing communications; sports management; sales, meeting and event management; entrepreneurship; professional selling; desktop publishing; career writing and international business.

Many students select to participate in the internship program which allows them to work in the equine industry at approved establishments. Students interested in the breeding industry have participated in the Kentucky Equine Management Internship program at selected breeding farms in the Lexington, Ky., area.

A sampling of the positions that students have filled upon graduation include farm manager, equine advertising account manager, sales representative, insurance agent, horse show personnel, horse/breed association publicist and veterinary assistant. Students may also participate in a summer term in England to complete their arts and sciences electives.

Extracurricular Activities

Johnson & Wales' equine programs offer a variety of extracurricular activities for students, including student dressage shows, schooling shows, seminars and clinics.

The university hosts seminars and career nights with nationally recognized speakers from the equine industry. A well-established clinic program rounds out students' educational experiences through participation and observation of various teaching and training techniques. Clinicians such as Sybille Crafts, Mark Weissbecker, Sarah Geikie, Shannon Dueck and Greg Prince have participated in this program.

Equestrian Education Systems has worked with Johnson & Wales University to offer the Eckart Meyner's BALIMO training symposiums and instructor workshop at the university. The BALIMO exercise and teaching program are utilized in the riding classes offered at the university.

Johnson & Wales University participates in equine sports through two distinct competitive teams: Intercollegiate Horse Show Association (IHSA) and Intercollegiate Dressage Association (IDA). The IHSA team competes in the hunter-seat equitation team throughout New England and hosts a show annually at the Center for Equine Studies.

The university is a charter member of the Intercollegiate Dressage Association, hosts two competitions yearly and travels regionally to compete. The university is president college for Northeast Region A. The university's dressage team has won numerous regional and national awards and has been represented at every national championship by team members.

The university participates in events through several combined tests held at the Equine Center. Students have the opportunity to broaden their knowledge through selected field trips, the highlight of which is the annual upstate New York breeding farms trip. The Equine Club provides students with social and recreational equine opportunities.

The Facility

The home of Johnson & Wales' Equine Studies programs, the Johnson & Wales Equine Center, is located in Rehoboth, Massachusetts, a short drive from Providence. The 30-acre farm is located in the Massachusetts countryside, adjacent to the Rehoboth State Forest. The farm includes a 170' x 70' mirrored indoor riding hall with Pos-A-Trac footing, attached 32-stall barn, pastures and turnout paddocks. It also features a round-pen used in the training course and for schooling horses. Rounding out the facility are three show-quality outdoor arenas: a 225' x 100' multipurpose jumping ring, a 220' x 80' dressage ring and a 70' x 135' warm-up ring.

The Johnson & Wales Center for Equine Studies is equipped with a pine-paneled observation room housing state-of-the-art communication technologies that allow clinicians to address students and spectators during mounted lessons. Classroom space, administrative offices and a conference area with kitchen facilities make this a comfortable meeting area. Heated tack rooms, laundry facilities, wash stall and storage add to the additional ease and efficiency of the facility.

The horses for school use are all selected for their training and temperament. Several different breeds are represented, including Dutch Warmblood, Hanoverian, Swedish Warmblood, Holsteiner, Thoroughbred, Trakehner, Quarter Horse and Morgan. Many of the horses have successful show records which include competition experience at the F.E.I. level of dressage, on the hunter/jumper circuit, and in eventing.

Equine Business Management/Riding

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Equine Business Management/Riding bachelor's degree program is designed for the student who desires a career in teaching, training and/or farm management. The program combines riding instruction, specialized academic equine courses and equine labs with business and general studies courses.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Analyze and format equine nutritional and preventative health plans.
- Select and rank horses based on conformation and movement and prepare the sport horse for presentation.
- Develop an equine facility business plan.
- Analyze ethical issues and identify socially responsible business practices in the equine industry.
- Understand the international nature of the equine industry.
- Demonstrate riding proficiency in dressage and jumping.

For students selecting the Instructor Concentration

- Discuss riding theory and instruct fundamental riding skills.

Equine Business Management/Riding students participate in nine riding classes focusing on dressage and jumping. Each course is individually tailored to the student's competencies so that maximum advancement is obtained by each student. A unique feature of the riding program is the use of Eckart Meyner's warm-up routine and exercises to unblock the rider and achieve harmony with the horse. Student riding outcomes are measured through a certificate program which validates the rider's progress in dressage and jumping.

Specialized science-based equine classes develop the understanding of the functioning of the horse with study in anatomy, lameness, physiology, sports therapy, genetics, nutrition, diseases and reproduction. Further classes develop the ability to evaluate horses for sport, develop a farm management plan and manage horse shows. Instructor/Trainer (for Equine Majors)

Students may choose to specialize through an Instructor/Trainer concentration featuring two methods of riding instruction classes, a training course, a movement training class and three additional advanced riding classes. Upon completion of the instructor training program students receive American Red Cross First Aid and CPR certification and may become licensed to teach riding through examination by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Students wishing to gain the Instructor/Trainer concentration on their transcript must complete the performance transcript skill certifying first-level dressage competency.

Admission to the Equine Business Management/Riding degree requires prior riding experience, a DVD showing riding competencies and a telephone interview with the equine admissions representative. Admission to this program is limited and early application is recommended.

Fashion Merchandising & Retail Marketing

(College of Business)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Fashion Merchandising & Retail Marketing degree prepares students for middle-management or executive trainee opportunities within the retail or retail support industries.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate

- The ability to perform the necessary procedures required for retail operations, including merchandising, management and decision making.
- Knowledge of global fashion markets, designer contributions to the industry and manufacturing categories of fashion goods.
- Knowledge of marketing principles as applies to fashion goods.
- The ability to identify, analyze and forecast future retail trends.

Specific skills developed include retail merchandising, management, buying, promotion, advertising and stock control. Students have the opportunity to master these skills while participating in a term-long internship, held at a wide variety of host sites. During this internship, students have the opportunity to apply their learning in multiple phases of retail store operations firsthand, such as sales, merchandise presentation, catalog operations, inventory control, receiving and marking, and buyer's clerical duties.

Upon graduation, students may be employed by retail organizations in positions that utilize these skills. Students possess the combination of academic theory and practical experience necessary for entry-level positions in retail management, merchandise buying, visual merchandising, distribution, product development and sales.

Students should use their electives to create a meaningful, customized career concentration. The university's faculty advising system will facilitate these selections.

An important component of the program's educational experience is the general studies courses taught by the School of Arts & Sciences. Graduates are expected to show competencies in higher order thinking, communications, ethics, global diversity, responsible citizenship, leadership and artistic responsibility. The following literacies should also be demonstrated: sociocultural, quantitative, scientific and informational.

Food Service Entrepreneurship

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Food Service Entrepreneurship bachelor's degree program provides Baking & Pastry Arts or Culinary Arts associate degree program graduates with the business skills necessary to open their own businesses and/or work in a management capacity at a food-related small business.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Exhibit oral and written communication competencies in the development of a viable business plan.
- Apply logic and critical thinking to the basic qualitative and quantitative analysis of small business development and sustainability.
- Identify the various types of capital funding sources for start-up and existing businesses.

Graduates receive training from an integrated mix of custom entrepreneurial courses and traditional management, accounting, finance and marketing classes to build the necessary business knowledge base to capitalize on their culinary/baking and pastry skills in their career pursuits. Opportunities also exist for students to study abroad. The university's faculty advising system helps guide and facilitate student choices.

The Larry Friedman International Center for Entrepreneurship offers students most of the resources necessary to bring their business ideas to reality with technological, administrative and professional assistance. Through various programs supported by the Rhode Island Small Business Development Center (SBDC), these offerings include interaction between real-world business clients, the SBDC director, students and instructors.

Graduates are better prepared to both operate their own business and act as a proponent of intrapreneurship within existing organizations. An integrated mix of custom entrepreneurial courses, traditional management and marketing classes, and extensive experiential (hands-on) opportunities (both inside and outside of required classes) prepares students for their careers as business starters and/or corporate intrapreneurs in an extensive variety of industries. Typically students enter in these varied career paths as junior managers-in-training for more responsible management positions.

An important component of the program's educational experience is the general studies courses taught by the School of Arts & Sciences. Graduates are expected to show competencies in higher order thinking, communications, ethics, global diversity, responsible citizenship, leadership and artistic responsibility. The following literacies should also be demonstrated: sociocultural, quantitative, scientific and informational.

International Business

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

Students enrolling in the International Business program will develop a thorough understanding of the multi-faceted global business world today. They will be provided with opportunities to see the broad picture, plan efficiently, and if necessary, revise these plans flexibly as new demands arise. They have the opportunity to become proactive and competent professionals, fluent in a new global business language and culture. Global business languages include English, French, German, and Spanish or another university-approved language. This language requirement pertains to all international business students, regardless of their current language expertise.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to

- Demonstrate analytical skills.
- Effectively communicate within the global business environment.
- Demonstrate planning skills.
- Analyze ethical issues and identify socially responsible business practices.
- Identify and analyze the effects of global business forces.

The first two years of this program introduce students to the world of international business, complemented by general education and specific language studies. Courses from our School of Arts & Sciences are an important component of the educational experience.

The final two years offer more advanced business courses with a distinct emphasis on global aspects. As juniors and seniors, students are challenged to demonstrate business competencies and hone skills desired by employers. They have the opportunity to participate in directed work experiences, internships, study abroad experiences, summer work abroad experiences, language immersion programs, and extracurricular activities. Also, students should plan their electives to create a meaningful, customized career concentration. The university's faculty advising system will facilitate these selections.

Graduates are expected to show competencies in higher order thinking, ethics, responsible citizenship, global leadership, and global resource management. In addition, literacy in the following areas is expected: sociocultural, quantitative, scientific and informational.

The graduate of the four-year International Business program is trained to assume entry-level management positions with firms in a variety of industries operating in the global environment.

Management

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Management bachelor’s degree program prepares students for careers in a variety of managerial and professional positions in a wide range of firms. Students will learn general management concepts as well as a variety of functional specialties in fields such as human resources, operations, finance, accounting and marketing.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to

- Demonstrate business and financial analysis skills.
- Effectively communicate within the contemporary business environment.
- Demonstrate tactical and strategic planning.
- Identify and analyze ethical issues confronting business professionals.
- Identify and analyze dynamic global business forces.

As part of the program, students are offered the opportunity to develop expertise in the following concepts: business planning, SWOT analysis and strategic planning, business process analysis, development of human capital, financial literacy, information technology, and operations and quality management.

As part of their degree, students may apply these skills in programs such as directed work experience, internships, and summer work or study abroad programs. These programs are tailored based upon student learning and professional goals, jointly designed in collaboration with students, faculty advisors and business partners. Students also meet with faculty advisors to determine a career concentration that will best suit their desired professional objectives.

Our graduates are employed in professional management positions in disciplines such as operations, human resources, finance and information technology. Graduates may seek careers in for-profit, nonprofit and government settings.

An important component of the program’s educational experience is the general studies courses taught in the School of Arts & Sciences. Graduates are expected to show competencies in higher order thinking, communications, ethics, global diversity, responsible citizenship, leadership, and artistic responsibility. Management (Accelerated)

(College of Business)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Management (Accelerated) bachelor's degree program offers a general business education to individuals already holding an associate degree. While the program will appeal to many of Johnson & Wales University's Culinary Arts and Baking & Pastry Arts graduates, the program also welcomes graduates from other associate degree programs.

Upon completion of the program, graduates will demonstrate the ability to

- Apply basic understanding of fundamental business areas including accounting, business law, economics, information technology, marketing and management.
- Solve problems by identifying alternatives and justifying decisions using higher order thinking skills.
- Identify and analyze ethical issues while implementing socially responsible business practices.
- Apply effective written and oral communication skills.
- Identify and analyze the effects of global forces within the business environment.

While some JWU associate degree graduates in Culinary Arts and Baking & Pastry Arts will begin careers immediately after completing the two-year degree, others enter The Hospitality College to pursue a bachelor's degree in Food Service Management. The bachelor's in Management (Accelerated) program provides a third option for these students: the opportunity to earn a bachelor's degree from JWU's College of Business.

At some campuses, JWU graduates of the two-year Culinary Arts and Baking & Pastry Arts programs will be encouraged to enroll in a "Summer Bridge" program between their second and third years of study. The Summer Bridge program will allow students to complete Principles of Management (MGMT1001) and Principles of Marketing (MRKT1001) at a substantial discount. Students who have not already successfully completed Information Technology for Business Professionals (FIT1000) will use the Summer Bridge program to test out of or successfully complete FIT1000.

By offering and funding the Summer Bridge program, the university will assist students in confirming whether a bachelor's degree in business is the best path for them to take before making a substantial investment of their own resources.

The Management (Accelerated) program's coursework builds a basic foundation by exposing students to relevant areas of accounting, business law, economics, information technology, marketing and management. Students may tailor their degree by selecting a two-course focus area that best suits their own unique goals. Potential focus areas include: operations management, human resources, international business, marketing and entrepreneurship. Students will also complete courses through the School of Arts & Sciences to help ensure they acquire skills important for professional success and personal and intellectual growth.

Upon graduation, students may be employed in a wide range of industries. In addition to gaining general business competencies and skills desired by employers, students may use their Management (Accelerated) focus area and/or associate degree education and training to position themselves for unique careers of interest.

Marketing

(College of Business)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Marketing bachelor's degree program provides students with a broad range of knowledge and practical skills related to the fundamentals of marketing, including product, pricing, promotion, distribution and customer relationship management.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Develop, implement, analyze, interpret, and make recommendations based on secondary and primary research data using qualitative and quantitative methods.
- Analyze consumer decision-making and behavior.
- Prepare and conduct a professional sales presentation.
- Develop e-commerce, international and strategic marketing plans.

Specific skills developed include managing social media market research projects, developing Web-based social media marketing programs, developing and executing brand strategies, and developing and managing comprehensive marketing plans. Students have the opportunity to hone these skills while participating in a term-long internship, held at a wide variety of host sites. This is a one-term, 4.5–13.5 credit experience with a business partner anywhere in the world. Students complete a specific business-building project, which is reviewed by the faculty advisor and the business partner.

A traditional internship experience is also offered. This is a one-term, 13.5 credit experience with a business partner anywhere in the world. Students complete a specific, business-building project, which is reviewed by the faculty advisor and the business partner.

Upon graduation, students may be employed by retail, consumer goods, industrial or advertising companies in positions that utilize these skills. Typical areas of interest include entry-level positions in sales, market research, market analysis, product development or brand management.

Students should use their career electives and free electives to create a meaningful, customized career concentration. The university's faculty advising system will facilitate these selections.

An important component of the program's educational experience is the general studies courses taught by the School of Arts & Sciences. Graduates are expected to show competencies in higher order thinking, communications, ethics, global diversity, responsible citizenship, leadership and artistic responsibility. The following literacies should also be demonstrated: sociocultural, quantitative, scientific and informational.

Risk Management

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Risk Management bachelor's degree program is designed to provide graduates with strong management and security management foundations, as well as advanced studies in this rapidly growing field. Security is one of the fastest-growing industries worldwide, with a strong demand for investigators in areas including computer and financial information security, as well as managers and directors of security and risk management at major corporations and organizations. The demand for heightened security and mitigation of risk in many industries is driven by activities that disrupt normal operations, including fraud, information theft, computer hacking, workplace violence, terrorism and economic crime.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Assess and develop security and risk management programs which are consistent with applicable law and practice.
- Use ethical reasoning in the application of security and risk practice.
- Analyze and assess events that may disrupt business continuity or mission and to assess for implementation of emergency management planning measures to react to natural disaster, global and domestic terrorism, and internal and external threats.
- Develop security, compliance, risk policy, and associated communication programs.
- Develop operational planning for business and institutional contingency and continuity plans and emergency recovery management.

This program teaches business operations and security/risk management, as well as providing an understanding of financial data and network environments. Students will learn about the latest trends, issues and concerns within the field while completing coursework in security/risk, computer science, electronics, business management, law, accounting, personnel and information management.

Graduates of this program can expect to find employment in the private sector, as well as in government agencies, particularly at the federal level. Risk management is a private industry-focused field that supplements public agency protection. Security/risk managers work with staff and technology to protect assets, personnel and property from outside threats. They also work with local, state and federal law enforcement.

Graduates are expected to demonstrate an ability to use logic, critical thinking and analytical skills to assist in the decision-making process as well as to make recommendations to individuals and organizations using financial information.

An important component of the program's educational experience is the general studies courses taught by the School of Arts & Sciences. Graduates are expected to show competencies in higher order thinking, ethics, global diversity, responsible citizenship and leadership. The following literacies should also be demonstrated: sociocultural, quantitative, scientific and informational.

Students are required to complete a 13.5 credit internship as part of the program.

Undeclared

Non-Degree

Because some students may be unsure of their major when they enroll at Johnson & Wales, the Undeclared option allows them the opportunity to pursue a basic business and general studies program and, in the sophomore year, choose a major from a number of business and hospitality programs. Students who begin their studies in the Undeclared program earn a bachelor of science degree at the end of four years of study.

Undeclared

All students enrolled in the Undeclared program pursue the following program of study for the first two years. Students must declare a major no later than the fifth term (sophomore year) of study.

Baking & Pastry Arts

(College of Culinary Arts)

Associate in Science (A.S.) Degree

The associate degree program in Baking & Pastry Arts provides students with practical education in baking and pastry production, while developing professionalism and excellence in academic achievement. Hands-on training is paired with academic courses resulting in a curriculum that is both dynamic and directly aligned with industry needs.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Prepare, produce, and present pastry, baked products and desserts utilizing professional techniques.
- Apply food safety and sanitation principles in the preparation of food and beverage products.
- Utilize healthful baking and dessert preparation techniques to modify and develop formulas that are healthy and flavorful.
- Demonstrate professional leadership attributes necessary for operating responsibly in the food and beverage industry.
- Implement cost control measures to track goods, services and costs through the cycle of cost control and to evaluate revenue and expenses and their effects on profitability.

First-year Baking & Pastry Arts students rotate through one term of academics which includes Food Safety and Sanitation and two terms of hands-on laboratory classes. Emphasis is placed on skills development and techniques of combining basic ingredients to produce classic pastries, basic breads, cakes and plated desserts.

The second year emphasizes advanced techniques in classical and international preparation and production of cakes, tortes and sugar work. Academic courses include leadership studies, nutrition, communication skills, and food and beverage cost control.

Baking & Pastry Internship

During pastry internship, students participate in actual public food service operations in preparation for future careers. Possible sites include university-owned or -operated practicum educational facilities, hotels, restaurants, country clubs, resorts, casinos, contract food service providers and bakeries. Eligibility requirements for certain sites include a 2.75 cumulative GPA and completion of all prerequisite coursework. Additionally, select students have the opportunity to participate in international internships at host company sites throughout the world, which are chosen by the university. In addition to meeting specific college eligibility requirements, students interested in completing internship in a targeted country must maintain a 3.25 cumulative grade point average and have a minimum of one year of work experience in a full-service bakery or similar experience in a hotel, resort or restaurant.

Upon completion of the Baking & Pastry Arts associate degree program, graduates may find employment in hotels, clubs and resorts, retail bakeries, restaurants and wholesale pastry shops.

Graduates of this program are eligible, or may apply, for entrance into the following bachelor of science degree programs: Baking & Pastry Arts, Baking & Pastry Arts and Food Service Management, Culinary Nutrition or Food Service Entrepreneurship. Certain requirements pertain to each of these bachelor's degree programs, which are noted in their respective program descriptions.

Culinary Arts

Associate in Science (A.S.) Degree

The associate degree program in Culinary Arts provides students with practical education in food production, while developing professionalism and excellence in academic achievement. Students progress through a program of study that builds proficiency in food production and cooking, cost control, nutrition, sanitation, food safety and food marketing. Hands-on training is paired with traditional academic courses resulting in a curriculum that is both dynamic and directly aligned with industry needs.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to

- Demonstrate moist, dry and combination cooking techniques, baking/pastry skills, and plating and presentation techniques; demonstrate professional knife skills and proper use/care of small wares and kitchen equipment; and demonstrate the ability to identify ingredients and flavor profiles of the major world cuisines.
- Demonstrate dining and beverage service techniques, identify beverage classifications, and use proper terminology to perform sensory analysis.
- Apply safety and sanitation principles in the preparation and service of food and beverage products.
- Utilize healthful cooking techniques and ingredients to modify and develop flavorful recipes.
- Demonstrate professional leadership attributes necessary for operating responsibly in the food and beverage industry.
- Implement cost control measures needed to track goods, services and costs through the cycle of cost control and to evaluate revenue and expenses and their effects on profitability.

The focus of the first-year culinary lab classes is development and practice of cooking skills, complemented by the development of baking, dining and beverage service skills, which includes national certification in alcohol intervention procedures. The academic areas include mathematics, introduction to menu planning and cost control, English composition, community service, professional development and a national food safety certification.

Second-year laboratories include advanced techniques in classical and international cuisines, garde manger, patisserie/dessert and dining room, as well as the academic areas of leadership studies, personalized nutrition management and communication skills.

Students will experience one term of experiential education, which includes internships.

Culinary Internship

During culinary internships, students participate in actual public food service operations in preparation for future careers. Possible sites include university-owned or -operated practicum educational facilities, hotels, restaurants, country clubs, resorts, casinos, spas and contract food service providers. Eligibility requirements for certain sites include a 2.75 cumulative GPA and completion of all prerequisite coursework. Additionally, select students have the opportunity to participate in international internships at host company sites throughout the world, which are chosen by the university. In addition to meeting specific college eligibility requirements, students interested in completing an internship in a targeted country must maintain a 3.25 cumulative grade point average and have a minimum of one year of work experience in a full-service restaurant or similar experience in a hotel or resort.

Graduates of the associate degree program in Culinary Arts have the opportunity to gain employment in the food service industry, which would include a variety of positions in full-service restaurants, hotels, clubs and resorts catering operations, quantity food production facilities, health spas and cruise lines.

Graduates of this program are eligible, or may apply, for entrance into the following bachelor of science degree programs: Baking & Pastry Arts, Culinary Arts and Food Service Management, Culinary Nutrition or Food Service Entrepreneurship. Certain requirements pertain to each of these bachelor degree programs, which are noted in their respective program descriptions.

Culinary International Exchange

Each year, a select group of second-year students is chosen to participate in a student international exchange program with culinary arts schools in Ireland and France. For one term, JWU students attend classes in either of these countries. In exchange, students from these schools attend culinary classes at Johnson & Wales University. Selected students receive full academic credit for the term abroad.

Teaching Assistant and Fellow Scholarship Program

Each year, administrators at the College of Culinary Arts, in conjunction with the administration of university-owned or -operated practicum educational facilities, select Teaching Assistant candidates from among the top students of the graduating class in the Culinary Arts and Baking & Pastry Arts associate degree programs. Students who are continuing their education at the university as Teaching Assistants must be enrolled in a day school program. Qualified Teaching Assistants may advance to Fellow during their senior year. These opportunities allow students to help defray the costs of advanced study while developing their supervisory/management skills.

Baking & Pastry Arts

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The College of Culinary Arts has designed a four-year curriculum that combines practical education in baking and pastry production with leadership training and general studies courses to prepare students for careers as executive pastry chefs. In the Baking & Pastry Arts bachelor of science degree program students are guided in building skills to master their visions to create artisan breads, confections, sugar works, plated desserts, wedding cakes and chocolate showpieces. During their junior year, students rotate through two terms of academic courses and one term of intensive advanced laboratories. Laboratory courses build hands-on skills in advanced baking and pastry arts techniques.

Upon the completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Prepare, produce and present pastry, baked products, and desserts at a professional level.
- Apply comprehensive principles in operating a safe food operation.
- Prepare, utilize and interpret financial documents related to food service management operations.
- Utilize healthful baking and dessert preparation techniques to modify and develop formulas that are healthy and flavorful.
- Communicate professionally and exhibit ethical decision making with respect for individual and team diversity as it applies to the food and beverage industry.

During their senior year, students experience one term of experiential education, which includes internship. During pastry internships, students participate in actual public food service operations in preparation for future careers. Possible sites include university-owned or -operated practicum educational facilities, hotels, restaurants, country clubs, resorts, casinos, artisan bakeries, confectionary shops and wedding cake boutiques and are production oriented in nature, with emphasis on supervisory skill development and management and pastry skill refinement. Along with another advanced lab and academics, students participate in “real world” activities which allow them to experience the role of the pastry chef in baking and pastry operations.

Qualified students have the opportunity to replace their internship experience with a summer study abroad program experience. Student teams of 20–26 join with faculty plus international schools to study regional specialties and techniques in baking & pastry. Recent programs have been in Switzerland and Italy. The program combines classroom and practical industry experience.

Upon completion of the bachelor’s degree program in Baking & Pastry Arts, students will be prepared to enter the food service industry in positions such as assistant pastry chef and executive pastry chef trainee.

Note: All students interested in entering the Baking & Pastry Arts bachelor’s degree program must complete and submit an application to the program director. Selection is based on previous academic performance, industry experience and professional recommendations. Students must have a minimum GPA of 3.0.

Culinary Nutrition

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Culinary Nutrition degree program is the only program in the country of its kind that integrates the theoretical foundations of nutrition and food science with practical culinary applications. The Culinary Nutrition degree is a bachelor's degree option for students who have completed the associate degree in either Culinary Arts or Baking & Pastry Arts.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate

- The ability to integrate scientific information and research into scientific and evidence-based practice.
- The beliefs, values, attitudes and behaviors for a professional level of practice.
- Customer services including the development and delivery of information, products and services to individuals, groups and populations.
- The strategic application of principles of management and systems in the provision of services to individuals and organizations.

In answer to industry and consumer demands for healthy menu choices and products, graduates of the program combine their nutrition and scientific knowledge and principles to their advanced culinary skills. The program has two concentrations: Clinical/Dietetics and Culinary Food Science.

Clinical/Dietetics students develop nutrition care plans and learn nutritional diagnostic skills, as well as refining their sensory evaluation techniques. Students choosing the Clinical/Dietetics concentration are eligible to apply for a postgraduate dietetic internship. Upon completion of this internship, graduates will qualify to take the National Dietetic Registration Exam. Dietetics is a challenging profession that applies the science of food nutrition to the health and well-being of individuals and groups.

Culinary Science students are involved in developing potential market products, taking them from concept through prototype development. Students who choose the Culinary Food Science concentration are prepared to work in the nation's leading test kitchens in areas such as product development, recipe development and quality assurance. Strong communication and presentation skills are necessary to succeed in this fast-paced environment.

Qualified students have the opportunity to replace their Advanced Culinary Nutrition Internship with a summer abroad experience.

The Culinary Nutrition Program is accredited by The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition (ACEND) of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, 120 South Riverside Plaza, Suite 2000, Chicago, IL 60606-6995, 312-899-0040, ext. 5400. The Didactic Program in Dietetics (DPD) meets the standards of education set by ACEND.

Note: All students interested in entering the Culinary Nutrition program must complete and submit an application to the program director. Selection is based on previous academic performance, industry experience and professional recommendations. Students must have a minimum GPA of 3.0.

The College of Culinary Arts offers a Sommelier Minor (26 credits) that strengthens the qualifications of graduates preparing for the on-premise restaurant industry whether as managers or chefs. The minor is intended to provide students with the skills and expertise to enhance their major field of studies, particularly in Food Service Management or Restaurant Management. The added beverage specialization will develop students' abilities to effectively analyze, serve, sell, market and manage commercially important beverages, especially wine and spirits. There is a focus on food pairing principles, beverage menu development, server staff training, costing methodologies and inventory control systems for the purchase, storage, distribution and sales of beverages.

Culinary Arts & Food Service Management

(Hospitality College)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Culinary Arts and Food Service Management program combines the strengths of culinary arts and management in order to prepare students for a management career in front- or back-of-the-house. Graduates of the Culinary Arts and Food Service Management program with sufficient experience may obtain positions in a variety of areas that include, but are not limited to, restaurant manager, kitchen manager, executive chef, food and beverage director, catering manager, room service manager, sous chef, beverage manager and dining room manager.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Apply supervisory-level written and verbal communication.
- Administer food service and technical skills in a restaurant setting.
- Apply management and leadership skills in a food service operation.
- Apply personal accountability, ethical behavior and professionalism in a food and beverage operation.
- Implement critical thinking skills to identify and make ethically sound decisions.
- Identify and communicate long-range vision and strategy for a food service company.

The curriculum provides opportunities for students to build upon their leadership and management abilities, cooking techniques, critical thinking, personal accountability and ethical behavior, problem-solving techniques, strong financial analysis skills and customer awareness. The Culinary Arts and Food Service Management degree develops a culinary foundation and management philosophy in its graduates.

The program allows students to receive a world-class culinary arts and hospitality education. The program's strength is that students receive several senior-level capstone experiences in culinary arts, hospitality operations and strategic management.

Students may choose to focus their studies by selecting their electives in such areas as food and beverage, resort or dining management. The Resort Management and Casino & Gaming Operations concentrations allow students to focus on these two rapidly growing segments of the hospitality industry. The Food & Beverage Management concentration allows students to focus on this vital area of the hospitality industry. Courses are ideal for candidates interested in working with beverages, non-commercial, chain, franchises or restaurant operations.

Hotel & Lodging Management

(Hospitality College)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Hotel & Lodging Management bachelor's degree program focuses on current best practices for operational, strategic and staff management in lodging properties and companies. Lodging is defined as activities related to commercial, overnight accommodations of all types, including hotels, resorts and smaller lodging properties (e.g., boutique hotels, country inns, B&Bs, etc.).

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Apply technical skills in a lodging organization.
- Demonstrate personal accountability and professionalism in a lodging environment.
- Apply management skills in a lodging environment.
- Apply creativity and critical thinking skills to solve challenges and make ethically sound decisions.
- Identify and communicate a long-range vision and strategy for a service organization.

The degree program prepares graduates for employment in operational management or professional staff positions within commercial lodging companies, as well as positioning them to move up to higher-level positions such as general manager and various corporate staff positions. Possible career tracks might relate to front office management, housekeeping, food and beverage management and affiliated activities such as concierge, spa management, property sales and marketing, convention services, meeting and event planning, resort activities, revenue management, controller, development, regional management, etc.

Hotel & Lodging Management students complete a required internship experience at a commercial lodging venue as part of the program.

Concentrations for Hotel & Lodging Management Majors

At least one three-course Hospitality College concentration is required for graduation. This program allows students to select concentrations that can lead to career growth within lodging companies or to enhance their initial and subsequent career opportunities. Students may elect to use their hospitality and free elective credits for a second concentration, an internship or a summer abroad program.

While all Hospitality College concentrations are available to students in this degree, the following concentrations are recommended: Resort Management; International Hospitality Operations (summer program only); Entrepreneurship; Casino & Gaming Operations; or Food and Beverage Management.

International Hotel & Tourism Management

(Hospitality College)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The International Hotel & Tourism Management bachelor's degree program provides students with the opportunity to experience the broad nature of the hospitality and tourism industries on a global scale. Students prepare to enter international hospitality corporations, as well as tourism planning and marketing organizations, as entry-level managers or staff professionals.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Apply technical skills in a hospitality-related environment.
- Demonstrate personal accountability and professionalism in a hospitality environment.
- Apply management skills in a simulated global hospitality-related business environment.
- Assess the international environment and apply creativity and critical thinking skills to solve challenges and make ethically sound decisions related to hospitality organizations.
- Identify and communicate a long-range vision and strategy for a hospitality organization within a global context.

Students spend one term abroad integrating their previous studies with new experiences and knowledge about different countries and cultures. The program exposes students to the principles and practices of international hospitality management, marketing, strategic planning, tourism, and financial and operational management for both lodging and food and beverage management. Three terms of study of another language are required for the degree.

The required study abroad and the language requirement provide students with a unique global perspective, as well as a competitive advantage when seeking employment with international hospitality organizations. By participating in a summer abroad, international internship or international exchange program a student may have a second international experience.

Applications for the program are accepted during a student's freshman year through the International Hotel School. Preference is given to students who achieve a 3.20 GPA or higher during their freshman year. Selection is based upon academic performance, community and university service, industry experience, a personal interview, and professional and professorial recommendations. Once in the program, students must maintain a minimum GPA of 2.85. Contact The Hospitality College for more details.

Restaurant, Food & Beverage Management

(Hospitality College)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Restaurant, Food & Beverage Management bachelor's degree program provides a unique combination of culinary skills and hospitality management. The focus is on current restaurant and food service management industry topics. The program also develops proficiency in the area of beverage management. Other areas of study include critical thinking, financial analysis, leadership and customer awareness in order to prepare students for a management career in the food service industry. According to the National Restaurant Association, the food and beverage industry is the largest U.S. employer besides the government.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Apply management skills within a food service operation.
- Demonstrate personal accountability and professionalism in a food and beverage environment.
- Use critical thinking skills to identify and solve problems and make ethically sound decisions.
- Identify and communicate long-range vision and strategy for a food service company.
- Apply technical skills in a food service setting.

This program includes a unique hands-on rotational internship experience at a Johnson & Wales-owned facility, or at one of our partner properties.

Value-added certifications within the degree include an industry-recognized responsible alcohol service certification, the national sanitation certification (a graduation requirement), recognized by the Conference for Food Protection, and the International School of Mixology Bartending Certificate.

Sports/Entertainment/Event Management

(Hospitality College)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Sports/Entertainment/Event Management bachelor's degree program prepares students to manage many areas of major sports facilities and resorts, as well as organize national and international events like the World Cup, the Grammy Awards or the Olympics. Coursework enables graduates to apply the primary tools and fundamental understanding of the basic areas of sport, entertainment or event development, planning and management.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Apply technical skills in the sports, entertainment and event management industry.
- Apply professional ethics as they relate to the sports, entertainment and event management industry.
- Demonstrate a knowledge of the four basic areas of finance, operations, marketing and food & beverage as they apply to the sports, entertainment and event management industry.
- Utilize critical thinking and problem solving.
- Identify and communicate a long-range vision and strategy for an organization in the sports, entertainment or event management industry.

In this four-year program the curriculum includes core courses in event management, facilities management, media relations, ancillary services management and entertainment management.

Students tailor their degrees toward their chosen careers by complementing the core curriculum with such electives as professional sports management, sports and entertainment marketing, special event protocol, concert and event production, fundraising and philanthropy, wedding and other ceremonies, and athletic coaching administration. This enables students to demonstrate personal discipline, professionalism, accountability and ethical behavior in a sport, entertainment or event management environment.

Students further specialize by choosing a hospitality concentration. This experience allows them to use analytical thinking skills to create, develop, plan, manage, operate and evaluate the critical elements of a successful sport, entertainment or event organization.

The program culminates in an exciting, term-long, off-site internship under the direction of an industry professional that allows students to apply the skills they have learned and prepares them to launch their careers. The experience enables students to gain valuable work experience in the areas of sales/marketing, facility operations and financial management. The internship focuses on the ability to identify, document and successfully communicate personal and professional short- and long-term vision and strategies for a successful career in sport, entertainment or event management. Graduates of the program are employed by professional sports teams, entertainment venues, resorts and conference centers.

Travel-Tourism & Hospitality Management

(Hospitality College)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Travel-Tourism & Hospitality Management bachelor's degree program provides a broad-based option for students incorporating the hotel, travel/tourism and food segments of the hospitality industry with special focus given to travel/tourism.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Apply technical and management skills in a global environment.
- Demonstrate personal accountability, ethical behavior and professionalism in a global environment.
- Demonstrate creativity, critical thinking and problem-solving skills.
- Identify and communicate long-range vision and strategy.

This bachelor's degree program places an emphasis on tourism as the glue that holds the industry together — especially in course offerings and the term-long experiential learning program. The highlight of the program is the Familiarization (FAM) Tour, a class project to a domestic or international destination. Students are required to research, budget, plan, promote and implement the tasks of a tour escort and tour guide. The program is also enhanced by mini-FAM tours and site visits.

Graduates of the program may be employed in all industry segments due to its more generalized curriculum, but the emphasis on travel/tourism will provide specific career options in destination marketing organizations such as CVBs and tourism offices, resorts, tour operators, travel industry suppliers such as airlines, cruise lines or ground transportation, and various international operators. Students can further customize their degree by selecting a concentration option specific to their area(s) of interest.

Total Credits 191.5

* Students must pass a national exam that is recognized by the Conference for Food Protection as a graduation requirement.

 Elective courses allow students to enhance their education by earning a second concentration or by participating in an internship or study abroad program. Students use two Hospitality Electives and one Free Elective toward this option.

NOTE: Students must pass MATH0010 Basic Mathematics or have equivalent placement scores to enroll in required math course(s).

Students who graduate with a bachelor of science degree must leave Johnson & Wales University with effective writing skills. These writing skills will be assessed at the completion of ENG1021 (p. 166) Advanced Composition.

Study Abroad programs may satisfy a variety of History, Sociology, English and other elective requirements. Visit Study Abroad for details.

Computer Programming

(School of Technology)

Associate in Science (A.S.) Degree

The Computer Programming associate degree program prepares students to become key contributors in the fields of computer and information technology in either traditional business and industry environments or the fast-growing Web- and Internet-based fields.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Apply knowledge of math, science, engineering, computer software and contemporary developments in the field of software engineering to carry out software design, development and maintenance.
- Apply an understanding of software engineering techniques to design, create, implement and test solutions that meet required software and hardware specifications.
- Apply understanding of both historical context and emerging developments in the fields of software engineering to design and create efficient software solutions using current standards in a business, technical or scientific environment.
- Use the techniques, skills and modern tools necessary for software engineering best practices.
- Integrate knowledge, tools and problem-solving skills to carry out the design, creation, maintenance and testing of state-of-the-art software.

The program maintains a double focus on programming and database, which gives students knowledge of how the two are interrelated. In the first year, students learn the fundamentals of computer programming and data structures. In the advanced programming courses, students study assembler language programming, object-oriented programming and the application of programming concepts at the systems level. In the advanced database courses, they study database concepts and design. Courses use a hands-on approach that trains students in computer applications used in business, engineering, and Web and Internet industry.

Upon successful completion of the program, students are qualified to work as programmers or database administrators in a wide variety of professional settings. Students may also choose to continue their studies in the bachelor's degree program in Software Engineering.

Computerized Drafting

(School of Technology)

Associate in Science (A.S.) Degree

The goal of the two-year associate in science degree program in Computerized Drafting is to combine academic theory, basic drafting methods, computer-aided drafting techniques and general communications skills with the practical experience necessary for entry-level CAD drafting skills applicable to engineering fields that utilize mechanical, architectural or electrical applications.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Apply knowledge of how industry processes can be enhanced by CAD drafting.
- Apply understanding of CAD drafting processes to identify problems and formulate solutions that meet required specifications.
- Communicate complex concepts through design principles to create adaptable and efficient solutions to drafting problems.
- Use modern engineering techniques and skills necessary for CAD drafting.

Upon completion of this program, students may seek immediate career opportunities in state and local government public works and transportation departments, or architectural, electronics and manufacturing industries as draftspersons and/or CAD operators. Students may also choose to continue their studies in the Engineering Design & Configuration Management bachelor of science degree program (day program only).

Four-Year Options:

- Engineering Design & Configuration Management (<http://catalog.jwu.edu/programsofstudy/technology/engineering-design-configuration-management>)

Robotic Engineering Technology

(School of Technology)

Associate in Science (A.S.) Degree

This two-year associate degree program provides comprehensive education in the area of robotics and automation. The program will include courses in math, science and engineering to provide a solid background in this technical area. Courses will cover material in mechatronics and microprocessor-based robotic projects, including microprocessor interfacing for various sensors, speech synthesis, communication and real-time programming.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Apply knowledge of mathematics and engineering sciences necessary to carry out analysis and design appropriate to robotic engineering.
- Identify, formulate and solve robotic engineering/application problems.
- Communicate complex concepts through design principles to create adaptable and efficient solutions to robotic engineering problems.
- Use the techniques, skills and modern tools necessary to conduct experiments, analyze, and interpret data, to formulate robotic engineering solutions.

Students graduating from this program will be prepared for a wide range of positions in the areas of robotics, automation and real-time applications. Graduating students may work as maintenance and troubleshooting technicians or potentially find employment in robotic hardware design and automation as well as software development for real-time applications.

Upon graduating from this program, students may choose to continue their studies towards a B.S. in Electronics Engineering.

Electronics Engineering

(School of Technology)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Electronics Engineering bachelor's degree program provides a broad-based foundation in current and projected growth areas of electronic engineering. The program focuses on the technology dynamics of the industry in embedded systems design and applications.

Our immersive, lab-based approach integrates mathematical and engineering applications with contemporary developments in the field.

Under the guidance of faculty who combine strong theory with real-world experience, graduates will demonstrate the ability to

- Apply knowledge of mathematics, engineering sciences and contemporary developments in the field, to perform analysis and design to desired engineering specifications.
- Apply an understanding of engineering processes to identify and analyze problems, formulate solutions, design experiments and simulations, and interpret results.
- Employ industry-standard techniques, skills and tools, to formulate engineering solutions.
- Communicate complex concepts through design principles to create adaptable and efficient solutions to engineering problems.
- Integrate knowledge, tools and problem-solving skills to carry out the design, creation and testing of solutions to engineering problems.

Through our experiential education options, you'll have the opportunity to gain work experience at industry partnership sites such as GTECH, Yushin America and Schneider Electric.

The Electronics Engineering bachelor's degree program has the following educational objectives:

1. Produce graduates who are actively engaged in electronics engineering in national and international industries.
2. Produce electronic engineering graduates with the necessary background and technical skills to work professionally in specialization areas such as embedded systems, signal and image processing, and communication systems.
3. Prepare students who excel at working in individual or team environments, achieving personal and professional success.
4. Prepare graduates who understand the importance of lifelong learning.

Engineering Design & Configuration Management

(School of Technology)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Engineering Design & Configuration Management bachelor's degree program complements the two-year Computerized Drafting associate degree. Students build upon their associate degree in Computerized Drafting and integrate CAD software and drafting standards to develop engineering design concepts and configuration management methods and techniques.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Apply knowledge of basic engineering sciences necessary to carry out analysis and design appropriate to product and project development.
- Identify, formulate and solve engineering problems related to product and project development.
- Communicate complex concepts through design principles to create adaptable and efficient solutions to engineering problems.
- Use the tools and materials necessary to design case studies as well as analyze and interpret data.
- Integrate knowledge, tools and problem-solving skills in project and product development.

The Engineering Design & Configuration Management program is comprised of the development of design skills, conventions and standards, and the management of design documentation for products and projects. The organization and design of products parallels the organization and development of projects. Some topics in this program are quality control/professional practice, design and project development, materials and process engineering, standards/codes and ergonomics, configuration management and an introduction to CAD/CAM. Each course is developed for hands-on experience and case studies to prepare the student for professional placement.

Graduates can expect to be part of design and project teams in a product manufacturing field or in areas of project development and management with start-up companies and established organizations.

Graphic Design & Digital Media

(School of Technology)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Graphic Design & Digital Media bachelor's degree program combines visual design foundation courses, hands-on experience and specialized concentrations to prepare students for careers in professional graphic design and digital media.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Apply knowledge of history of visual culture and design theory, and the ability to understand historical references in the context of modern developments in the field.
- Apply understanding of professional processes to analyze a problem, propose solutions, write specifications, and execute delivery of a product.
- Communicate complex concepts through design principles and visualization techniques.
- Use the tools, materials and production methods of the discipline to create effective solutions to design problems.
- Creatively integrate resources to use an agile approach to solving problems.

Students in this degree program prepare for a wide range of career opportunities in the creative industries where graphic design and technology intersect. Sample job titles in this rapidly changing professional market include digital media designer, interactive graphic designer, digital artist, Web designer and developer, information architect, print and digital publisher.

The academic and experiential focus of this program prepares students to solve various digital communication problems using visual design and digital tools. Learning is hands-on and performance-based using current digital software and hardware in university labs and studios. Students prepare many graphic design and digital media pieces to include in the sophomore portfolio class, which serves as a springboard to advanced concentrations. In addition to concentration study, the junior and senior years are highlighted with real-world experience in the Alan Shawn Feinstein Technology & Design Center. Through advanced coursework and experiential education, students develop competitive skills in project management by creating, managing and presenting graphic design and digital media projects.

In Design Solutions Team I & II junior-level students apply their knowledge to real-world problems through experiential education. Working from the Feinstein Technology & Design Center on campus, students provide digital media solutions for nonprofit organizations. Students hone their design skills by creating, editing and presenting collateral that includes pamphlets, posters, organizational identity kits, video, animation and websites. Students work in project teams supervised by faculty and senior students.

Digital Media Team I & II provides advanced experiential education to senior-level students. In these courses, students are assigned a variety of project work from a range of clients affiliated with the Feinstein Technology & Design Center, other university programs and select external partners. Projects involve individual and team work to provide solutions in all digital media platforms. Students conceive, plan, create and deliver digital media products, as well as provide team leadership to undergraduates.

Other opportunities such as study abroad, national competitions, school exhibitions, independent/team projects and internships are also available to qualified students and complement the college experience.

Network Engineering

(School of Technology)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Network Engineering bachelor's degree program gives students an in-depth skill base in the networking tools and problem-solving practices they need to become professionals in the fast-growing field of network technology. Using current networking software and hardware tools, students develop communications skills that prepare them to become highly functional members of project teams consisting of design, technological and business professionals.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Apply knowledge of math, science, engineering and contemporary developments in the fields of network architecture, network security, and transmission systems to carry out analysis and design appropriate network engineering.
- Apply understanding of network engineering processes to identify and analyze problems, and formulate, implement and test networking solutions that meet required specifications.
- Apply understanding of both historical context and emerging developments in the fields of network architecture, network security, and transmission systems to create adaptable and efficient solutions.
- Use the techniques, skills and modern tools necessary for network engineering best practices.
- Integrate knowledge, tools and problem-solving skills to carry out the design, creation, maintenance and testing of state of the art networks.

Specially designed laboratories give students an enriched hands-on environment in which to hone their design and problem-solving skills, become familiar with equipment and methods common in industry, and develop competency in the use of a range of current networking software tools.

Seniors participate in one of these experiential education options: technical project team or internship. Students apply for the experiential education option they want and are placed according to their qualifications, work availability and the best fit for their program of study.

Successful graduates of the program in Network Engineering should be prepared to sit for network certification exams, and will be ready to embark upon careers in information technology and business as network administrators, managers, designers or assistant engineers.

Software Engineering

(School of Technology)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree

The Software Engineering bachelor's degree program prepares graduates for the challenges in the diverse, fast-paced and rapidly evolving field of solution development. This curriculum provides the student with the opportunity to build upon their technical skills with leadership abilities, project management skills, team-building skills and customer awareness.

Upon completion of the program, graduates are expected to demonstrate the ability to

- Apply knowledge of math, science, engineering, computer software and contemporary developments in the field of software engineering to carry out software design, development and maintenance.
- Apply an understanding of software engineering techniques to design, create, implement and test solutions that meet required software and hardware specifications.
- Apply understanding of both historical context and emerging developments in the fields of software engineering to design and create efficient software solutions using current standards in a business, technical or scientific environment.
- Use the techniques, skills and modern tools necessary for software engineering best practices.
- Integrate knowledge, tools and problem-solving skills to carry out design, creation, maintenance and testing of state-of-the-art software.

The Software Engineering program develops a solid philosophy based on technology as a tool for business solutions and prepares students for rewarding careers in any industry as the provider of business solutions. Graduates of this program will be prepared to work in private, public or governmental organizations within various industries such as retail, hospitality, finance or technology.

The Software Engineering program has three courses that students can use to tailor their program to the specific industry they wish to pursue. These courses will be determined through discussion with the student's faculty advisor and recorded on his/her degree requirements.

Seniors participate in one of these experiential education options: technical project team or internship. Students apply for the experiential education option they want and are placed according to their qualifications, work availability and the best fit for their program of study.

ARA1001 Supervised Independent Arabic I

This self instructed, independent course combines a required curriculum with weekly conversation sessions. Students must take considerable responsibility for their own learning. The course is an introduction to the Arabic language with emphasis on mastering the Arabic alphabet, on vocabulary acquisition and on learning basic grammatical constructions with oral communication on a rudimentary level the main objective.

Offered at Providence

2.25 Quarter Credit Hours

ARA1002 Supervised Independent Arabic II

This self-instructed course is a continuation of the Supervised Independent Arabic I. Students' vocabulary is expanded to words used when dealing with such topics as time, days of week, weather, shopping, daily and weekly routine, etc. The grammar constructions used include declination of nouns; verbs in present, past and future tenses; and adjectives.

Prerequisite(s): ARA1001

Offered at Providence

2.25 Quarter Credit Hours

ART2010 Introduction to Film

This course is designed to give students an in-depth introduction to the motion picture medium. Students gain an understanding of the technical aspects of filmmaking and the ways in which movies express meaning through cinematography, production design, actor performance, editing, sound design, and narrative. The ideology of film and film theory are also explored.

Prerequisite(s): ENG1020 or ENG1920 or English placement. (HY)

Offered at Charlotte, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ART2020 Introduction to Art

This course provides an introduction to the understanding and appreciation of art. Emphasis is on the visual arts of painting, sculpture and architecture. The course covers the basic principles of design, form and techniques, as well as a general chronological history of art from ancient to contemporary works. Students are encouraged to respond actively to works of art through class discussions, museum visits and class projects.

Prerequisite(s): ENG1020 or ENG1920 or English placement.

Offered at Charlotte, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ART2030 Music Appreciation

This survey course of the history of music covers the elements of music, terminology, composition, form and style. It also explores the instruments, voices and ensembles that interact to create the art of music, focusing on periods of music after 1500 - Renaissance, Baroque, Classical, Romantic and Modern. American musical theater, jazz and music of world cultures are also studied. Emphasis is on developing critical listening skills and on developing an appreciation of music of many genres.

Prerequisite(s): ENG1020 or ENG1920 or English placement.

Offered at Charlotte, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CAR0010 Career Capstone

This career management course focuses on preparing and empowering students to make effective career choices, identify and pursue internships, secure employment, and navigate lifelong career direction. Students learn ways to enhance and customize their job search materials and to market themselves effectively to employers. Various job search strategies, networking and interview techniques are reinforced. Other topics include personal financial management and graduate school.

Prerequisite(s): Junior status. (OL)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Online, Providence

1 Quarter Credit Hour

COMM1010 Introduction to Media, Culture & Society

This is a survey course that introduces students to the study of media in contemporary culture and society. The course focuses on three main areas: production, content and reception. Students engage with a variety of concepts from the field of Media Studies, as well as with political-economic and social-cultural analyses of media.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM1030 History of Media

Media and history are more than scholarly subjects: they are keywords in the principles and practices of public life; taken together, they provide students with ideas and materials needed to make sense of society and culture. We may study historical events through yellowed letters or long-play records (media history), but this course asks students to interpret the meaning of letters or records (the history of media). By the end of the course, students will have refined if not redefined their understanding of media to include all major forms, from cave art to cell phones.

Prerequisite(s): COMM1010.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM1050 Writing for Publication

Students in this course focus on the various sectors and processes of the publishing industry, including—but not limited to—periodicals, book publishing, professional journals, and online publishing. Throughout the term, students explore the various sectors of the industry and become adept at researching the market and identifying appropriate venues for a variety of works. Instruction begins with critical analysis of the market and develops into an in-depth discovery of the industry from the genesis of a piece to representation, acquisition, editing, distribution, and marketing. Issues of copyright laws, collaboration, and issuance of contract terms are central to the course. By the end of the term, students will be challenged to assess their own writing in regards to audience, timeliness, and marketability in today's publishing industry.

Prerequisite(s): ENG1021 or ENG1921.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM1070 Writing for Radio, TV and Film

This course teaches students how to successfully write for radio, television and film by introducing them to the key elements of production for each medium. Students become familiar with a broad range of standard formats, acquire fundamental industry terminology, and closely examine a variety of creative techniques for producing professional copy. The course balances theory and practice, providing students with many concrete examples through which to learn the essential components of script writing: from commercials, PSAs and talk shows, to documentaries and a host of fictional formats. Students demonstrate their understanding of important concepts, and develop their own skills and talents by writing a series of short scripts for each medium. This is a writing-intensive course in which assignments are designed to cultivate the strengths and interests of each student, while always requiring the student-writer to consider the demands of form and content, as well as audience and marketability.

Prerequisite(s): ENG1021 or ENG1921. (WI)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM1090 Writing in Digital Media

Students in this course examine the theory and practice of writing in a digital age. Special emphasis is placed on ethics and the rhetorical conventions for online communication and the design of information, particularly for professional purposes. Course topics include designing an effective blog; web style and identity online; social media applications; copyright and authorship issues; and participating in collaborative online environments.

Prerequisite(s): ENG1021 or ENG1921. (WI)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM2010 Media Industries

This course provides an in-depth look at the industrial contexts within which media professionals work. Of primary concern are the ways in which a range of factors-- such as organizational philosophies, economic structures, regulatory contexts, technological innovations and day-to-day business practices-- work to determine the ways in which media organizations operate, as well as how such contexts shape the kinds of media texts these industries produce. Ultimately, the course introduces future media professionals to concepts necessary for understanding and navigating the contemporary media landscape.

Prerequisite(s): COMM1010 or SEE2030.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM2050 Media Audiences

Students in this course think critically about how they—as well as their friends, families and communities—influence and are influenced by mediated messages. Students compare and contrast the thoughts, feelings, and behaviors of film, radio, television and internet audiences from the nineteenth, twentieth and twenty-first centuries. By reading and writing about media audiences in historical and contemporary contexts, students come to understand the uses or effects of—as well as their own response or resistance to—mediated messages.

Prerequisite(s): COMM1010.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM2100 Children, Youth and Media

From the fairy tales of Anderson and Grimm, through Victorian literature to modern films and television programs, media studies of children and young adults is a growing field. This course examines selected works, and focuses on the interpretation and analysis of how media engage and affect young viewers. In addition to viewing selected works aimed at children and young adults, students read what researchers and critics have to say in their analyses.

Prerequisite(s): COMM1010.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM2200 Television Studies

This course offers critical perspectives on American television and its complex relationship to contemporary culture and everyday life. Specifically, the course covers several aspects that are crucial to understanding television as a cultural artifact: economic structure; aesthetic practices and technological developments; the consumption habits of audiences; government regulation; and social impact. Along the way, students gain a solid grasp of television's history and speculate deeply about its future.

Prerequisite(s): COMM1010 or SEE2030.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM2300 American Film

Students in this course explore the major developments in the U.S. film industry during its first 100 years. The course is structured chronologically and focuses on moments in film history that are particularly relevant to the medium's development as an aesthetic form, industrial product and cultural practice. While a large portion of the course covers the Hollywood film industry, we also pay close attention to the development of independent film in the U.S., which has always existed alongside the mainstream industry in various and ever-changing states of codependence. Students gain a strong appreciation for the wide variety of cinematic movements and styles that make up U.S. cinema, as well as a deep understanding of the way in which economic factors and industrial logic determine the kinds of films that are made. Along the way, we also place American cinema within a global context, considering the ways in which international films and filmmakers have influenced, and been influenced by, the U.S. film industry.

Prerequisite(s): ART2010 or COMM1010 or SEE2030.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM3010 Media and Popular Culture

This course surveys the ways in which everyday acts and artifacts communicate messages. Students interpret how fashion, food, fiction and other forms of communication influence and are influenced by social structures and global institutions. Students also consider the ways in which icons and symbols generate meaning for diverse audiences. Course readings address ideology, identity, community, subjectivity and the body, among other topics.

Prerequisite(s): COMM1010.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM3050 Media Identities

Students in this course analyze the ways in which media texts, from films to television shows, represent contemporary forms of social identity such as gender, race, class and sexual orientation. Specifically, students are encouraged to ponder the role contemporary media play in constructing popular understandings of social identity, as well as how audiences use media representations to form their own sense of identity. Students engage with contemporary theoretical perspectives on media representation, evaluate current research in the field, and perform their own analyses based on this material.

Prerequisite(s): COMM1010.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM3100 Radio, Records & Popular Music

This course is divided into three interlocking sections: genres, industries and technologies. The genres section explores major forms of popular music, such as jazz, blues, country and rock. The industries section examines how the businesses of radio, recording and music produce culture. The technologies section describes the gramophone, phonograph, radio, jukebox, tape recorder and digital files in their social and technical contexts. Borrowing from multiple fields, such as media studies, sociology, anthropology, history and musicology, the course situates these genres, industries and technologies alongside several themes, including: noise and silence; listening and recording; body and voice; regionalism and urbanism; race and class; and creativity and commerce.

Prerequisite(s): ART2030 or COMM1010 or SEE2030.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM3200 History of Photography

Students in this course pay close attention to important inventions, from the camera obscura and the daguerreotype to the 35mm still camera and the Polaroid. Various formats and prints—such as banquet camera photographs, cartes de visite, magic lantern slides, news photographs and picture postcards—are studied from social and technological perspectives. Documentary photography is also addressed, with examples that draw from the works of Matthew Brady, Walker Evans, Lewis Carroll, Ansel Adams and Annie Leibovitz, among others.

Prerequisite(s): ART2020 or COMM1010.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM3300 Media Research Methods

Ever since the rise of mass communication technologies, scholars have refined their approaches to studying type, sound, and still or moving pictures. This course provides essential training on how scholars think by asking students to participate in the process of knowledge creation. Readings focus on interpretive and critical methods, from interviews, focus groups and participant observations, to historical and textual analyses that draw on Marxist, post-structural, psychoanalytic, feminist, queer, postmodern and post-colonial thought. The course will be invaluable for students who wish to pursue research positions in the media industries, as well as for those who plan to continue their studies in graduate school.

Prerequisite(s): COMM2050. (WI)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM3899 Media Internship

Practical skills figure prominently into media studies, which is why this course compels students to connect their academic coursework with industry experience. Positions will vary, but students should be engaged in some facet of media work (e.g. researching, editing, writing, producing, designing, building) in virtually any industry, from architecture to television. Students are expected to begin the application process during their sophomore year. The course may be repeated twice with one or more companies or organizations, but must not exceed 13.5-quarter credits.

Prerequisite(s): COMM1010.

Offered at Providence

4.5-13.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM4010 Global Media

Students in this course take a critical look at the practices of media corporations, governments and audiences, mostly through the lenses of nationalism and imperialism. Particular emphasis is placed on the idea of globalization and its connection to contexts of reception at local, national and international levels. The course also addresses key themes, such as trade, tradition, post-colonialism, globalism and localism. Students read political-economic and ethnographic analyses of products such as Nike sneakers, Disney films, Brazilian telenovelas, Japanese anime, and Nigerian popular music, all symbolic texts that bear the imprints of, on the one hand, transnational media corporations, and, on the other, regional audiences.

Prerequisite(s): COMM3010.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM4050 Critical Perspectives on New Media

This course examines the rise of digital media technology and its impact on contemporary culture. Topics include: industrial issues, such as how new media technologies converge with “old media” content and whether digital technology cultivates new kinds of relationships between media producers and consumers; economic issues, such as how the new digital landscape contributes to the consolidation of media ownership and opens up new possibilities for targeted marketing and data-mining practices by media advertisers; social issues, such as how the internet and social media change the way that individuals interact with one another and re-imagine their own identities; and political issues, such as digital media’s potential to break down some policy barriers, while erecting others. Through critical engagement with these issues, students are encouraged to think deeply about the past, present and future of new media.

Prerequisite(s): COMM2010.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM4100 Media Theory

Course readings address critical, cultural and social theories of media that have emerged from various schools and sites, such as Birmingham, Chicago, Columbia, Frankfurt, Paris and Toronto. Representative theorists may include Stuart Hall, Louis Wirth, Paul Lazarsfeld, Walter Benjamin, Paul Virilio, and Marshall McLuhan, among others. Students are expected to engage the course’s texts with passion and dedication.

Prerequisite(s): COMM2050. (WI)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM4200 Senior Seminar in Media Life

What is the meaning of a mediated life? This seminar conceives of life as entirely mediated, from the language that we use, to the air that we breathe. As media scholar Mark Deuze contends, we no longer live with media—as material technologies or news organizations—but in media, defined here as environments for thinking, feeling, speaking and acting. The seminar draws on most of the coursework from the Communication Studies major and synthesizes it in the form of one research project on an original topic that crosses disciplinary demarcations. Representative topics may include: insect media and beehives; bio-media and pacemakers; green media and e-waste; structural media and shopping malls; and hypermedia and emotion.

Prerequisite(s): COMM2050. (WI)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

COMM4300 Special Topics in Media Studies

How does Media Studies, as a field, intersect with other areas of inquiry? What can media anthropologists learn from media archaeologists? This course focuses on a different area, issue or theme each year, depending on student interest. Possible topics under consideration include: dead media; documentary media; Latin/o media; media and the body; mediated cities; mediated memories; media philosophy; media and war.

Prerequisite(s): COMM1010.

MATH2005 Special Topics in Mathematics

This course presents a specialized area of mathematics in great detail. Each academic year, a specialized topic is chosen which is of interest to both students and faculty. Typical specialized topics which may be chosen include, but are not limited to, number theory, numerical analysis, matrix theory, mathematical logic, abstract algebra and geometry.

Prerequisite(s): MATH1002 or equivalent. Other prerequisites may vary from year to year.

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

MATH2021 Statistics II

This course is a continuation of Statistics I. It is designed to provide students with the statistical concepts and techniques of inferential statistics. Topics covered include hypothesis testing, testing the difference between two means, two proportions, and two variances; correlation and regression, Chi-square tests, analysis of variance, sampling techniques, and an introduction to simulation techniques.

Prerequisite(s): MATH2001. (HO)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

MATH2042 Calculus III

This course is a continuation of MATH1041. It is designed to provide students with a detailed treatment of the calculus of functions of several variables and vectors. Topics include vector algebra, vector-valued functions, partial derivatives, vector differential calculus, and the integration of vector fields including the Divergence Theorem and Stokes' Theorem.

Prerequisite(s): MATH1041.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

MATH2043 Ordinary Differential Equations

This course introduces the student to the field of ordinary differential equations. Topics include methods for solving linear differential equations and their applications, series solutions of linear differential equations, the solution of systems of linear differential equations along with their applications, and phase plane methods for nonlinear systems.

Prerequisite(s): MATH1041.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

MATH3020 Discrete Mathematics

This course is designed to give students the basic mathematical concepts and methods that are prevalent in information science. Topics include sets, relations and functions, elementary graph and network theory, trees, matching algorithms, network flows, counting techniques, and recurrence relations.

Prerequisite(s): MATH1020 or permission of department chair.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PHIL3015 History of Philosophy

This is a survey of the development of Western philosophic thought. A clear sense is gained of the relative richness and poverty of philosophic interpretation of different periods. The thinking and works of outstanding philosophers of each period are considered, and the major schools of philosophic thought and their adherents are reviewed. Some of the major problems of philosophy are examined: appearance versus reality, determinism versus free will, knowledge and existence, body-mind relations, truth and error, good and evil, space and time, reality and what we can know.

Prerequisite(s): ENG1020 or ENG1920 or English placement.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PHIL3020 Crisis and Controversy: A Critical Thinking Approach

This course encourages students to use critical thinking skills in order to make decisions, solve problems, develop new ideas, evaluate arguments and tolerate ambiguity while exploring complex social questions. Emphasis is on understanding the elements of reasoning, imposing criteria and intellectual standards upon reasoning, and assessing individual thinking processes. Students hone critical thinking skills by actively engaging in the study of social conflicts and controversies that operate at individual, communal and global levels.

Prerequisite(s): ENG1020 or ENG1920 or English placement. (SL) (HO)

Offered at Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PHIL3040 Ethics of Business Leadership

This course examines the basic principles of ethics and their philosophical foundations, particularly as they apply to institutions, environments, leadership and other activities and pursuits of business. It examines those aspects of human behavior which can be labeled right and wrong. It considers the moral obligations of leaders and followers when discussing actual cases from a variety of business organizations that have presented management and subordinates with difficult moral dilemmas. It considers also the particular responsibilities of leadership in fostering and implementing ethical awareness within a corporate culture.

Prerequisite(s): ENG1020 or ENG1920 or English placement. (HO) (OL)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Online, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PSCI3001 Introduction to Political Science

Political Science is the rigorous and disciplined study of government and politics. This is a "gateway" course designed to reveal to students the ubiquity of political phenomena in their lives. The workings of politics, viewed alternatively as the authoritative allocation of values, or as the study of who gets what, when, where, why, and how, will be studied in a variety of incarnations, in small and large groups, and in private and public dress. The rational choice perspective will be used to formulate and analyze theoretical issues in political analysis.

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore status. (WI)

Offered at Charlotte, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PSCI3005 Contemporary Political Ideologies

A small but powerfully influential set of political ideologies have dominated, and continue to dominate, social and political events throughout the world in the last and this century. Robust ideologies (democracy, nationalism, Islam, and their variants) have impelled their followers to produce the deaths of millions, and continue to control the destinies of hundreds of millions. This course tries to make sense of a century of ideological struggle, with the hope of understanding the continuing relevance of political ideology in fashioning the fate of peoples and nations.

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore status. (WI)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PSCI3010 Introduction to World Politics

This course provides a comprehensive introduction to the study of world politics. Analytical tools and philosophical doctrine are first discussed to lay a foundation for understanding the driving forces in international relations. The chronic nature of war and ceaseless search for peace are discussed next, with special emphasis on 20th-century history. Next examined are the theory and practice of economic relations among advanced industrial economies, and the pace of development in the third world, or the "South". Special problems posed by multiethnic and multinational diversity within nations are an important theme of the course. Other possible topics, time allowing, include different historical and possible future systems of international relations; imperialism; cold war politics; national security theory, including deterrence, and the success of international political and monetary organizations.

Offered at Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PSYC2001 Introductory Psychology

Introductory Psychology is the scientific study of behavior and mental processes. Ethical application of the scientific method is used to examine nervous system structures and functions, learning, memory, intelligence and states of consciousness. (SL) (HO) (OL)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Online, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PSYC2002 Abnormal Psychology

This course examines the major theoretical approaches to psychological and other behavior disorders. Included are definitional criteria, causes, prevalence, related conditions and current treatment programs for both children and adults. Emphasis is placed on the sociocultural context of psychological disorders as well as on correcting common stereotypes about mental and emotional illness.

Prerequisite(s): PSYC2001 or PSYC2901.

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PSYC2010 Personality

Students engage in the study of various personality theories in the context of psycho-philosophical differences in personality. Personality development, assessment methods, theoretical application, integration and critical evaluation of each theory are analyzed. Application of theory to actual and hypothetical cases is expected throughout the course.

Prerequisite(s): PSYC2001 or PSYC2901.

Offered at Charlotte, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PSYC2020 Industrial/Organizational Psychology

This course emphasizes the psychological principles involved in group performance, power, leadership styles and behavioral motivation. It includes discussion and analysis of organizational research and the application of the results to businesses and industrial situations. It is designed to assist the business student in incorporating psychological knowledge into his or her managerial and leadership style in order to increase on-the-job productivity.

Prerequisite(s): PSYC2001 or PSYC2901.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PSYC2030 Developmental Psychology

This survey course is designed to introduce the student to the concepts, theories, and recent research in the area of human life span from conception to late adulthood. The integrative process of physical cognitive and psychosexual development during significant periods of maturation is examined.

Prerequisite(s): PSYC2001 or PSYC2901.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PSYC2040 Psychological Issues of Addiction and Compulsive Behavior

This course examines the various types of addictions and accompanying compulsive behaviors and symptomology related to these disorders. It focuses on problems related to the addictive process. Topics include but are not limited to: compulsive gambling, alcohol and substance abuse addiction, sexual addictions, eating disorders and other compulsive behaviors. Relevant topics such as the addictive process and personality are addressed along with the familial effects and psychosocial impact of addiction on business and industry. Various treatment approaches and methods of recovery are discussed. Methods of awareness, identification and distinction between various compulsive disorders and addiction along with the biopsychosocial model of addiction are delineated.

Prerequisite(s): PSYC2001 or PSYC2901.

Offered at Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PSYC2901 Honors Introductory Psychology

The honors section of Introductory Psychology is designed to expand and enrich the students' first experience in psychology. Besides accomplishing all the course objectives of the non-honors sections, honors students are expected to analyze, synthesize and evaluate complex psychological concepts and information. A major topic in psychology (such as stress, health, peace or violence) is investigated each term within the context of each unit. The class engages in a collaborative project or design and conducts an action research project centered on the psychological topic under investigation. Prerequisite(s): Enrollment in Honors Program or permission of department chair.

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PSYC3001 Social Psychology

This course features a study of individual behavior in relation to the social stimuli of modern life. The course involves the extension of general psychological principles and methods in the study of social behavior.

Prerequisite(s): PSYC2001 or PSYC2901. (WI)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PSYC3020 Human Sexuality

This course is an exploration of human sexuality from a biological, psychological and socio-cultural perspective. It examines major theoretical perspectives that influence the scientific study of sexuality. Critical issues discussed include but are not limited to sexual identity and gender, sexuality and relationships, contemporary and cross-cultural views on human sexuality, rape and sexual exploitation and sexuality across the lifespan.

Prerequisite(s): PSYC2001 or PSYC2901.

Offered at Denver, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PSYC3040 Introduction to Neuropsychology and Psychopharmacology

This course considers the function and dysfunction of the human central nervous system with respect to higher order cognition and behavior. This course surveys the neuroanatomical, neuropathological, neurocognitive and neurobehavioral aspects of the brain, and provides an introduction to the psychopharmacological aspects of treatment in mental health counseling.

Prerequisite(s): PSYC2002.

Offered at Denver, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

REL2001 Comparative Study of World Religions: An Interdisciplinary Approach

This course introduces the students to the world's great religions; Hinduism, Buddhism, Judaism, Christianity and Islam are emphasized. The focus is interdisciplinary and includes history, cultural traditions and textual analysis of each religion's literature in relation to these religions. (WI)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

RSCH2050 Research Methods in Applied Settings

Using quantitative and qualitative research methods, students learn how to plan, conduct, and write a research project and select and interpret data. The course provides students with the required knowledge to conduct basic research in the field of psychology, including evaluation of primary and secondary research and learning to use and interpret statistics in specific applied situations. Students learn APA documentation, engage in exercises in primary sourcing techniques, and receive an overview of the publication process.

Prerequisite(s): MATH2001, PSYC2001 or PSYC2901.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

RSCH3001 Honors Advisory Seminar

This course prepares honors students to conduct the necessary research to successfully complete the scholarly paper requirements for graduation from the Honors Program. The professor guides students in their choice of feasible research projects and serves as the major advisor for the scholarly paper requirement. Students review MLA and APA documentation forms and engage in exercises in primary source techniques. Descriptive statistics as well as an overview of the publication process are also covered.

Prerequisite(s): ENG1920 or English placement.

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence

RSCH3002 Directed Academic Experience

Directed Academic Experience offers honors students the opportunity to develop and complete a capstone project begun in RSCH3001. This project is completed under the direct supervision of an individual faculty member appropriate to the specialized field of research or other work undertaken by the student. Though students submit portions of the project to the advisor at regular intervals, students are expected to devote a substantial amount of time to research, writing, and other appropriate forms of independent engagement with their chosen subject.

Prerequisite(s): RSCH3001, enrollment in Honors Program and recommendation of faculty member. (WI)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

RSCH4050 Research Seminar in Counseling Psychology

This capstone course is designed to complete the major program of study by integrating the student's prior academic experiences in Counseling Psychology. A seminar format is used to encourage student participation and interaction with peers and with faculty. Each participant chooses a topic within the concentrations available for the Counseling Psychology program. The topic is explored through individual research, periodic presentations and discussion. Discussion focuses on both substantive and methodological concerns, as well as interconnections among areas of study.

Prerequisite(s): RSCH2050, senior status. (WI)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

RUS1001 Supervised Independent Russian I

This structured independent study course combines a required curriculum with weekly conversation sessions. Students must take considerable responsibility for their own learning. The course is an introduction to Russian language with emphasis on mastering Russian alphabet, vocabulary acquisition, reading, basic grammar constructions, and oral communication. (HO)

Offered at Providence
2.25 Quarter Credit Hours

RUS1002 Supervised Independent Russian II

This self-instructed course is a continuation of the Supervised Independent Russian I. Students' vocabulary is expanded to words used when dealing with such topics as time, days of week, weather, shopping, daily and weekly routine, etc. The grammar constructions used include declination of nouns; verbs in present, past and future tenses; and adjectives. At weekly conversation sessions the students are also exposed to some aspects of life in present-day Russia.

Prerequisite(s): RUS1001 or equivalent.

Offered at Providence
2.25 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI1011 General Physics I

SCI1011 is the first of a two part introductory Physics course sequence using algebra-based approaches to analyze physics phenomena. It introduces students to vector algebra and the basic principles of classical mechanics, applying the concepts of work, energy, linear momentum, and angular momentum to physical phenomena. SCI1011 must be taken concurrently with the laboratory section (see SCI1041, General Physics I Laboratory).

Prerequisite(s): MATH1020 (or concurrent), Corequisite: SCI1041.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI1012 General Physics II

SCI1012 is the second of a two part introductory Physics course sequence using algebra-based mathematical approaches to analyze physics phenomena. It introduces students to heat, wave propagation, wave energy, reflection, refraction, electricity, magnetism, circuits, and semiconductors. SCI1012 must be taken concurrently with the laboratory section (see SCI1042, General Physics II Laboratory).
Prerequisite(s): SCI1011, MATH1020, Corequisite: SCI1042.
Offered at Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI1015 Introduction to Life Science

This course describes key biological and chemical principles that apply to all living things. Evolution and natural selection are studied as an explanation for the history of life on Earth. Students examine cells and cell functions, genetics, as well as structure and function of human body systems. Application of scientific methodology is included. (HO) (OL)
Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Denver CE, Miami, Online, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI1021 General Chemistry

This comprehensive course is for those fields requiring knowledge of general chemical concepts. Emphasis is on applied areas of interest where aspects of atomic and molecular structure and function are particularly important. Topics covered include stoichiometry of chemical reactions, energy interrelationships between reactants, atomic structure, and chemical bonding.
Prerequisite(s): MATH1020 or equivalent, Corequisite: SCI1022. (HO)
Offered at Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI1022 General Chemistry Lab

This is an inquiry based laboratory supplement course coordinated with SCI1021 General Chemistry. Students work in small teams to solve chemistry lab problems by performing observations and generating data to develop new concepts. Students design their own experiments and make decisions within their teams in a collaborative manner. They have the opportunity to practice the scientific skills used by chemists who perform research. Topics covered include the mole concept, chemical reactions, energy interrelationships between reactants, atomic and molecular structure, and chemical bonding.
Prerequisite(s): MATH1020 or equivalent, Corequisite: SCI1021. (HO)
Offered at Providence, Providence CE
2.25 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI1041 General Physics I Laboratory

SCI1041 is an introductory algebra based Physics Laboratory that meets three hours a week. It is an inquiry based laboratory course coordinated with SCI1011 General Physics I. Small teams of students work together to solve practical Newtonian physics problems by conducting a sequence of observations and tests. Students are responsible for developing their own experiments and task assignments as they work within collaborative team structures, using the collected data to construct original models of physical phenomena. Students practice skills employed by professional engineers and scientists. The laboratory exercises reinforce theories discussed in class, including error analysis, vector algebra, kinematics, conservation of energy, momentum, and rotational motion.
Prerequisite(s): MATH1020 (or concurrent), Corequisite: SCI1011.
Offered at Providence, Providence CE
1.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI1042 General Physics II Laboratory

SCI1042 is an introductory algebra based Physics Laboratory that meets three hours a week. It is an inquiry based laboratory course coordinated with SCI1012 General Physics II. Small teams of students work together to solve practical Newtonian physics problems by conducting a sequence of observations and tests. Students are responsible for developing their own experiments and task assignments as they work within collaborative team structures, using the collected data to construct original models of physical phenomena. Students practice skills employed by professional engineers and scientists. The laboratory exercises reinforce theories discussed in class, including error analysis, heat transfer, electric and magnetic fields, circuits, digital instruments, and optics.
Prerequisite(s): SCI1011, MATH1020, Corequisite: SCI1012.
Offered at Providence, Providence CE
1.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI1915 Honors Introduction to Life Science

The honors life science course uses evolution and its mechanisms as a framework to present key biological and chemical principles that apply to all living things. Students examine applications of the scientific method, the chemical basis of life, cells and cellular functions, genetics, as well as structure and function of human body systems. Readings, activities and assignments are used to highlight the modern synthesis of evolution.
Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI2005 Introduction to Botany

This course provides a comprehensive description of the structure, physiology and reproduction of plants of economic value. Focus is on the relationship between plants and humans, including the role of plants as food sources such as rice, corn and wheat, as well as industries which are plant based. The importance of plants in maintaining environmental balance is also discussed with an emphasis on topics of current interest. (HO)
Offered at Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI2010 Nutrition

This course in basic human nutrition examines metabolic energy derived from carbohydrates, proteins and lipids. Pathways for the utilization of this energy to build new biomolecules, including nucleic acids, are discussed, as are the consequences of nutrient deficiencies. Ways to achieve and maintain nutrient balance are a central part of the course. The significance of vitamins and minerals and possible toxicity due to overabundance is also discussed. (HO) (OL)
Offered at Charlotte, Online, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI2011 Physics I

SCI2011 is the first of a two part introductory Physics course sequence using calculus-based approaches to analyze physics phenomena. It introduces students to vectors and the basic principles of classical mechanics, applying the concepts of work, energy, linear momentum, and angular momentum, to physical phenomena. SCI2011 must be taken concurrently with the laboratory section (see SCI2041, Physics I Laboratory).
Prerequisite(s): MATH1040 (or concurrent), Corequisite: SCI2041.
Offered at Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI2012 Physics II

SCI2012 is the second of a two part introductory Physics course sequence using calculus-based mathematical approaches to analyze physics phenomena. It introduces students to heat, wave propagation, wave energy, reflection, refraction, electricity, magnetism, circuits, and semiconductors. SCI2012 must be taken concurrently with the laboratory section (see SCI2042, Physics II Laboratory).
Prerequisite(s): SCI2011 or SCI1011, MATH1040, Corequisite: SCI2042.
Offered at Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI2020 Exercise Physiology

This course introduces topics in the physiology and anatomy of exercise, cardiovascular fitness, nutrition, and weight control. Emphasis is placed on understanding the scientific basis for a wellness program. (HO)
Offered at Charlotte, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI2031 Anatomy and Physiology

This basic course covers the anatomy and physiology of the human organism, based on the cell, tissue, organ and system structures of the body. An integral part of this course is the learning of medical terminology. (HO)

Offered at Denver, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI2040 Marine Biology

This course is an introduction to both the biological and physical aspects of the marine environment, including a survey of the organisms that inhabit the world's oceans, their ecology, species evolution and distribution, and the human impact of commercial marine-related industries. Of particular interest are seafood, shellfish and marine plants as marine food sources, as well as shipping and maritime industries. (HY) (HO)

Offered at Denver, Denver CE, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI2041 Physics I Laboratory

SCI2041 is an introductory calculus based Physics Laboratory class that meets three hours per week. It is an inquiry-based laboratory course coordinated with SCI2011 Physics I. Small teams of students work together to solve practical Newtonian physics problems by conducting a sequence of observations and tests. Students are responsible for developing their own experiments and task assignments as they work within collaborative team structures, using the collected data to construct original models of physical phenomena. Students practice skills employed by professional engineers and scientists. The laboratory exercises reinforce theories discussed in class, including error analysis, vector algebra, kinematics, conservation of energy, momentum, and rotational motion.

Prerequisite(s): MATH1040 (or concurrent), Corequisite: SCI2011.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

1.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI2042 Physics II Laboratory

SCI2042 is an introductory calculus based Physics Laboratory class that meets three hours per week. It is an inquiry-based laboratory course coordinated with SCI2012 Physics II. Small teams of students work together to solve practical Newtonian physics problems by conducting a sequence of observations and tests. Students are responsible for developing their own experiments and task assignments as they work within collaborative team structures, using the collected data to construct original models of physical phenomena. Students practice skills employed by professional engineers and scientists. The laboratory exercises reinforce theories discussed in class, including error analysis, heat transfer, electric and magnetic fields, circuits, digital instruments, and optics.

Prerequisite(s): SCI2011 or SCI1011, MATH1040, Corequisite: SCI2012

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

1.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI2045 Introduction to General and Organic Chemistry

This course examines the chemistry of carbon-containing molecules relevant to biological systems such as the human body, beginning with basic atomic structure, chemical bonding and reactions, and the chemistry of acids, bases, buffers, and salts. Organic chemistry of all functional groups are examined, including saturated/unsaturated hydrocarbons, aldehydes and ketones, carboxylic acids, amines, and alcohols. Emphasis is given to those compounds of biochemical importance.

Offered at Denver, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI3010 Environmental Science

This course presents major scientific concepts dealing with the biological and physical nature of the world we live in. A major theme is the impact of human population and economic growth on the biodiversity and ecosystems of our planet, considering how sustainable use of the world's resources may be achieved for both developing and developed nations. Topics such as energy, air, water or resource use, land use and agriculture are discussed. (HO)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Denver CE, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI3020 Sustainability Policy and Planning

In this course students are introduced to the application of scientifically sound sustainability policies and their effects. Through the study of relevant case studies, this course demonstrates how corporate leaders can gain a strategic advantage by fostering sustainable development principles within their organizations. Businesses have typically been viewed as major contributors to environmental problems but they have also been extremely important participants in solutions. Students investigate policy efforts that promote responsible management of social, economic, and environmental resources and examine the roles of governments, markets, and nonprofit organizations in the implementation of sustainable development laws and policies.

Prerequisite(s): SCI3010 or SCI3910. (HO) (OL)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Online, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI3030 Introduction to Ecology

This course combines biology and other sciences to study how living things interact with each other and with their non-living environment. Topics such as competition and predation, the one-way flow of energy, and the cycling of nutrients through ecological communities are examined. Other topics such as biodiversity, major terrestrial and aquatic biomes, succession, and the methods and goals of environmental conservation are discussed. (HO)

Offered at Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI3040 Biochemistry

This course introduces basic concepts of chemistry and organic/biological chemistry with emphasis on applications of chemistry to human biology, structure of biological molecules and metabolism. Typical topics include: chemical bonds and energy, electrolytes, structure and metabolism of carbohydrates and lipids, protein and enzyme function, and structure and function of nucleic acids.

Prerequisite(s): SCI1015 or SCI1915, SCI2045. (HO)

Offered at Denver, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI3050 Science and Civilization: Progress and Problems

This course explores the social, political and historic contexts and implications of several scientific and technological developments through a variety of genres including textbooks, newspaper and magazine articles, film, music, art, literature and the internet. This is an interdisciplinary course cross-listed as SCI3050, SOC3050 and HUM3050.

Prerequisite(s): ENG1020 or ENG1920 or English placement, successful completion of any SCI course, sophomore status. (OL)

Offered at Charlotte, Online, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI3070 Food Sustainability

This course introduces students to the natural science aspects of sustainability in food production, agriculture, aquaculture, food distribution, and environmental considerations. Topics include such emerging areas as: organic food industry, slow food movement, local food production, and sustainable food production practices. The class integrates theoretical principles of agricultural and aquaculture sustainability with hands-on learning exercises and evaluates the environmental, social, and economic aspects of sustainable food production issues.

Prerequisite(s): SCI3010 or SCI3910. (HO) (OL)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Online, Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI3080 The Business of Sustainability

This course reveals the business advantages of integrating the scientific principles of environmental sustainability in commerce. The application of sustainability principles to business management is investigated. How environmental issues can drive markets and be used to manage risks and costs is examined. The economic necessity of sustainable business practices is analyzed. Business practices are evaluated to determine their true environmental impact.

Prerequisite(s): SCI3010 or SCI3910. (HO) (OL)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Online, Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI3090 Research Seminar in Sustainability

This course is a capstone of the student's undergraduate work in the sustainability minor and an introduction to the professional practice of sustainability. The Research Seminar in Sustainability is designed to provide students with opportunities to experience the methods used in business, nonprofit, and government sustainable development initiatives and programs by approaching a single issue from a variety of perspectives. Student groups select topics related to the main issue. Topics are clustered within the categories of policies and sociology, economics, or health and environment. Each group analyzes its topic, discovers relationships to the main issue and other group's topics, and presents their findings to the entire class. This multi-disciplinary seminar serves as an integrative course employing the strategies that will build a sustainable future.

Prerequisite(s): SCI3010 or SCI3910, SCI3020, SCI3070, SCI3080. (HO) (OL) (WI)
Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Online, Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI3910 Honors Environmental Science

This honors course presents major scientific concepts dealing with the biological and physical nature of the world we live in. A major theme focuses on environmental health where students gain an understanding of the relationships between human populations, economic growth, ecosystem biodiversity and the health of human and biological populations. It examines the sustainable use of the world's resources and the scientific dialogues in understanding the potential remedies available for both developing and developed nations.

Offered at Denver, Miami, Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI4060 Food Microbiology

Food Microbiology introduces students to a wide variety of topics regarding the biology of food and water associated microorganisms. Important topics include: all varieties of microbial agents of food and water borne disease, characteristics of important species of food spoilage microbes, identification and control of disease agents associated with food and water, beneficial microbial action, microbial genetics and bacterial genomics. The interaction of microbes with the human digestive and immune systems is also studied.

Prerequisite(s): SCI1015 or SCI1915, SCI2031, senior status or permission of department chair, Corequisite: SCI4061. (HO)
Offered at Denver, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SCI4061 Food Microbiology Lab

Food Microbiology Lab is a laboratory companion course coordinated with SCI4060. Using live cultures, students examine the properties of various microbes and factors which contribute to their control and their contamination of foods. Unknown microbes are identified using both traditional and genetic microbiological techniques. Beneficial microorganisms are also studied. Students master microscopy using compound light microscopes.

Prerequisite(s): SCI1015 or SCI1915, SCI2031, senior status or permission of department chair, Corequisite: SCI4060. (HO)
Offered at Denver, Providence, Providence CE
2.25 Quarter Credit Hours

SOC2001 Sociology I

This course provides an introduction to sociology with the focus of study on how humans interact within a society, both as individuals and in groups. Emphasis is placed on sociological methods and perspectives/paradigms. (SL) (HY) (HO) (OL)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Online, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SOC2002 Sociology II

This course is a continuation of Sociology I focusing on patterns of behavior or institutions that our culture has established. Emphasis is placed on studying those institutions which are essential to the survival of the individual and the group.

Prerequisite(s): SOC2001 or SOC2901. (SL)
Offered at Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SOC2010 Sociology of Digital Environments

This course provides an introduction to the digital world as both a setting of social interaction and as a social and historical phenomenon. Attention is given to the ways that virtuality has both transformed and been influenced by other institutional domains such as family, media, art and work. This focus on the digital world advances students' sociological understanding of the human experience.

Offered at Miami, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SOC2020 Culture and Food

Culture and Food is a course on the sociology of food. Students are challenged to think and rethink the place of food in the human experience. The courses focuses on how the discipline of sociology, and its borrowing from anthropology and other fields, examines food as a cultural and social artifact and how food and social identity intersect. (SL) (HO) (OL) (WI)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Online, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SOC2025 Cultural Tapestry: Perspectives in Diversity

This course approaches the study of diversity by offering students an opportunity to understand the meaning of difference from a multitude of perspectives. Students study how categories of diversity are created, the experience of being perceived as different in society, and the consequences of difference as gauged by the allocation of privilege and resources to differing groups within society. Such categories as race, ethnicity and national identity, socioeconomic status, gender differences, sexual orientation, learning styles and religious affiliation are addressed. Similarities between ethnic groups and cultures are also examined. The sociological paradigms/perspectives are also utilized in the study of diversity. Students shape a presentation that addresses diverse subject matter in an experiential manner. As the course concludes, attention is directed towards identifying strategies that can be employed both on a macrolevel in society and on a micro-level within the students' realm of influence, to broaden the acceptance of differing perspectives in a pluralistic society.

SOC2060 Deviant Behavior

The purpose of this course is to provide students with a clear understanding of the nature and meaning of deviance. Students learn what is considered the norm in society, what is outside the norm, and how each is relative in nature. Theoretical explanations, cross cultural references and in depth analyses of deviant behavior are studied from the three dominant sociological paradigms. Who defines deviance, what is deviant, why deviance persists, the effect of labels, and the personal and social effects of deviance are discussed. Prerequisite(s): SOC2001 or SOC2901. (OL)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Online, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

SOC2901 Honors Sociology I

This honors course is a reading-intensive introduction to sociology. Students are introduced to the basic concepts and propositions underlying the sociological perspective and are taught to apply this perspective in an analysis of events taking place in contemporary society. The focus of study is how humans interact within a society, both as individuals and as members of groups. Emphasis is placed on sociological methods and on the terminology used. The attention to both the macro-issues of stratification, inequality and social structure, as well as the micro-issues of socialization, acculturation and the social construction of reality are combined with "real-life" events, making the learning process even more relevant.

Prerequisite(s): Enrollment in Honors Program or permission of department chair.

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

ADVC2003 High Concept in New Media

This course covers the area of advertising where highly conceptual creative meets today's new media. High concept creative has traditionally been recognized as a type of strategically driven advertising where the concept is greater than the mere words and pictures used to convey the main selling point or other principal message of the ad. New media, which emerged from burgeoning technological capabilities over the past 15 years, rarely employs traditional high-level creative concepts to package the message and is more a product of what the new digital technologies can do. This course helps students incorporate the best of both high concept and new media techniques into portfolio samples, and prepares them for a business world that values fluency in both areas.

Prerequisite(s): ADVC2002.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ADVC2025 Public Relations Cases and Plans

This course utilizes contemporary case analysis to illustrate the effective use of public relations to achieve specific marketing communications objectives. Students learn to take advantage of marketing opportunities and to solve communications problems by applying a public relations process model to various case scenarios. Students create a public relations plan using case analysis as guidelines for research methods, audience identification, objectives, action planning, program implementation and evaluation.

Prerequisite(s): ADVC1021. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ADVC3002 Creative Craft II

This course is an extension of ADVC2002 Creative Craft I. It explores the finer points of advertising copywriting and art direction. Students pursuing career preparation for copywriting collaborate with students preparing for positions in art direction. Both disciplines focus on the more refined aspects of each craft. Copywriting focuses on the exceptional headline, body copy and video script writing. Art direction focuses on the exceptional use of main visuals, layout design, typography in print, plus video production on the Mac platform. This course helps students incorporate their copywriting or art direction expertise into portfolio samples coordinated with projects done by students from the complementing discipline.

Prerequisite(s): ADVC2002, CGRA3050.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ADVC3003 Advertising Campaigns

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL2040 Travel Sales Management

This course emphasizes service as an integral part of the selling process. The reciprocal relationship between selling and service is presented within the context of the total travel sales effort.

Prerequisite(s): FSM1001 or HOSP1001 or SEE1001. (SL) (WI)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL2099 Travel-Tourism and Hospitality Internship

The travel-tourism and hospitality internship affords students the opportunity to combine previous academic courses with a practical approach to various travel industry segments and operations. Students receive hands-on experience while on rotation through Johnson & Wales University approved sites. Sites include the Rhode Island State House, T.F. Green Airport, Collette Vacations, Providence Warwick Convention and Visitors Bureau, AAASNE (American Automobile Association Southern New England), and the Radisson Hotel or Johnson & Wales Inn. The culmination of the internship experience is a tour to a selected international destination, where each student researches, negotiates and develops a highly anticipated journey.

Prerequisite(s): HOSP1010 or HOSP1080 or TRVL1035.

Offered at Miami, Providence, Providence CE

6.75-13.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL2801 World Geography for Tourism and Hospitality

This course is designed to provide the student with the knowledge and skills necessary to work and travel in a global environment. Students explore both current and emerging destinations from around the world. The course discusses the cultural, recreational and social significance to the traveler and the economy.

Offered at Charlotte, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL2810 The Aviation and Airline Industries

This course familiarizes students with the US and international airline industry. The course focuses on the organization and management functions of the airlines, and emphasizes the application of class material to current industry issues.

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore status.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL3010 Dynamics of Tourism

This is a management-oriented course covering the economic, cultural and social functions in the planning and development of the tourism industry. Emphasis is placed on organizational concepts.

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL3020 Ecotourism

This upper-level course explores an emerging dimension of tourism: ecotourism. Students investigate the impact of specific environmental issues on tourism, including water pollution, air pollution, habitat destruction, etc., and focus on the impact of tourism on the physical, biological and cultural environment. The role of the tourism industry as it relates to the provision of ecotourism experiences is also discussed.

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL3030 International Policies of Tourism

This intermediate-level course is designed to provide the student with an increased understanding in the area of international tourism development. Emphasis is placed on the definitive study of the essential components for a successful national tourism program.

Prerequisite(s): TRVL3010. (HO)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL3040 Adventure, Sport and Nature-Based Tourism

This course provides the student with a solid foundation of knowledge related to adventure, sport and nature-based tourism and focuses on key considerations necessary for its implementation. The course offers an opportunity for a field project.

Prerequisite(s): FSM2099 or FSM3001 or HOSP2099 or SEE2020 or TRVL2099.

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL3060 Managing Airports

This course familiarizes students with the U.S. and international aspects of managing airports. The course focuses on the organization and management functions of airports, the specific needs the airport owners, local community, airlines as users and the flying markets.

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore status

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL3065 Managing Airlines

The course focuses on the organization and management functions of the airline industry: network flows, flight scheduling, fleet assignment, aircraft routing, crew scheduling, manpower planning, revenue management, gate assignment, aircraft boarding strategy, and marketing. The course emphasizes the current changes and trends in the airline industry.

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore status.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL3080 Dynamics of the Cruise Industry

This course acquaints students with the modern cruise industry. Students identify the role of cruise lines in the travel and tourism industry, develop a detailed foundation and knowledge of the various cruise line products and destinations, understand the various career opportunities available, as well as recognize how to sell a cruise. Ship inspections are offered during the course.

Offered at Miami, Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL3081 Cruise Operations

This course presents a survey of both onboard and shoreside cruise operations. Examination of onboard activities includes embarkation/debarkation, hotel staff, entertainment, shore excursions, security, etc. Shoreside operations include reservations, air/sea, finance, purchasing, itinerary development, legal, human resources, etc. The process of how cruise lines negotiate with various outside vendors and agents is also examined.

Prerequisite(s): TRVL3080.

Offered at Miami, Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL3082 Cruise Marketing and Sales

This course deals with the broad scope of marketing a cruise line product. Emphasis is placed on the analysis, structure and the strategies of the cruise marketing department. Various promotional activities are examined including TV, radio and print advertising as well as direct mail, the Internet and the retail travel agency distribution system. Students have an opportunity to visit and meet with cruise line marketing and sales departments.

Prerequisite(s): TRVL3080.

Offered at Miami, Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL3801 Winter Resort and Adventure Management

This course provides the student with a solid foundation of knowledge related to the winter adventure resort and focuses on all aspects of operation and program development. The course also offers opportunities for a field project. The class is an inter-term offering between the winter and spring terms only. Students are required to participate in all off campus activities with the designated industry partners.

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore status.

Offered at Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL4010 Tourism Economics

This upper-level course explores the role of economics in tourism development. Macroeconomic and microeconomic theory are applied to problems of community resource allocation. Particular attention is paid to the problems of multiple use of community resources and to the conflicts between private and public goals.

Prerequisite(s): TRVL3010.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TRVL4011 Destination Management Organization

This course integrates the administrative functions of a destination management or marketing organization (DMO). The interrelationships of operations, marketing and finance are analyzed and evaluated. A directed work project may be an integral part of this course.

Prerequisite(s): HOSP3050 or MRKT1001. (HO) (WI)

CAD1000 Computer-Aided Drafting I

This course presents to the student the terminology, system hardware, disk operating system, AutoCAD software, and various screen displays necessary to perform the basic computer aided drafting functions.

Prerequisite(s): Corequisite: CAD1L00.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

6 Quarter Credit Hours

CAD1020 Computer-Aided Drafting II

This is an intermediate level course in which the student produces drawings in the various phases architectural, electronic, and mechanical CAD. These drawings are produced in two-dimensional views using features of the AutoCAD main menu. Students become familiar with accessing and using the drawing editor with advanced commands and an emphasis on productivity; an introduction to line and menu customization; 3D wireframe/surface/solid modeling and analysis. Related lab projects are included.

Prerequisite(s): CAD1000, CAD1L00, Corequisite: CAD1L20.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

6 Quarter Credit Hours

CAD1030 3D Parametric Modeling

This is an advanced level course in which students use commands and techniques related to 3-D modeling and analysis, and parametric drafting using several parametric modeling software packages to create parts, assemblies and drawings to industry standards. Related lab projects are included.

Prerequisite(s): Corequisite: CAD1L30.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

6 Quarter Credit Hours

CAD1L00 Computer-Aided Drafting I Lab

Related lab projects are developed from CAD1000 Computer-Aided Drafting I to enhance a student's ability to reinforce drafting concepts, software commands, and file management.

Prerequisite(s): Corequisite: CAD1000. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

1 Quarter Credit Hour

CAD1L20 Computer-Aided Drafting II Lab

Related lab projects are developed from CAD1020 (Computer-Aided Drafting II) to enhance a student's ability to reinforce drafting concepts, software commands and file management.

Prerequisite(s): Corequisite: CAD1020. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

1 Quarter Credit Hour

CAD1L30 3D Parametric Modeling Lab

Related lab projects are developed from CAD1030 Computer-Aided Drafting III to enhance a student's ability to reinforce drafting concepts, software commands and file management.

Prerequisite(s): Corequisite: CAD1030. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

CAD2000 Portfolio Development

Students are required to prepare a portfolio containing a selection of their best drawings from each of the basic drafting principles. Each student presents his/her portfolio to the instructor for critique and grading.

Prerequisite(s): CAD2020, CAD2040. (WI)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

1.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CAD2020 Mechanical CAD

This course develops standard industry practices used in CAD for mechanical applications. Basic drafting topics introduced, but not limited to, are multiview projection, dimension theory and GD&T, sections, auxiliary views, pictorial drawings, basic machine parts, cams, gears, threads and fasteners. Students develop drafting conventions through sequences and revisions. Related lab assignments are based on individual projects and team projects.

Prerequisite(s): CAD1030, CAD1L30. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CAD2030 Principles of Design

This course is an introduction to the fundamental elements of the design process, basic objectives of analysis, construction, and evaluation of engineering problem solving. Some topics developed, include, but are not limited to, the design team, components of design theory, creativity, open-ended problem solving, alternative solutions, and the positioning of design in the product development scheme.

Prerequisite(s): CAD1030, CAD1L30. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CAD2040 Architectural CAD

This course develops standard industry practices used in CAD for architectural applications. Basic drafting topics introduced include, but are not limited to, residential, commercial, structural applications for floor plans, foundation plans, elevations, sections, details and pictorial drawings. The use of national, state and legal code is integrated with theory. Related lab assignments are based on individual projects and team projects.

Prerequisite(s): CAD1020, CAD1L20.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CAD2050 Computer-Aided Network Design

This course is an introduction to computer-aided design of logical and physical network layouts. The core of this course is basic networking documentation control and standardization as used in industry to develop a generic method of system and product development and revision procedures. Topics developed include but are not limited to, standardization procedures within an organization, schematic and block diagrams of networks, bill of materials, revision of drawings, use of universal symbols, NEC codes, floorplans and blueprints, and use of sources to obtain information and send and receive electronic files.

Prerequisite(s): ITEC1020 or permission of department chair. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

6 Quarter Credit Hours

CAD2055 Introduction to Building Information Modeling

This course is an introduction to Building Information Modeling (BIM), which is an Architectural parametric application, from design concept to managing a completed facility. This course integrates theory and lab experiences using industry software to develop digital building models. Topics covered include but are not limited to, the history of BIM, developing building models, extracting documents and modifying building elements, presentation graphics and annotations, and integrating best practices of project management.

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore status.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CAD2059 Introduction to Computer-Integrated Manufacturing (CIM)

This course presents students with the terminology and practical experience of following the development of a product through concept, design development, manufacturing and product distribution. Topics covered include but are not limited to, computer aided design, concurrent engineering, "just-in-time" manufacturing, materials and product management, and communication of ideas from sales representatives to production engineers.

Prerequisite(s): CAD1030, CAD1L30.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CAD2061 CAD Applications

This course develops standard industry practices used in CAD for applications related to plumbing, electrical/electronic, HVAC, welding and sheet metal fabrication. The use of ANSI standards and building code applications are the basis for development of individual and team projects.

Prerequisite(s): CAD1030, CAD1130. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CAD3015 Engineering Graphics and Design

This course is an introduction to computer-aided design drafting for 3D parametric applications, using related equipment and software. The core of this course is basic engineering documentation control and standardization as used in industry to develop a generic method of system and product development and revision procedures. After gaining basic skills with industry standard software, students will engage in a design project that explores typical physical layout and 3D design issues commonly faced by electronics engineers. Rapid prototyping methods (including laser cutting and 3d printing) will be explored.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CAD3070 Introduction to CAD/CAM and Lab

This course is a continuation of CAD1030, building on the general concepts of parametric modeling, applying the methodology of using parameters to create dynamic 3D models. The models are then transformed into manufacturing models using concepts of two- and three-axis machine tool paths. Concepts of computer numerical control machine technology (CNC), rapid prototyping and simulation modeling software are used.

Prerequisite(s): CAD1030 or ENGN3020 or permission of department chair.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

6 Quarter Credit Hours

CGRA2020 Web Site Design Concepts

Students are introduced to the tools and processes of Web page development. Students utilize industry-standard software when designing, coding and building websites. Instruction includes immersion project-based study, client interaction and group design critique. Students are introduced to site planning, best practice and development cycle methods. Students produce a digital portfolio of Web design elements and development work.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1000 or CSIS1020 or CSIS1040. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CGRA2030 Multimedia Applications I

Students are introduced to multimedia concepts and best practices for implementation in various industry settings. The coursework focuses on the incorporation of sound, graphics, color, text, and other elements into industry-standard multimedia software. Use of multimedia as a tool for ideal communications is implemented. Scripting is introduced and used throughout the multimedia course sequence as a tool for multimedia project development. Students learn the various uses for multimedia and how they are implemented within the industry.

Prerequisite(s): FIT1000 or FIT1012. (HY)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CGRA3040 Information Architecture and Content Planning

This course provides an overview of planning and designing information for dynamic and interactive media solutions. Whether designing a website, an interactive tutorial, or a multimedia program, this course provides an introduction to design and planning strategies, tools and techniques. The course introduces software and technology used as tools in the planning process. It covers industry standard approaches to visualizing information flow and planning user interactivity. Strategies for communication goals and requirements are reviewed. Content development and revision control for different communication problems including linear text, hypertext, simulation and video are covered. Essential pre-production techniques such as flowcharting, storyboarding, scripting, publishing layout, mock-up and prototyping are introduced. Content management techniques are reviewed. Students should possess a solid knowledge of computer and Internet use.

Prerequisite(s): FIT1014 or FIT1040. (HO) (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CGRA3050 Desktop Publishing

This course introduces students to the fundamental principles of desktop publishing. Using current industry-standard software, students learn the essential design concepts and work flow practice used in desktop publishing. In-class demonstrations and lectures involve the introduction of design theory and practical applications of desktop publishing. Students are required to produce various types of documents using course software. Assignments are completed in class, with some assignments requiring out-of-class work.

Prerequisite(s): FIT1000 or FIT1012 or FSM2080 or HOSP1008 or SEE3010. (HO) (PT)

Offered at Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS1000 Problem Solving and Programming Concepts

This introductory course teaches students the fundamentals of problem solving in computer programming. Students learn to use both textual and graphic algorithms as problem-solving tools. In hands-on learning exercises, students work from a problem statement, conduct a task analysis to solve the problem, decide what data is needed to solve the problem, create a visual representation of their solution, and then convert the visual representation to a textual step-by-step statement of their solution. Students use a range of tools currently used in industry, including functional decomposition diagrams, flowcharts, UML diagrams, use cases, metadata charts, data flow documents and pseudocode. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS1020 Fundamentals of C Programming

This introductory programming course teaches students how to program in the C computer language, a fundamental skill for technology professionals. Students learn how to design and develop computer programs using standard strategies and techniques used in industry. Topics covered include how programs are structured, how arrays and strings can be processed, and how files are manipulated.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1000 or FIT1012 or FIT1025. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS1040 Fundamentals of Visual Basic

This course provides an introduction to visual programming and GUI development. Students learn to use a multitude of visual tools, statements, properties and events to create and execute applications in a Visual Studio.NET environment. File access for various file types is presented. Relational databases are examined in relation to how they are created and can be accessed using visual basic programming.

Prerequisite(s): FIT1012 or equivalent. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS1050 Data Structures

This course provides students with an understanding of the various structures used for internal storage and the processing of data. The course presents the concepts of data storage in memory for various processing techniques. Linear and non-linear organization of data and various access methods are presented in both static and dynamic memory allocation. The rationale for each approach is presented and discussed. Storage structures and access methods presented include stacks, queues, linked lists and trees. Students are responsible for the design and implementation of the various items discussed in lecture through both individual and team related projects.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1020 or CSIS1040. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS1060 GUI Concepts

This course provides students with an understanding of a Graphical User Interface environment. Students are introduced to how Windows works with the file hardware. All students customize and configure the Windows environment. Topics include ini file, program, winfile, control panel, device managers, terminal, paintbrush, creating shortcuts, and X windows.

Prerequisite(s): FIT1000 or FIT1012.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS1070 Diagnostics and Maintenance

This course provides students with the knowledge and expertise to isolate faults in computer systems, using the desktop computer as a model. Using the systems approach, students learn the subsections of a computer system and their functions. Typical problems with each subsection and the impact of these problems on the operation of the entire system are discussed. The course introduces students to diagnostic software and fault analysis techniques through out-of-class work using standard tools and representative computer diagnostic software.

Prerequisite(s): FIT1000 or FIT1012. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS2020 Business Programming I with COBOL

This course provides students with an understanding of the use of programming in the business community. Students learn how to program statements, translate into standard operations for generating reports and use files in a business environment. Students also examine how various types of storage and programming structures are implemented in the programming language. In addition, students perform problem solving in the area of simple business functions, and design, chart, code, debug, test, execute and document programs. Topics include accessing files, decision structure, looping structures, report design, program structure, data types, data manipulation, tables and control break processing.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1000 or CSIS1020 or CSIS1040.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS2025 Introduction to Server Side Technologies

This course emphasizes the fundamentals of server-side web development using industry-standard high-level environments. Students are introduced to concepts and practices including functionality, typical applications in a business setting, technologies and terminology. Client-side interaction is covered to the extent of making Web forms that connect to a data source with some JavaScript used for field validation. Server application and system architecture is emphasized.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1020 or CSIS1040 or DME1060, junior status (PT). (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS2030 Database Concepts

This course introduces students to the function of a database environment. The importance of databases to modern systems development provides the motivation for examining data structures and models as they relate to user needs. Relational data models are emphasized along with query languages and user-friendly packages. The various data structures and file storage techniques used with hierarchical, network and relational data management issues are developed. Out-of-class assignments are completed by all students.

Prerequisite(s): FIT1014 or FIT1040. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS2045 Introduction to Operating Systems

This course includes a survey of the functional characteristics of complex operating systems and an introduction to the basic techniques of operating systems design. The course discusses the topics of hardware configuration, channel operation, interrupts, register functions, multiprogramming, multiprocessing, timesharing and JCL.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1020 or CSIS1040. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS2050 Advanced Programming Concepts

This course is designed to provide the student with an advanced understanding of the relationship between hardware and software through the use of higher level language (C programming language) facilities. The student will learn how to create programs that interface with computer peripherals. Program design, coding, debugging, testing, execution and documentation will be reinforced.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1020. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS2055 Introduction to Game Development

This course introduces the student to the fundamental principles of animated game design. Aesthetic and cultural aspects of design include art and modeling, sound and music, history of games, genre analysis, role of violence, gender issues in games, game balance, and careers in the industry. Programmers, artists, musicians, and writers collaborate to produce an original computer game. Focus is placed on developing games and mastering animation techniques used in games for the Web. In-class lectures consist of classical animation concepts and practical software demonstrations related to game development. Students are required to work in groups to produce various types of animated projects. Students also learn methods to optimize and render animations for web delivery.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1040.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS2060 Object-Oriented Programming in C++

Object-oriented programming examines programs as a set of objects and explores how the objects are interrelated. Using the C++ programming language, students study the concepts of data encapsulation, attributes, methods and messages within the class structure. They also study the ability of C++ to create in-line functions, operator and function overloading, inheritance and virtual classes. Students design, code, debug and execute various assignments using the C++ programming language in the Visual Studio.NET integrated development environment.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1020.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS2065 Java Programming

This course provides students with the knowledge and skill necessary for object-oriented programming of advanced Java applications. Students learn Java programming language syntax and object-oriented concepts, as well as more sophisticated features of the Java runtime environment, such as support for graphical user interfaces (GUIs), multithreading and networking. This course covers prerequisite knowledge to prepare students for the Sun Certified Programmer for the Java Platform and the Sun Certified Developer for the Java Platform examinations.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1020 or CSIS1040.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS2070 Business Programming II with COBOL

Students write business-level programs to solve intermediate-level financial and business problems. They are introduced to such subjects as subscribing, indexing, sorting, complex file handling and creating server-side applications. Students are also introduced to the selection criteria for choosing between different software with Web pages and relational databases. Students implement and test their developed programs.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS2020. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS2075 Interface Design for Mobile Devices

This course addresses the unique features and limitations of small, mobile computing devices such as smartphones and tablets. These devices are different from the traditional computing platforms in that they typically do not have mechanical keyboards or pointing devices, but use touch screens as the primary interface. The use of the screen as both the input and output device, the small size of the device, and the added features such as telephony, global positioning, accelerometer, and camera provide both challenges and opportunities for the application developer. This course will prepare the student for application development for mobile computing devices.

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore status.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS2080 Database Design

The use of fourth and fifth generation tools in database environments is becoming more prevalent. This course provides a foundation for that systems development effort by systematically examining the procedures and tools used in designing a database. This course emphasizes the relational model. Students study normal forms, decomposition, synthesis, semantic modeling, network and hierarchical models. All students complete out-of-class assignments.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS2030.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS3030 Server Side Programming I

This course introduces contemporary scripting language to teach fundamental concepts and techniques for programming in a browser based environment. This course explores data representation, manipulation and how interactive data feeds information on a web page. Current scripting languages is used.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS2025. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS3040 Server Side Programming II

This advanced programming course focuses on data interaction and transaction processing in a client server environment. Students utilize current client and server side compiled programming languages to architect and implement web applications. This course emphasizes current industry best practices using compiled code in current programming environments.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS3030.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS3050 2D Game Development with C#

This course is an introduction to the concepts related to game development. Students are introduced to the basics of game development of a two dimensional game using sprites and animation. The programming language used is C#. Students are introduced to the methods used for creating sprites, animation, detecting collisions, player control, and incorporating music and sound into the game. Students also design backgrounds and provide animation for the backgrounds to simulate movement of the sprites.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1040 OR CSIS2060 or CSIS2055, CSIS2065.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS3060 Game Engine Design

This course provides the student with an understanding of the fundamentals required for creating a game engine. This is accomplished through the investigation of existing game engine subsystems to understand how they work along with projects to design and build individual subsystems for a student-created game engine. Students are required to demonstrate their subsystems through the use of game projects that incorporate their subsystems into a functioning game.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS3050, MATH1020.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS3070 Exploring Mobile Application Development with the I-Phone

The purpose of this course is to make students familiar with the fundamentals of mobile platform development. This course teaches the basics of Objective-C, Cocoa Touch, and the iPhone SDK in order to explore the limitations and concerns associated with handheld device user interfaces as well as features such as acceleration detection, location-awareness, multi-touch input, and real-time notification.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1020 or CSIS1040 or CSIS2065 or permission of department chair.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

CSIS3075 Mobile Application Development with Android

The purpose of this course is to extend the student's programming interest and talents into the mobile platform. Students are taught to install and configure the Android development toolkit on a personal computer; and to design and code mobile applications that includes the use of services that the Android operating system provides on the mobile platform.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS2060 or CSIS2065 or permission of department chair. (HY)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME1000 Foundation Drawing and Digital Tools

As a prerequisite to all design thinking, drawing skills offer an effective means of prototyping visual solutions before committing them to software. Students practice the essential visual elements of design including shape, line, value and perspective. Based on graphics industry models, students actively experience compositional and thematic principles as a means of developing flexible approaches to design strategy. Students create initial sketches on paper then learn techniques to digitize files into common software applications. Drawings are integrated into digital portfolios. (OL) (PT)
Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Online, Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME1020 Digital Media Perspectives

This course provides students with an overview of the digital media industry, historical design trends and history of the creative industries. Students participate in a number of project-oriented experiences to explore, learn and develop basic skills and practices to be successful in the program and industry. Through hands-on projects in collaborative learning space, students are exposed to all the critical components of success in design program at a university level. Work includes digital design projects, digital visualization, creative research, and team building. The course develops creative problem solving techniques to provide solutions for design problems ranging from digital publishing to 3D virtual space.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME1030 Principles of Visualization and Design

This course covers fundamental visual research skills and design behaviors required to develop professional visual solutions in the graphics industry. Through applied research and projects, students learn to observe, analyze and strategize visual solutions. Design case studies are used to identify compositional principles that are applied to students' creative projects. Students use traditional media and digital media to create and exhibit portfolio level work. Case studies introduce students to major contemporary design movements in the field.

Prerequisite(s): DME1020 or any FIT course. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME1040 Introduction to Client Side Development

This course presents an introduction to contemporary standards-based Web development. Students study the history of the Internet and the evolution of the Web, along with best practices of modern Web design. Students work with industry-standard software products and study XHTML and CSS in a project-based learning environment.

Prerequisite(s): DME1020, FIT1012.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME1050 Imaging for Digital Media

Students learn digital image production techniques in significant detail. Topics include digital photography, scanning, color correction, image manipulation and montage. Students learn current industry standards and requirements to create solutions for digital media. Students are introduced to multimedia editing concepts and practice. This course includes projects in which students are expected to complete design work individually and on teams.

Prerequisite(s): DME1030 (or concurrent), FIT1012. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME1060 Advanced Client Side Development

This advanced course is a continuation of DME1040, Introduction to Client-side Development. Students continue the study of standards-based client-side Web development languages and software in a cross platform environment. Approaches to design, development, testing and deploying Web-based services are explored. Current industry best practices are emphasized.

Prerequisite(s): DME1040. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME2000 Typography and Spatial Design

Type and text collateral are a critical platform for all forms of published communication. Type style, shape and size communicate subtle messages and convey important information. Nearly all design solutions benefit from a thoughtful and creative use of type and layout, whether on a printed page or in digital space. This course presents an in-depth study of typography and its powerful communicative abilities. The relationship of typographic design in desktop and digital publishing are explored through project-based work.

Prerequisite(s): DME1050. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME2020 Introduction to Motion Graphics

This course introduces the fundamentals of contemporary digital motion graphics. Students cover both animation and video techniques. Digital motion concepts and creation techniques are also covered. The course uses a range of software and hardware tools. Students experiment with motion image origination through basic animation and camera applications. Various editing tools are introduced.

Prerequisite(s): DME1050. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME2030 Print Design

In an age of digital media the printed publication serves a unique communication purpose. The visual, structural and tactile nature of printed pages continues to be an important source of information for a variety of audiences. This course reviews print formats, typographic conventions and prepress techniques specific to print. Design processes incorporating layout, color, image and type are used as students learn industry approaches to print solutions. This course is intended for both majors and non-majors.

Prerequisite(s): DME2000 or any FIT course for non-majors. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME2040 Portfolio Assessment

This survey course requires students to complete projects that demonstrate their mastery of the preceding five terms of digital media foundations course material. Through guided exercises and materials students assemble their best, completed work and create new projects to demonstrate breadth and depth of skill. The portfolio consists of exhibition quality digital source material and printed materials. Students provide a presentation to describe solutions and submit their final portfolio for review by a select committee of faculty and industry professionals. Application for concentration is also prepared and reviewed at this time. Upon successful completion of this course, students advance to a selected digital media concentration and the Solutions Teams in the junior year.

Prerequisite(s): DME2020. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME2050 Interactive Architecture and Content Design

Designing solutions for interactive digital space requires an understanding of unique architectural planning models, scenarios, structures and metaphors. This course introduces a series of techniques to conceive and plan projects in new media environments, especially those that require interactive interface and plot lines. Through use-case models, students explore and design solutions for interactive applications, simulations, virtual immersive space and other new media uses. User interface, perspective, point of view, character development, narrative structure are introduced. Technical requirements planning is also explored. Various digital software and hardware is used to model interactive and linear prototypes.

Prerequisite(s): DME2020. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME3010 Digital Media Design Solutions Team I

Solutions Team or TECX (Technology Experiential Education) is the university internship that provides students with hands-on design and development projects from real world clients. Based in the Feinstein Center for Technology & Design for Non-Profits, students work on a wide range of team based digital design projects from desktop publishing to digital media. The results of students work are used in the day-to-day operations of dozens of client organizations. Faculty members oversee the internship, upper-class students serve as project managers and lead designers, and underclass students serve as design team members. Solutions Team is the direct application of skills learned in the classroom and meets the university's community service-learning requirement.

Prerequisite(s): DME2040. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME3020 Digital Media Design Solutions Team II

Solutions Team II or TECX (Technology Experiential Education) is the university internship that provides students with hands-on design and development projects from real world clients. Based in the Feinstein Center for Technology & Design, students work on a wide range of team-based digital design projects from desktop publishing to digital media. The results of students work are used in the day-to-day operations of dozens of non-profit client organizations. Faculty members oversee the internship, upper-class students serve as project managers and lead designers, and underclass students serve as design team members. Solutions Team is the direct application of skills learned in the classroom and meets the university's community service-learning requirement.

Prerequisite(s): DME3010. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME3110 Multimedia Programming

This course builds on the Introduction to Motion Graphics course, with advanced concepts and programming techniques and approaches. Students are introduced to the technical planning and production of interactive media using variable input and output scenarios. Students develop advanced experience in use of industry best practices for current multimedia development.

Prerequisite(s): DME2020. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME3115 Emerging Web Technologies

This course covers emerging trends in web technologies. Topics are drawn from conferences, publications, and the local technology community. The course places emerging developments in a historical context. Students complete projects utilizing new technologies and present their work to the JWU community.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS3030.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME3120 Character Animation

This course introduces the student to the fundamental principles of character animation using scripting and visual software. Focus is placed on creating and developing animated characters and mastering animation techniques used in character animation for the Web. In-class lectures consist of classical animation concepts and practical software demonstrations related to character animation. Students are required to produce various types of animated projects using a range of scripting and image-based software applications. Students also learn methods to optimize and render animations for Web delivery.

Prerequisite(s): DME2020.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME3130 Computer Animation

This course introduces students to various advanced animation techniques, including 2D key cell animation, motion and kinematics, lighting and materials, modeling, 3D key frame animation, physically based simulation, special effects, story boarding, and cinematography. Students work individually and in groups to create an original short work of animated simulation including digital stage and narrative structure.

Prerequisite(s): DME2020.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME3140 Integrated Motion Graphics

Students participating in this course learn advanced digital production techniques and tools for full motion, sound and video editing. Students explore current and emerging media standards and applications. Topics include converging digital media, content creation, and use of digital media communication tools for Internet-enabled application. Students work independently and on project teams.

Prerequisite(s): DME2020. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME3210 Print Production

In this course students acquire essential print design and pre-press skills. Students further develop proficiency in industry-standard software programs. Students learn how to prepare digital images, illustrations, layouts, typography, composition, visual identity, and utilize color theory. Students also develop sensitivity towards principle of balance, negative space, focal points in a composition, and how to utilize alternative techniques and approaches to composition. Students acquire the knowledge to prepare mechanical files for print production as well as understanding the industry pre-press language.

Prerequisite(s): DME2030.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME3220 Intermediate Print

This course is geared towards intermediate/advanced Graphic Design & Digital Media students. The course is an immersion into the print identity process from research and analysis through strategy, design and presentation. Utilizing industry-standard software programs students learn how to design identity systems that are unique, memorable, meaningful, appropriate and differentiated from competitors. In addition students gain a better understanding of brand standards, competitors, research analysis, target audiences and cohesiveness across different forms of digital media.

Prerequisite(s): DME3210.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME3230 Advanced Print

This course is geared towards intermediate/advanced Graphic Design & Digital Media students. Utilizing industry-standard software programs students undertake advanced level print design projects. Class assignments and projects explore scenarios in advertising, branding, packaging, logo design, and print publishing. Students further develop sensitivity towards design and produce several professional level design projects to help build a senior-level portfolio.

Prerequisite(s): DME3220.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME3300 Introduction to Digital Video

Students participating in this course learn advanced digital production techniques and tools for full motion, sound and video editing. Students explore current and emerging media standards and applications. Topics include converging digital media, content creation, and use of digital media communication tools for internet enabled application. Students work independently and on project teams.

Prerequisite(s): DME2020. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME3310 Intermediate Digital Video

Students in this advanced course explore different genres and narrative codes including documentaries, TV ads and post-modern narratives in hands-on team assignments. Exercises in set lighting, advanced framing and advanced camera movement enhance already acquired production techniques.

Additional sound and audio production as well as more in-depth digital editing and special effects are provided for post-production. Topics include contemporary digital media history and film genres. Financing and project management are reviewed. The final project of this course is a production suitable for short film festivals or competitions.

Prerequisite(s): DME3300. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME4010 Digital Media Team I

Students in this projects-based course work in multidisciplinary teams to produce functioning new media products and prototypes. The course focuses on a rapid development timeline in which students use advanced skills and theory gained in their course of study. Projects are developed using current digital tools in a studio environment, and originate from a variety of sources. Students present and critique parameters, plans and solutions at all stages of the project through the term.

Prerequisite(s): DME3020. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME4020 Digital Media Team II

This course is a follow-up to Senior Digital Media Team I. Students in this projects-based course work in multidisciplinary teams to produce functioning digital media products and prototypes. The course focuses on a rapid development timeline in which students use advanced skills and theory gained in their course of study. Projects are developed using current digital tools in a studio environment, and originate from a variety of sources. Students present and critique parameters, plans and solutions at all stages of the project through the term.

Prerequisite(s): DME4010. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

DME4050 Senior Portfolio Assessment

This capstone Digital Media course guides students through the creation of a portfolio in their chosen area of expertise. Students complete additional projects as necessary to demonstrate their mastery of material to potential employers. Students publicly present their work to a panel of faculty and industry experts.

Prerequisite(s): Senior status. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENG1001 Digital Logic Design I

This course is an introduction to analysis and design of digital circuits. Topics include numbering systems, logic gates, Boolean algebra, MSI devices, and analysis and design of combinational circuits. This course includes the use of software tools for design, minimization, simulation, and schematic capture of digital systems. A hands-on laboratory including PLD/FPGA is integrated in which students work in teams. (HO)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENG1010 Introduction to Circuit Theory and Lab

The primary focus of this course is upon the current, voltage and resistance dynamics within series, parallel and series/parallel circuits. Emphasis is upon the understanding and application of Ohm's law and Kirchoff's Voltage and Current Laws. The principles and applications of alternating current (AC) circuit fundamentals are addressed with RL, RC and RLC circuits with sinusoidal inputs.

Prerequisite(s): MATH1020 (or concurrent) or math placement. (PT)

Offered at Providence

6 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN1030 Solid State I: Devices and Lab

This course covers theory and characteristics of common semi-conductor devices; the basic circuits in which they are used are presented. Analytical models for these devices and circuits are developed. The terminology, symbols, and applications of diodes, zener diodes and bipolar transistors (BJT) are examined. The laboratory section provides students with practical application experiences related to the subject material presented within the theory and analysis lectures. Emphasis is placed on both the breadboarding and simulation of circuits to determine device/component performance and operating conditions.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN1010. (PT)

Offered at Providence

6 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN2000 Robotics

This course introduces students to the basic concept and applications of robotics. The study of robotics includes the supporting disciplines of mechanics, motors, microprocessors, various sensors and artificial intelligence. The course covers the concepts of work envelope, real-time programming, and the theory of electrical, pneumatic and hydraulic servo control systems. Also, the theory and application of various sensors including temperature, proximity, ultrasonic and vision sensors, the use of microprocessors, microprocessor interfacing, and artificial intelligence in robotic systems is covered. Industrial applications in the areas of automotive and semiconductor manufacturing as well as medical and aerospace applications are described. The course includes a lab session on robotic work cell.

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore status. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN2002 Digital Logic Design II

The focus of this course is the analysis and design of sequential logic circuits. Topics include asynchronous and synchronous sequential circuit analysis and design, state machine analysis and design, and ASM design methodologies utilizing PLD and FPGA implementations. This course includes the use of software tools for design, minimization, simulation, and schematic capture of digital systems. A hands-on PLD/FPGA based laboratory is included.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN1001 (HO) (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN2003 Circuit Theory I

This course provides a firm foundation in DC circuit analysis. The goals of this course include developing an ability to solve engineering problems to design, implement and test circuits to meet design specifications. Emphasis is upon the understanding and application of Ohm's law and Kirchhoff's Voltage and Current Laws in resistive networks. Methods of linear systems analysis are introduced including Thevenin's and Norton's theorems and the superposition principle.

Prerequisite(s): MATH1040 (or concurrent), Corequisite: ENGN2004.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN2004 Circuit Theory I Lab

Laboratory project activities requiring design, simulation, implementation, measurement and testing of circuits to meet design specifications. Labs are designed to reinforce concepts discussed in Circuit Theory I, ENGN2003.

Prerequisite(s): MATH1040 (or concurrent), Corequisite: ENGN2003.

Offered at Providence

1 Quarter Credit Hour

ENGN2005 Circuit Theory II

This course focuses on the principles and applications of alternating current (AC) circuit fundamentals essential to the study of RL, RC and RLC circuit. The use of complex numbers and phasor analysis are used to analyze AC passive network circuits. The concepts of maximum power transfer, resonance and passive filters are also covered.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN2003, ENGN2004, MATH1040 (or concurrent),

Corequisite: ENGN2006.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN2006 Circuit Theory II Lab

Laboratory project activities requiring design, simulation, implementation, measurement and testing of circuits to meet design specifications. Labs are designed to reinforce concepts discussed in Circuit Theory II, ENGN2005.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN2003, ENGN2004, MATH1040 (or concurrent),

Corequisite: ENGN2005.

Offered at Providence

1 Quarter Credit Hour

ENGN2007 Circuit Theory III

This course focuses on the characteristics and application of semiconductor devices in circuit design. The terminology, symbols, and applications of switching and rectifier diodes, Zener diodes and bipolar (BJT) transistors are examined. Circuit applications of power supplies, voltage regulation, small-signal amplifiers and power amplifiers are included.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN2005, ENGN2006, MATH1040 (or concurrent),

Corequisite: ENGN2008.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN2008 Circuit Theory III Lab

Laboratory project activities requiring design, simulation, implementation, measurement and testing of circuits to meet design specifications. Labs are designed to reinforce concepts discussed in Circuit Theory III, ENGN2007.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN2005, ENGN2006, MATH1040 (or concurrent),

Corequisite: ENGN2007.

Offered at Providence

1 Quarter Credit Hour

ENGN2020 Transform Methods for Engineering

This course covers the time and frequency analysis of linear systems involving Fourier series, the Fourier and Laplace transforms. Transfer function analysis and synthesis principles are developed and placed into application settings. The role of the Laplace transform in network analysis including steady-state AC analysis is addressed. Equivalent state space models are developed.

Prerequisite(s): MATH1041. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN2030 Electronic Communications

This course introduces students to the theory and applications of electronic communications. Topics include review of electromagnetic theory and the principle of modulation and demodulation including amplitude, frequency and phase modulation. Principles of signal transmission and reception including DSB and SSB communication and description of basic hardware are covered. Computer simulations are used to illustrate various concepts regarding transmission and reception of signals, modulation and demodulation, and spectrum analysis of signals.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN2007 and ENGN2008, or ENGN1030.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN2040 Solid State II: Electronic Circuits and Lab

This second course on solid state electronics provides students with in-depth knowledge in non-bipolar transistors, circuits and their applications. Topics include JFET transistors, MOSFET transistors, thyristors, differential amplifiers, operational amplifiers, negative feedbacks, linear Op-Amp, active filters, and non-linear Op-Amp circuits and their applications. The laboratory portion of this course provides students with technical application and design of amplifiers, feedback, elements in the active electronic circuits, and active filters.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN1030.

Offered at Providence

6 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN2045 Computer Vision

This course provides an introduction to the basic elements of computer vision to all majors. Emphasis is placed on intuitive and practical aspects of computer vision with very limited theory and math. The course involves intensive computer lab work and may include a project using the vision system of the "Mentor" robot that is used in the robotic course. The computer lab includes some applications in image processing.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1020 or CSIS1040.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENG2061 Mechatronics

This basic course covers the analysis, design and synthesis of microprocessor based systems developing projects to combine electronics, mechanical components and real-time programming. The course provides a review of microprocessor interfacing for discrete, digital and analog data, ADC and DAC, and the study and application of various sensors including tactile, light, proximity, position, velocity and acceleration. Optical encoders for angular motion data and other advanced sensing are also covered. The operation principles of electric, hydraulic and pneumatic power supplies are discussed as well as those of actuators, DC and stepper motors and their basic concept in control theory also is covered, including PID control. The course also covers the concepts and calculations of gearing, programming and multi-tasking for microprocessor-based systems. Wireless communication and speech synthesis robotic systems are also discussed.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1020, ENGN2000, ENGN2080.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENG2062 Artificial Intelligence

This course introduces students to the basic concepts of artificial intelligence, including some applications. The course first introduces the different methods of representing knowledge and inference methods. It is then followed by the study of rule based expert system, fuzzy expert systems and artificial neural networks. There is also a brief introduction to the area of evolutionary computation and genetic programming. Basic method of shape recognition and classifiers are discussed. Some probability theory and Bayesian analysis is covered in the course. Illustration and projects use the Neural Network and Image Processing toolbox of MATLAB.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1020, MATH1030.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENG2063 Advanced Robotics

This is a design course incorporating the material studied in the areas of mechatronics, artificial intelligence and computer vision. The course is based on robotic design using the Handy Board, including microprocessor interface for data acquisition of discrete, digital and analog data, robot kinematics, sensor design and sensor interfacing, communication, speech synthesis and real-time programming. The course utilizes interactive C as the programming tool.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN2000, ENGN2061.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENG2070 Signal Transmission

The course provides in-depth knowledge in both theory and applications of signaling and transmissions. Topics include signals, basic signal conversions, analog and digital signal transmissions, interfacing, switching principles and photonic switching.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN2040 or ITEC1020, MATH1020 or higher. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENG2075 Microcontrollers I

This is an introductory course in microcontrollers. Topics covered include microcontroller architecture, instruction set, assembly language programming, subroutines, basic microcontroller peripherals, the interdependence of hardware and software, input/output subsystems, and microcontroller application development tools and platforms.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN1001, ENGN2002

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENG2080 Microcontrollers II

This is an advanced course in microcontrollers. Topics covered include interrupts, high-level language programming, advanced microcontroller peripherals, interfacing concepts, and performance optimization.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN2075

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENG2085 Introduction to Embedded Systems

This is an introductory course in embedded systems, which is a project-oriented design course. Topics covered include embedded system architectures, memory systems and managements, sensors integrations, power managements, software development tools and platforms, and real-time operating systems.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS1020, ENGN2075 (HO)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENG3000 Materials and Process Engineering

This course develops the general properties of materials, defined as plastic, ferrous, nonferrous and ceramics used in product development. Properties of materials are applied to industrial applications to achieve optimum designs. Process engineering concepts are developed from conversion of raw materials into finished products using manufacturing methods to optimize production of parts.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENG3004 Circuit Theory IV

This course focuses on the characteristics and application of field effect transistors (FETs). The terminology and symbols of FETs are examined. Amplifiers and switching circuit applications are included. Laboratory exercises, both hands-on and simulation are integrated to reinforce the theory presented in lecture with practical applications to determine device/component performance and operating conditions.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN2007, ENGN2008, MATH1041.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENG3005 Circuit Theory V

This course focuses on the characteristics and application of operational amplifiers (OpAmps). The principles of feedback, open and closed loop operation, and inverting and non-inverting operation of operational amplifiers are explored as is the linear and non-linear operation of the OpAmp. Applications utilizing op-amps including its use as an integrator, differentiator, comparator and active filters are also included. Laboratory projects, both hands-on and simulation are integrated to reinforce the theory presented in lecture with practical applications to determine device/component performance and operating conditions.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN3004, MATH1041.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENG3020 Design II and Project Development

This course is a continuation of CAD2030 Principles of Design. Concepts of the design process are applied to industrial design problems and project development techniques. Configuration management techniques are developed to support design analysis and product/project development through the life cycle of the product/project. Students develop research and presentation skills related to the design process and project development centered on industrial problem-solving techniques.

Prerequisite(s): CAD2030, ENGN3000. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENG3030 Instrumentation and Process Control

This course places the principles of measurement via electronic instrumentation into the operational arenas of process and industrial control. Design development and application is addressed; this includes 'smart' sensors and the role of imbedding microprocessors. The critical importance of sensor accuracy, timeliness, bandwidth, and repeatability is related to the overall performance of the controlled process. Feedback control systems are formulated and treated from the Laplace transform perspective. The impact of the dynamics of the measurement and control processes upon the system's transient response and stability is addressed.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN1030.

Offered at Providence

6 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN3035 Microelectronics Design

This is a project-oriented design course. Topics covered include contemporary design methodologies, prototyping platforms, programmable devices, hardware description language, and design, verification, and realizations of digital systems and their building blocks.
Prerequisite(s): ENGN2080, ENGN2085.
Offered at Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN3045 Electricity & Magnetism

This course is a study of the laws of electromagnetism including electrostatics, magnetostatics and electrodynamics. Maxwell's equations and the mathematical foundations of vector analysis are presented.
Prerequisite(s): ENGN2005, ENGN2006, MATH2043, SCI2012, SCI2042.
Offered at Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN3055 Electronics Engineering Design and Prototyping

This is a course in electronics engineering development process. This is a project-oriented design course. Topics covered include the process of development and prototyping of various types of electronic systems starting from problem statement to final fabrication at system and board level.
Prerequisite(s): ENGN3005 (or concurrent) .
Offered at Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN3065 Advanced Data Communications

This course is an engineering view of data communications within the areas of networking, wireless communications and Telecom. Topics include open systems network models (OSI) telephone systems, fiber optic communications, wireless systems, TCP/IP and other protocols, error detection and correction, and other engineering related topics within network communication areas.
Prerequisite(s): ENGN2070.
Offered at Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN3085 Principles of Systems Engineering

This introductory course addresses the application of scientific and engineering efforts in order to translate specific operational requirements into a system configuration. The course emphasizes a goal-and-team-oriented approach to representative system projects. The goal of this total engineering effort is the creation of an effective and efficient product within specified cost, time and performance envelopes.
Prerequisite(s): MATH1030 or higher. (PT)
Offered at Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN3090 Systems Performance and Measurement

This course addresses the critical role of performance in the modeling, design, assessment, operation and management of a system. Emphasis is placed on the identification and development of both qualitative performance criteria and quantitative performance criteria. Data-acquisition and processing requirements for these criteria are also considered both for online and offline system assessment.
Prerequisite(s): ENGN3085. (PT)
Offered at Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN4000 Standards/Codes and Ergonomics

This course is an introduction to standards and regulatory codes governing the design and manufacturing of products and work environment. Standards for procedures and processes as related to design, manufacture, and configuration management are defined and case studies are used to develop relevant concepts. Codes and ergonomic concepts are presented and developed as the driving forces behind standards applied to design, manufacturing and work environments. (HO) (PT)
Offered at Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN4005 Quality Control/Professional Practice

This course is an introduction to quality control and professional practice as related to design and configuration management, with the concept of QC as the techniques and activities to achieve, sustain and improve the quality of products, services and the project development. Quality control becomes the responsibility of everyone involved in the design of products or project management. Professional practices covers the general application of regulations, restrictions, record keeping, and ethics related to engineering design and project management. (HO)
Offered at Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN4010 Configuration Management

This course is an introduction to Configuration Management (CM) as a solution to engineering problems. Students are introduced to project management, change orders, documentation revision, product and project flow processes. Applications of CM are applied to the private corporate sector as well as to government agencies.
Prerequisite(s): Senior status. (HO) (WI)
Offered at Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN4030 Digital Signal Processing

This course involves the study of Fourier analysis for discrete-time and continuous-time signals and systems, difference equation, Z-transforms, digital filter structures and transfer functions. Analysis of sampling and aliasing effects are also presented with design algorithms for IIR and FIR Digital filters. Digital signal processing functions are also discussed.
Prerequisite(s): MATH2043. (HO)
Offered at Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN4060 Embedded Systems Design I

This is the first course in embedded systems design. This is a project-oriented course in which classroom topics are explored through in-depth experiences in substantial design projects. Topics covered include hardware and software co-development, reuse, verification, and realization of digital intellectual property.
Prerequisite(s): ENGN3035.
Offered at Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ENGN4065 Embedded Systems Design II

This is the second course in embedded systems design. This is an advanced project-oriented course, which involves extensive design projects. Topics covered include design of digital intellectual property for embedded systems, design of memory systems, and software hardware design tradeoffs.
Prerequisite(s): ENGN4060.
Offered at Providence
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

FIT1000 Information Technology for Business Professionals

This course provides basic understanding of computer software, policies and procedures necessary for business professionals. Students gain practical knowledge of operations and terminology as well as hands-on use of personal information management systems, word processing, and digital presentations. Students are also introduced to using databases as a decision-making tool. Computer-based assessment software may be used as both a learning and skills measurement tool. (HY) (PT)
Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE
4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

FIT1005 Introduction to Keyboarding

This course is designed to introduce or reinforce keyboarding skills necessary to prepare documents used in the business world. Students learn the keys and techniques to produce error-free documents. (HY)
Offered at Denver, Providence, Providence CE
1.5 Quarter Credit Hours

FIT1012 Digital Technology for Business

This course focuses on the practical use of technology tools in the digital workspace. Students gain hands-on experience in Digital Citizenship, basic technical literacy, collaboration tools, mobile connectivity and other technical solutions. Student learning is focused on project-based solutions to realistic workplace scenarios.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

FIT1014 Solving Business Problems with Technology

Students gain advanced experience in core technology topics as well as new topics relevant to the technology field. Additional topics may include introduction to scripting and programming languages, databases and data mining, and contemporary digital presentation environments. Student learning is focused on project-based solutions to realistic workplace scenarios.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

FIT1025 Engineering Tools for Problem Solving

This First-Year Engineering course is designed as an introduction to the techniques and tools used in solving engineering problems. The topics of data analysis and presentation of technical results are stressed. Formula construction and graphing techniques are developed through the use of software applications. Programming in MATLAB, and simulation of electronic circuits are included. Team problem solving activities and oral and written technical communication are a major focus of the class.

Offered at Providence

2 Quarter Credit Hours

FIT1040 Spreadsheet Design for Business Solutions

Students gain a working knowledge of spreadsheet skills and apply those skills to problem-solving cases. Computer-based assessment software may be used as both a learning and skills measurement tool. (PT)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

FIT2020 Integrated Computer Business Applications

This course presents intermediate and advanced microcomputer applications skills chosen on the basis of demand in local markets. A major part of the course involves "hands-on" laboratory use of software for managing graphic, numerical or text-based data in "what if" business simulations with emphasis placed in spreadsheet and word-processing, software. Other business software may also be explored. Computer-based assessment software may be used as both a learning and skills measurement tool.

Prerequisite(s): FIT1000 and FIT1040 or FIT1014, or permission of department chair. (PT)

Offered at Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

FIT2030 Access Database Design for Business Solutions

Students gain a working knowledge of database concepts and design and apply skills to problem-solving cases. Computer-based assessment software may be used as both a learning and skills measurement tool.

Prerequisite(s): FIT1000 or permission of department chair. (PT)

Offered at Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

FIT2040 Emerging Technologies in the Workplace

This course introduces students to how social media has evolved and how it can be used as an effective tool to enhance and develop business marketing and sales. Social media has established itself as the pre-eminent focal point for social interaction using web-based technologies, with people generating their own content, social commentary and opinions reaching a wide audience through friends, recommendations and same interest groups. Businesses from small to large are using social media to engage with their customers on an entirely new level, helping promote their products and services and keep in touch with them on a personal level. Social media is displacing the established leaders as major traffic drivers for new business.

Offered at Miami, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC1000 Help Desk Concepts

This introductory course provides students with an overview of the topics relevant to working at a help desk or customer support center. Four major components are covered: people, processes, technology and information. Emphasis is placed on the design and management of each component as an integral and mandatory part of the support function.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC1020 Introduction to Data Communications

This is an introductory course in the concepts and components of a data communications system. Hardware and software features are reviewed to present the elements of and interactions in a data communications network. Communications interfaces, industry standards, and communications protocols are presented in reference to understanding the actual throughput of data in a communications environment. Students are introduced to network topologies and their various application areas.

Prerequisite(s): FIT1000 or FIT1012. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC2050 Special Topics in Technology

This course gives the student the opportunity to study unusual, cutting-edge and advanced topics in the technology field. Topic areas include Graphic Design & Digital Media (ITEC2051), Exploring Mobile Application Development with the iPhone (ITEC2052), Engineering Studies (ITEC2053), Computerized Drafting (ITEC2054), IT Professional Studies (ITEC2055), Foundations in Technology (ITEC2056), and Technology Internship (ITEC2057). Each individual section of the course will be specially designed. The School of Technology announces the specific outline, outcomes, texts, materials and performance skills (if any) of each section early in the term preceding it.

Prerequisite(s): Permission of instructor.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC2060 Special Topics in Technology and Lab

This course gives the student the opportunity to study unusual, cutting-edge and advanced topics in the technology field and apply the knowledge in a laboratory setting. Topic areas include Graphic Design & Digital Media (ITEC2061), Computer Information Science (ITEC2062), Engineering Studies (ITEC2063), Computerized Drafting (ITEC2064), IT Professional Studies (ITEC2065), Foundations in Technology (ITEC2066) and Technology Internship (2067). Each individual section of the course will be specially designed.

The School of Technology announces the specific outline, outcomes, texts, materials and performance skills (if any) of each section early in the term preceding it.

Prerequisite(s): Permission of instructor.

Offered at Providence

6 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC2070 Advanced Special Topics in Technology

This course gives the student the opportunity to study unusual, cutting-edge and advanced topics in the technology field in an intensive, immersion-style setting. Topic areas include Graphic Design & Digital Media (ITEC2071), Computer/ Information Science (ITEC2072), Engineering Studies (ITEC2073), Computerized Drafting (ITEC2074) IT Professional Studies (ITEC2075), Foundations in Technology (ITEC2076) and Technology Internship (2077). Each individual section of the course will be specially designed. The School of Technology will announce the specific outline, outcomes, texts, materials and performance skills (if any) of each section early in the term preceding it.

Prerequisite(s): Permission of instructor.

Offered at Providence

9 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC2080 Network Devices

This course develops students' knowledge of computer networks and how they work in business and industry. Students become familiar with the three basic kinds of computer networks (LANs, WANs, MANs) and the protocols that help those networks function. They are introduced to methods of developing protocols, including interpretation of standards, finite state machines, and state-full transition. Students also become familiar with various equipment types and design criteria that are currently used in industry. In homework and lab assignments, students develop skill competencies needed to troubleshoot systems and solve day-to-day business problems with networks. Students connect, configure and program a range of network devices; work with network protocol analyzers, and map the path of a data packet on a network.

Prerequisite(s): ITEC1020. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC2085 Distributed Systems with TCP/IP

In this course students learn how client/server systems evolved and how those systems continue to adapt to business needs. Students develop an understanding of distributed programming techniques and of how distributed applications (databases, transactions, processors, ERP systems, etc.) work within networks. The course also covers the three main types of systems (Two Tier, Three Tier, and N Tier) and how they relate to one another. In homework and lab assignments, students develop skill competencies needed to solve day-to-day business problems in maintaining and customizing databases and other applications. Students configure and implement their own client/server network, which gives them an opportunity to develop a hands-on understanding of how such a network is designed and built. This course focuses on the upper layers of the OSI model (especially the application layer).

Prerequisite(s): ITEC2080 and CSIS1020 or CSIS2060 or CSIS2065. (HO) (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC3010 Server Configuration and Implementation

This course allows students to apply skills learned in the network degree program and other information technology related courses towards the construction and commission of a server on a network. The student is responsible for configuring a server to deliver applications and files necessary to support many types of user-bases.

Prerequisite(s): CSIS2045, ITEC1020 and CSIS1020 or CSIS1040.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC3020 Information Science I

This course provides a general introduction to information science. Topics include an introduction to information systems, the role of information in organizations and decision making and the role of computers in information processing.

Prerequisite(s): FIT1000 or FIT1012.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC3030 Advanced Networking with TCP/IP

This advanced networking course gives students an in-depth view of protocol design and operation as well as network modeling and design. Students learn about the intricacies of network design, choosing the right technological tool, network modeling and simulation, and network testing and benchmarking. Students receive hands-on experience in lab exercises by designing their own networks.

Prerequisite(s): ENGN2070, ITEC2080, MATH2001 or higher (or concurrent). (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC3040 Systems Analysis

This course presents a systematic approach to the development of business systems. By following this approach, students learn to design business systems that efficiently meet the goals and objectives of management. A major element of this course is a team project, where students utilize the systems approach in analyzing and designing a business system. This class is highly recommended for non-computer majors as well as required for majors in this program.

Prerequisite(s): FIT1014 or FIT1040. (HO) (PT) (WI)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC3050 Information Security

This course presents all aspects of computer and information security including data encryption, zero-knowledge based proofs, public key coding and security procedures. This course makes students aware of the various threats to computers and data and identifies methods and techniques for providing counter-measures to those threats.

Prerequisite(s): FIT1000 or FIT1012. (HO) (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC3060 Network Management and Administration

This course allows students to implement many of the concepts of earlier courses. This course focuses on the techniques for implementing a network, configuring products, managing networks, implementing network services (email, FTP, Telnet, HTTP), and providing protections and safeguards commensurate with usage requirements.

Prerequisite(s): ITEC2085, ITEC3030. (PT)

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC3070 Systems Modeling and Simulation

This course addresses the process of modeling systems, including business systems, network systems, dynamic vehicle systems and client-server systems, to name a few. The modeling process is the prerequisite for the simulation and subsequent analysis, design and assessment of a system with respect to specific performance criteria. The roles of modeling in simulation are presented within the context of the systems engineering process. Modeling encompasses everything from functional through mathematical modeling; simulation includes the development and use of software for systems analysis and design. Team projects from students' areas of interest are an integral part of the course.

Prerequisite(s): MATH2001. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC3075 Network Security

This course provides the students with a comprehensive introduction to the field of network security. Critical network security aspects are identified and examined from the standpoint of both the user and the attacker. Network vulnerabilities are examined, and mitigating approaches are identified and evaluated. Concepts and procedures for network risk analysis are introduced. Network architectures and protocols and their impact on security are examined. TCP/IP security is examined in conjunction with the IPsec and IKE protocols. Integration of network and computer security is introduced. The course also discusses the building of trust networks, key management systems, and physical network security. The course emphasizes the implementation of intrusion detection and prevention methods.

Prerequisite(s): ITEC2080, ITEC3050. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC3080 Information Management

Information management techniques are presented with an emphasis on file-accessing methods, database systems, text retrieval systems, paperless computing and the Internet. The management of records on stand alone and networked systems is examined along with the issues relative to managing information on the World Wide Web. Students are made aware of the various theories and options available for text and information storage and retrieval. Security and communication issues are covered along with the issues related to the World Wide Web.

Prerequisite(s): ITEC3020. (HO) (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

ITEC3085 Systems Design

This course is both a theoretical approach to the development of information systems as well as an immersion into the real-world implementation in the context of a business case. The student learns the basic design tools, as well as gains an appreciation for the larger context of the organization in which the application generates value. Readings and case studies highlight the need to consider systems integration issues, external constraints in the form of regulatory issues, organizational process change, learning and training requirements as well as development of a systems maintenance and obsolescence plan.

Prerequisite(s): ITEC3040. (PT)

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PRMG2010 Introduction to Project Management

This course gives students an understanding of project management practices, concepts, and tools using projects in the real world. Students focus on successfully organizing a single project using the knowledge areas associated with the project life cycle. Learning to identify potential projects based on strategic business planning, they produce portions of a basic project plan, scope statement, work breakdown structure, and Gantt charts. Other course topics to be discussed in a broader context include: forming and leading a project team, project manager competencies, project organization, time and resource management, cost management, quality management, human resource management, communications management, and risk management. (OL)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Online, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PRMG3010 Advanced Project Management

This course trains students to initiate, plan, execute, monitor, control, and close a project in the real world. Using a real world project plan, students become competent in the following areas of project management: project integration, project scope, project time, project cost, project quality, project human resources, project communications, project risk management. They practice these skills individually and in teams applying them to a real world project. They also gain understanding of the application of project management processes.

Prerequisite(s): PRMG2010. (OL)

Offered at Charlotte, Denver, Miami, Online, Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

PRMG4010 Project Management Application and Experiential

This course is the third of a concentration series that allows students to apply their knowledge of project management to real-world projects. Project teams are assigned projects at the beginning of the term and, based on their timeline, deliver the complete project at the end of the term or develop strategies for phase-gating the project to another team. Projects are acquired through an intake process monitored by the director and assigned to each team based upon prior experience and ability.

Prerequisite(s): PRMG3010.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TECX2010 Sophomore Technology Internship

This is a hands-on, career-related experience that allows sophomore students supervised practical training within their respective majors. These activities can be performed either in the confines of a university-operated facility or at external host firms in team or individual format.

Prerequisite(s): Permission of instructor.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TECX4045 Technical Solutions Team I

In this class, students act as part of a working technology project team. During the term prior to the beginning TSTI, each student applies for a position on a particular team working on a specific project; only students accepted for such positions will be admitted into the course. Students begin TSTI with a series of lectures and workshops that familiarize them with the project methods and protocols used by TSTI. They then work under the supervision of a faculty project manager and subject matter advisors. Teams submit their work for regular phase reviews; set and conform to explicit schedules for project work; monitor and assure project quality; assess and mitigate project risks; draft, update and maintain all project documentation; and are ultimately responsible for the outcome of the project. This course is one of several options in the School of Technology for students to fulfill their experiential education requirements.

Prerequisite(s): PRMG2010.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TECX4046 Technical Solutions Team II

This course is an optional continuation of TECX4045, Technical Solutions Team I working on new or previously started projects. Students work in cross-functional teams under the supervision of faculty project managers and subject matter advisors. Teams submit their work for regular phase reviews; set and conform to explicit schedules for project work; monitor and assure project quality; assess and mitigate project risks; draft, update and maintain all project documentation; and are ultimately responsible for the outcome of the project. This course is one of several options in the School of Technology for students to fulfill their experiential education requirements.

Prerequisite(s): TECX4045.

Offered at Providence, Providence CE

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TECX4060 Senior Technology Internship

This is a hands-on, career-related experience that allows senior students supervised pre-professional learning experience within their respective majors. These activities can be performed either in the confines of a university-operated facility or at external host firms in team or individual format. This internship enables students to learn about a specific field or career choice, gain real-world experience, and enhance their current skill sets in advance project work.

Prerequisite(s): Permission of instructor.

Offered at Providence

4.5 Quarter Credit Hours

TECX4099 Technology Internship

In this course, experiential learning takes place in diverse business work settings in the United States. Selected students perform work assignments related to their chosen career focus in industry while earning academic credit and a wage. The Technology Internship program is an individualized program, centered on the student who is committed to personal and professional growth and uses productive work as the means of achievement. The internship's partnership between employers and educators assists student growth and development. Upon completion of this course, students have a more global understanding of the demands and expectations of employers in industry. This is a variable credit course; students can extend or add additional experiences across multiple terms.

Offered at Providence

4.5-13.5 Quarter Credit Hours

Academic Information

This section of the catalog contains important information about the academic requirements and policies of Johnson & Wales University, as well as additional educational components including experiential education and study abroad opportunities, and available honors programs and academic societies.

Class Schedules

The course schedule (https://uconnect.jwu.edu/prod/bwkschd.p_disp_dyn_sched) is published before registration begins for each term/semester. The course schedule will include course meeting days and times, seat capacity, course prerequisites and additional information for courses meeting the search criteria.

Occasionally, make-up classes are scheduled, due to holidays or other missed days, to meet minimum classroom hour requirements. The dates of these rescheduled classes are available in jwuLink (<https://link.jwu.edu>). It is possible that at times a course may not be rescheduled and the student will be responsible for all work as outlined in the syllabus.

Please note that students enrolled in courses at the university may be required to participate in online discussion forums, student-to-student collaborations and student presentations with other students as part of course requirements.

Summer Sessions

Optional summer session courses are offered by the university. Individual courses may not be offered in the summer if student interest or enrollment is not sufficient; as a result, summer degree completion cannot be guaranteed.

Students matriculating at Johnson & Wales are not granted credit for summer session courses taken at other institutions unless prior permission has been granted by Student Academic & Financial Services.

Academic Policies

This section of the catalog contains important information about the academic policies of Johnson & Wales University, the grading system and other academic requirements.

Academic Standing

A student's academic standing is based on grade point average (GPA) in conjunction with total attempted credits (including transfer credits) and is evaluated after the completion of each term of enrollment. Academic standing standards differ by program of study. Please refer to the following academic standing standards charts. If students are not in good academic standing or have questions about the requirements for graduation, they should make an appointment with an academic counselor for assistance in assessing their situation.

Students who meet the following criteria are considered to be in good academic standing:

- Undergraduate students need a minimum GPA of 2.0.
- Graduate students need a minimum GPA of 3.0.
- Doctoral students need a minimum GPA of 3.25.
- 4+1 B.S./MBA/M.S. program students need a minimum GPA of 3.0 in graduate-level coursework.

According to the following academic standing standards, students who do not satisfy good academic standing requirements will be placed on probation, suspended (undergraduate students only) or dismissed.

Academic Standing Standards: Undergraduate Day and Online Programs

Academic Standing Standards: Doctoral Programs

Status at Start of Term	Total Credit Hours Attempted	Cumulative GPA	Status after Term Completion
Good Standing	0-higher	3.25-4.0	Good Standing
Good Standing	0-higher	0-3.24	Academic Dismissal

Note: Doctoral students will be dismissed if their GPA is less than 3.25, or when they earn a grade of F, WF or W in any course. (No classes may be repeated.)

Academic Probation

Probation may affect a student's ability to register and/or graduate. Graduate program students and 4+1 B.S./MBA/M.S. program students are allowed one term only on probation.

Academic Suspension

Suspended students may not matriculate at the university for at least one term and are expected to work on academic deficiencies. To return to the university, these students must petition the Academic Appeals Committee, providing a letter of intent and documentation of academic improvement. The committee will consider appeals that document mitigating circumstances.

Academic Dismissal

Dismissed students may no longer matriculate at the university and are expected to work on academic deficiencies. To return to the university, students may petition the Academic Appeals Committee, providing a letter of intent and documentation of academic improvement. The committee will consider appeals that document mitigating circumstances.

Academic Warning

Students who are reinstated into the university will be placed on Academic Warning. These students risk permanent dismissal from the university if they are unable to meet academic standing guidelines. The warning designation is sometimes used to override academic standing decisions at the end of the term due to mitigating circumstances.

These undergraduate students will be allowed to register for a maximum of 13.5 credits in academic classes or 15 credits in laboratory classes. In addition, these students will be required to attend a mandatory student skills strategies seminar and tutoring in identified content areas. (Failure to complete these requirements will result in immediate dismissal.)

Attendance

All students are expected to attend each meeting of every class in which they are enrolled on time. The maximum number of absences for valid reasons is based on the quarter credit hours for the course, with the exception of experiential education assignments and laboratories, which have their own specific attendance criteria. Absences beyond the stated maximum for each course may jeopardize academic standing or financial aid.

Student Academic & Financial Services should be notified immediately of any necessary prolonged absences. The Student Handbook contains rules and policies for frequent or prolonged absences from class.

Students are expected to familiarize themselves with attendance requirements outlined in the Student Handbook. The Student Handbook can be found online at catalog.jwu.edu/handbook.

Credits and Grades

Unit of Credit

The university measures academic progress using the quarter credit hour system. Courses are offered in three formats and may combine two or more of those formats, which are: lecture, laboratory and experiential.

Generally, one quarter credit represents 10 hours of instruction, which includes class lecture and additional activities; one quarter credit hour equals two laboratory hours or three experiential hours. Furthermore, all courses require additional hours of study and preparation outside of the classroom or learning environment.

Undergraduate Grading System

September 1985 to present (note: not all grades are used by all colleges or schools)

The grading system is as follows:

Grade Range	Letter Grade	Quality Points
95–100	A+	4.00
90–94	A	4.00
85–89	B+	3.50
80–84	B	3.00
75–79	C+	2.50
70–74	C	2.00
65–69	D+	1.50
60–64	D	1.0
0–59	F	0.00
Withdrawal	W	0.00
Withdrawal/Fail	WF	0.00
Withdrawal/Pass	WP
Incomplete	I
No Credit	NC
Grade Pending	GP
Audit	AU
Proficiency	P
Satisfactory	S
Unsatisfactory	U
Prior Learning Assessment	PL
Challenge Exam Credit	CX
No Grade	NG

Grade reports are viewable in jwuLink (<http://link.jwu.edu>).

Honors Option (H)

If a course was taken as an Honors Program requirement, the grade received will be followed by "H" (for example, AH, BH).

Failure (F)

Issued if a student fails to achieve adequate scholastic progress. The grade is recorded permanently on the student's academic record. Upon successful completion of the course at a later date, the cumulative average is adjusted to reflect only the passing grade. However, both grades will appear on the academic transcript. This system allows students to recover academically from poor terms and graduate within a reasonable amount of time.

Withdrawal (W), Withdrawal/Pass (WP), Withdrawal/Fail (WF)

In order to record attempted credits (including for purposes of determining satisfactory academic progress), a grade of W, WP or WF is recorded when a student withdraws from a culinary/pastry laboratory course or a course with an experiential education component, or is withdrawn due to excessive absences from a registered course after its add/drop period has ended. A W is a punitive and failing grade issued at the instructor's discretion, and is entered permanently into the term and cumulative grade point averages. In order to qualify for a WP, the student must have an estimated grade of 60 or higher at the time of withdrawal. This grade is not entered into the term and cumulative grade point averages. If the estimated grade is below 60, the student will be issued a WF, which is entered into the term and cumulative grade point averages as a failing grade until successful completion of the course at a later date.

Incomplete (I)

Issued to students if they are unable to complete course requirements (because of authorized absences due to service commitment or illness). Outstanding work must be completed within two weeks of the final exam class day or the grade will automatically become an "F" and the grade will be included in the grade point average. For classes graded "S/U" (Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory), an Incomplete ("I") will change to a "U."

No Credit (NC)

A non-punitive designation issued to a student who has been authorized to withdraw from class, or the university, due to extenuating circumstances.

Grade Pending (GP)

A temporary mark given when the completion of course requirements is still underway. A grade pending is not calculated into the cumulative average and is generally used under extreme, extenuating circumstances. If a grade is not submitted to replace the "GP" within one year, it will automatically become an "F."

Audit (AU)

An audit occurs when no academic credit is granted. This grade is not calculated into the cumulative average.

Proficiency (P)

Granted for achievement of multiple levels of skills in progression where the self-paced approach is in effect. This grade is not calculated into the cumulative average.

Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory (S/U)

Used for designated courses throughout the university.

Prior Learning (PL)

Students may earn credits for the knowledge or skills they have mastered outside the classroom through volunteer work, employment, travel, professional training and seminars or other comparable sources.

Challenge Exam (CX)

Granted for specifically designated courses upon successful completion of department challenge exams.

No Grade (NG)

"No Grade" is issued temporarily when there is no grade provided by the faculty member. This grade is not factored into the student's GPA. Once a grade is submitted, the cumulative average and transcript will reflect only the new grade. If a grade is not submitted to replace the "NG" within one year, it will automatically become an "F" and the grade will be included in the grade point average.

Repeat of Courses

Undergraduate students will be allowed no more than three (3) attempts to successfully complete each course. Students who passed the course but wish to improve their grade may repeat the course if it is available. However, students are eligible for financial aid for only one repetition of a previously passed course. The highest grade earned will be calculated into the grade point average. When a student has repeated a course previously applied to an awarded degree, both grades will be included in the grade point average.

Required Courses

Students who fail a course after a second attempt will be assigned an academic standing hold and will be placed on academic probation. Students who fail the same course after a third attempt may be academically dismissed.

Students who attempt the same course three times and earn a combination of "W", "WF" and "F" grades will be assigned an academic standing hold; these students may be subject to academic suspension if the course is not successfully completed during the next course offering.

Appeals

Appeals regarding academic suspension or dismissal can be made to the Academic Appeals Committee after one term of nonmatriculation if extenuating circumstances exist. A student may appeal only once, and the decision of the committee is final.

Concentrations

In programs of study that require a concentration, students will be given the following options in the event that they cannot successfully complete a concentration course requirement at the third attempt:

1. make an alternate concentration course selection (if available) or
2. select a new concentration to meet degree requirements.

Courses Not Required

If the attempted course is not a specific degree requirement, the student will be unable to attempt the course again. The student must then select an alternate course to meet degree requirements.

Graduation Requirements

If the attempted course is a mandated graduation requirement such as career management capstone or Sanitation Certification, the student has nine (9) terms to complete the course.

Academic Counseling

Academic counselors are available in Student Academic & Financial Services to assist students with preparation for graduation. Their goal is to assist students in evaluating, developing and maximizing their potential by providing guidance and support.

All students are encouraged to meet with an academic counselor. Students on academic probation, repeat course probation and/or satisfactory academic progress warning are required to meet with an academic counselor. Appointments are recommended.

Transfer and Career Prerequisites

Students who intend to transfer to other colleges or enroll in graduate schools after graduation must determine the requirements of those institutions and plan their programs of study accordingly. Johnson & Wales University makes no claim or guarantee for transfer credit to other academic institutions. Similarly, students who intend to take state or foreign business, trade or professional licensing examinations should determine the prerequisites of those jurisdictions prior to selecting programs of study.

Students who are interested in transferring to JWU should see information on transfer admissions (p. 171).

Courses Taken at Other Institutions

Undergraduate Courses

Enrolled students requesting to take courses elsewhere (U.S. schools) must submit a Request to Take Classes Elsewhere (http://www.jwu.edu/uploadedFiles/Documents/Forms/Academic_Services/JWURequestToTakeClassesElsewhere.pdf) form (available in jwuLink > Registration & Grades > Student Academic & Financial Services) to obtain prior approval from Student Academic & Financial Services. Enrolled students requesting to take courses at an international institution must contact Study Abroad. The following requirements must be met.

1. The student must have an overall grade point average above 2.0.*
2. There is a limit of 18 credits which may be taken during enrollment at the university.
3. The course(s) must not be in the major field.
4. The student may not have taken the course(s) previously at the university and received a grade of "F," "W," "WF," "I" or "GP".
5. Course credits from other institutions must equate to JWU-requested course credit.
6. Grades of "C" or better (2.00 or equivalent) from an accredited institution may be accepted for transfer. Transfer credits are not calculated into the cumulative grade point average.
7. The course(s) must be taken within one year of permission being granted.
8. Students are responsible for tuition and fees for approved course(s) at the other institution as applicable.
9. A student will not be granted credit (transfer credit or otherwise) for any academic work done during the period of a disciplinary suspension.

For each approved course, students must receive a minimum grade of "C" (2.00 equivalent) in order for Johnson & Wales to award transfer credit. Transfer credits are not calculated into the cumulative GPA.

Accelerating the completion of program requirements may negatively impact future enrollment (i.e. part-time enrollment during a term in the next academic year); students are strongly advised to review course projections and to plan accordingly.

 Students, as always, are responsible for meeting the requirements of satisfactory academic progress.*

Note: Exceptions to criteria 1–4 will be made by the Director of Academic Counseling.

GRADUATE COURSES

Once enrolled in a JWU graduate program, a student may not take core or concentration courses elsewhere and apply them for transfer credit except in extenuating circumstances, and when permission is granted by the dean's office. A grade of "B" or better must be earned for the course to transfer.

Academic Transcripts

A transcript is a representation of a student's entire academic record while at Johnson & Wales University. In accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), a transcript may be released only upon written request of the student. Students can also submit transcript requests online through jwuLink (<https://link.jwu.edu/cp/home/displaylogin>). Students intending to pick up transcripts in person must make the request in person at Student Academic & Financial Services or complete a transcript request form.

The university does not charge a fee for transcripts; however, official transcripts will not be released if a student is not current in all financial obligations to the university. Within three business days of receipt of an authorized request, official transcripts will be printed on official paper and then placed in sealed envelopes issued directly to the student or authorized designee. The university does not email transcripts. Transcripts are not official if faxed. A maximum of 20 official transcripts may be requested per year. Official transcripts are not produced while grade processing and posting is in progress at the end of each term/semester.

Unofficial transcripts may be obtained in jwuLink (<http://link.jwu.edu>).

Requirements

Residency Requirement

The undergraduate residency requirement refers to the number of courses and credits students must take at JWU, whether they are transfer students or JWU students acquiring an additional degree. The residency requirement for all students at Johnson & Wales University pursuing an associate degree is a minimum of 31.5 quarter credit hours, half of which must be within the major field. For students pursuing a bachelor's degree, the minimum is 45 quarter credit hours, half of which must be within the major field. Diploma/certificate candidates will be allowed to transfer a maximum of 9.0 quarter credits (including JWU courses) towards diploma/certificate program requirements. Upon review, certain related professional studies courses and program electives may be considered when determining residency. Standardized testing credits are not considered when determining residency requirements.

Graduation Requirements

Each student is required to submit an online graduation application at least two terms prior to degree completion. Students must file one application for each expected degree (i.e., associate, bachelor's, master's). The application ensures that students are reviewed for graduation at the correct time, that correct information is presented on the diploma, and that it is mailed to the correct address.

Graduation requires successful completion of a prescribed sequence of study and a minimum 2.00 grade point average. Students with a cumulative GPA below 2.00 will not be in compliance with the criteria for good academic standing and may be subject to academic dismissal. Furthermore, as required by their program, all students must hold an active Sanitation Certification.

All associate-level degrees require the completion of a minimum of (ninety) 90 quarter credits. All bachelor's-level degrees require a minimum of an additional ninety (90) quarter credits, for a total of 180 quarter credits. While most major programs have variations that require slightly more quarter credits for completion, no program requires fewer than the 90/180 quarter credit minimum.

All students must be current in all financial obligations to the university, including tuition, fees and other expenses, before a diploma will be issued.

Permission to participate in commencement exercises does not imply that graduation requirements have been met.

Writing Requirement

Students who graduate with a bachelor of science degree must leave Johnson & Wales with effective writing skills. These writing skills will be assessed at the completion of ENG1021 Advanced Composition and Communication. If competency is not achieved at this point, students must successfully complete ENG0001 Writing Workshop and achieve competency. This, in effect, is a graduation writing requirement for all students pursuing a bachelor of science degree from JWU.

Service Learning

Community Service-Learning (CSL)

As part of the Feinstein Enriching America Program, undergraduate day students at the Providence Campus of Johnson & Wales University have opportunities to participate in Community Service-Learning (CSL). Faculty who integrate community service-learning into their academic work will announce opportunities in their classrooms. For other community-based work, please consult with the Alan Shawn Feinstein Community Service Center staff. Some real-life applications include marketing students providing consulting services to R.I. Small Business Development Center clients, accounting students preparing tax returns for low-income families, technology students developing websites for community-based organizations, and culinary students working with emergency food distribution sites.

Experiential Education

Experiential Education & Career Services

Experiential Education & Career Services offers a variety of internship programs and career services including a career capstone course, résumé critiques, mock interviews, career fairs, exposure to industry professionals, on-campus interviews and more. These services assist students in building skills to obtain employment and independently manage their careers.

Experiential Education & Career Services components include

- internship opportunities available in the College of Business, The Hospitality College, the College of Culinary Arts, the School of Technology (Providence Campus only) and the School of Arts & Sciences (Providence Campus only). Internship is designed to provide eligible students with practical work experience in their chosen field of study while they earn academic credit for the experience.
- a career capstone course for juniors and seniors that prepares them to navigate the job search process.
- career workshops that allow students to select specific skill-building topics.
- networking opportunities with industry professionals through on-campus recruiting events.
- career advising resources providing personalized advising on a variety of career-related topics.
- online job postings by employers who are looking to hire students for part-time and full-time jobs (on and off campus) as well as internships. Go to jwuLink \(https://link.jwu.edu\) > Careers > Find a Job.
- employers representing a broad range of fields that visit campus each year to participate in recruiting events and serve as guest lecturers and classroom speakers. These activities provide students with a real-world view of industry as well as opportunities to connect with industry professionals and career options.

Study Abroad

Study Abroad works with all schools and colleges at all campuses to offer a portfolio of study abroad programs to Johnson & Wales students. Any interested student is encouraged to contact Study Abroad (<http://www.jwu.edu/studyabroad>) at 401-598-1406 for personal study abroad advising, program information and applications.

Academic Functions

Attendance at a New Student Orientation program is mandatory for all new students. Summer Orientation is offered to all new students entering Johnson & Wales in the fall term. At Summer Orientation, students meet with academic representatives in their chosen school or college and take academic placement exams. Students also learn about campus resources, network with upperclass student leaders, familiarize themselves with the campus and have the opportunity to make new friends.

An abbreviated orientation program is also offered for all new students each term prior to the start of classes. Activities include academic orientation, social activities, distribution of photo identification cards, and meetings with administration, faculty and residence hall representatives. Orientation also includes placement testing.

Academic Convocation is held the weekend before classes begin in the fall. This academic ceremony brings together all facets of the university to celebrate and commence the academic year.

The Student Recognition Ceremony is held annually in the spring to honor students and organizations that have displayed a high level of performance in academic achievement or in service to Johnson & Wales University.

Commencement is held at the end of each academic year. At these exercises, degree candidates are recognized. Participation in commencement exercises does not imply that graduation requirements are met.

Honors

Johnson & Wales University recognizes high-level scholastic achievement in a variety of ways.

- Latin Honors (e.g., cum laude, magna cum laude and summa cum laude) are awarded upon graduation to eligible degree candidates based on their graduating grade point average.
- The Honors Program offers students the opportunity to complete an enhanced undergraduate curriculum and to earn Honors Program designations on their transcripts and diplomas.
- The SHARP program allows eligible students to accelerate their course of study by registering for additional credits each term.
- Additionally, the university recognizes superior academic performance through other honors societies and university awards.

Latin Honors

Eligible degree candidates receive cum laude, magna cum laude and summa cum laude recognition according to their academic program average. Students with the designated graduating GPA are eligible to receive honors as follows: cum laude, 3.40–3.60; magna cum laude, 3.61–3.80; and summa cum laude, 3.81–4.00.

Dean's List

In recognition of scholastic achievement, full-time students (carrying a minimum of 12 quarter credit hours) at Johnson & Wales University who have achieved a term GPA of 3.40 or above receive Dean's List commendation. Upon processing of approved grade changes, student records will be evaluated for Dean's List eligibility.

Honors Program

The Honors Program offers academically talented students the opportunity to explore challenging and stimulating courses. Eligible applicants must have taken a college prep curriculum, maintained an average of B or better, placed in the top 25 percent of their high school graduating class, and submitted SAT or ACT scores.

Honors students enroll in honors sections of some general studies courses and may choose the honors option (H-option) in other courses. They have the opportunity to work closely with some of the university's most dedicated and accomplished faculty, to join a community of academically motivated students, and to pursue original and individually directed study.

The university offers three honors designations: Honors students who earn an associate degree are eligible for the "Honors Associate" designation. Honors students who earn a bachelor's degree are eligible for the "Honors Scholar" or "University Honors Scholar" designations. The college-specific requirements for each of these honors designations are as follows:

Business/Hospitality/Arts & Sciences

At the bachelor's level, students must complete a total of 12 honors/H-option courses for a designation as an "Honors Scholar." Honors students who also submit an accepted scholarly paper and successfully complete RSCH3001 Honors Advisory Seminar and receive the "University Honors Scholar" designation.

Culinary Arts/Baking & Pastry Arts

At the associate level, students must complete a total of nine honors/H-option courses or labs to receive the "Honors Associate" designation.

At the bachelor's level, students must complete a total of 16 honors/H-option courses or labs to receive the "Honors Scholar" designation. Honors students who also submit an accepted scholarly paper and successfully complete RSCH3001 Honors Advisory Seminar and RSCH3002 Directed Academic Experience receive the "University Honors Scholar" designation.

Note: Students who earn an associate degree in Culinary Arts and then go on to receive a bachelor's degree from the College of Business or The Hospitality College may have different honors graduation requirements. Please contact the Honors Program director for further details.

Technology

At the associate level, students must complete a total of six honors/H-option courses to receive the "Honors Associate" designation.

At the bachelor's level, students must complete a total of 12 honors/H-option courses to receive the "Honors Scholar" designation. Honors students who also submit an accepted scholarly paper and successfully complete RSCH3001 Honors Advisory Seminar and RSCH3002 Directed Academic Experience receive the "University Honors Scholar" designation.

Academic Societies

Academic Honor Societies

Alpha Beta Kappa is a national honor society which recognizes superior student academic achievement, character and leadership. Students with a graduating GPA of 3.9 or higher are eligible. Students are notified in April of their eligibility. A one-time membership fee is required. The society may also elect a limited number of faculty, staff and alumni as honorary members.

Awards

Johnson & Wales University recognizes superior academic achievement and outstanding contributions in extracurricular activities by granting the following awards at a private ceremony held prior to commencement.

Circle of Academic Excellence Awards

The Founder's Award is presented to rising sophomore, junior or senior students in the College of Business, College of Culinary Arts or The Hospitality College who by their serious approach to career education and perseverance in their objectives, represent the ideals and principles expressed by the founders of Johnson & Wales University. Students must have a minimum 3.4 cumulative GPA and be recommended by the faculty to be considered for this award.

The Pioneer's Award was established to honor Audrey Gaebe. This award is presented to rising junior or senior students enrolled in a concentration in the School of Arts & Sciences who have displayed outstanding academic achievement and actively participate in the JWU community. Students must have a minimum 3.4 cumulative GPA and be recommended by the faculty to be considered for this award.

The President's Award is given to rising juniors in the College of Business, College of Culinary Arts, The Hospitality College and School of Technology who have displayed outstanding academic achievement, extracurricular leadership and purposefulness, cooperation, and strong college spirit. Students must have a minimum 3.4 cumulative GPA and be recommended by the faculty to be considered for this award.

University Awards

Academic Performance Awards recognize graduating students in the College of Business, College of Culinary Arts, The Hospitality College and School of Technology who have achieved the highest cumulative GPA and are recommended by the faculty.

Alpha Beta Kappa is a national honor society that recognizes superior student academic achievement, character and leadership. Students must have a minimum 3.90 cumulative GPA to be invited to join the honor society.

The Gene K. Burns Alumni Leadership Award recognizes the student whose activities on and off campus have best enhanced the reputation of JWU.

The recipient of the Morris J.W. Gaebe Outstanding Freshman Award is a first-year student who unselfishly guides and influences classmates, exhibits definitive leadership qualities, has strong speaking and writing skills and is recommended by the faculty.

The Practicum Pyramid Award is presented to a graduate student in the university's experience-based scholarship program. The recipient is a student who has utilized his or her knowledge and skills to assist in the development of other students in the many practical training facilities and offices of the university.

The Trustees' Awards, in memory of the faithful service to the university of Trustees Gov. Christopher Del Sesto and Anthony Kemalian, are given to students in the College of Business, College of Culinary Arts, The Hospitality College and School of Technology who have contributed to the success of the university and are recommended by the faculty.

The Wilfred N. Lavallee Award is presented to the highest academically ranked student in the Early Enrollment Program who has shown dedication to the Johnson & Wales community.

College of Business Awards

The Outstanding Freshman Award recognizes one student in each of the following programs of study: accounting, advertising, criminal justice, entrepreneurship, equine studies, fashion merchandising & retail marketing, finance, international business and marketing. Selection for the award is based on outstanding academic achievement, community service and commitment to the university.

The Outstanding Sophomore Award recognizes one student in each of the following programs of study: accounting, advertising, criminal justice, entrepreneurship, equine studies, fashion merchandising & retail marketing, finance, international business and marketing. Selection for the award is based on outstanding academic achievement, community service and commitment to the university.

The Outstanding Junior Award recognizes one student in each of the following programs of study: accounting, advertising, criminal justice, entrepreneurship, equine studies, fashion merchandising & retail marketing, finance, international business and marketing. The Louis D'Amico Scholarship is awarded to a sophomore and/or junior majoring in accounting at the Providence Campus who has demonstrated superb academic performance and has made valuable contributions to activities sponsored by the Department of Accountancy and Finance and is chosen by the department chairperson.

College of Culinary Arts Awards

The Donna Lee Food Writing Endowed Scholarship honors the 20 years Donna S. Lee served as a renowned food editor for The Providence Journal with the hope of inspiring students who share her passion for food and writing.

The Special Functions Team Award recognizes the student who has improved the university by specific actions including volunteering for culinary events, community service activities and dedication to the Special Functions Club.

The Johnsonian Spirit Award is presented to one culinary arts and one baking & pastry arts continuing education student who demonstrates a genuine spirit of helping others with enthusiasm, within and outside of the classroom.

The Apprenti Cuisinier Awards of Excellence are presented to students who have exceptional motivation and success in a special area of discipline.

The Edmund D. Fuller Jr. Award recognizes a baking & pastry arts student who has achieved the highest academic average, demonstrated exceptional skill in the art of pastry and has been recommended by the faculty.

The Academic Leadership Award is presented to one graduating associate degree student and one graduating bachelor's degree student from each College of Culinary Arts degree program who exemplifies the core values of commitment, high academic standing and career focus.

The Professional Pride Award recognizes students who consistently demonstrate professionalism, exceptional grooming and pride in the College of Culinary Arts uniform.

The Dean's Award is presented to one graduating sophomore and one graduating senior in the College of Culinary Arts who, by a sincere desire to obtain a career education, has exemplified his or her career by example and dedication.

The Hospitality College Awards

ESD Honor Society Award recognizes sophomores and seniors in The Hospitality College for their outstanding academic achievement, meritorious service and demonstrated professionalism. ESD is a national honor society sponsored by CHRIE.

The Leah Powers McGarr Scholarship was established to honor the spirit and life of Dr. McGarr, a beloved member of The Hospitality College faculty.

School of Technology Awards

Computer Information Systems Departmental Awards are presented to students in Business Information Systems Analysis, Network Engineering and Software Engineering with a minimum GPA of 3.5 who have provided service to the School of Technology, which may include tutoring and project assistance, having participated in technology-related professional organizations and clubs, having presented a portfolio of work completed through the second term of the current year, and been recommended by faculty.

The Outstanding Portfolio Award is presented to an engineering student who has created a presentation in his/her area of interest, including architectural, mechanical or electronic designs. Presentations must be in electronic format and incorporate sound, motion and text.

The Engineering Department Achievement Award is presented to a sophomore, junior or senior with a minimum GPA of 3.5 who has provided service to the university/School of Technology that may include involvement in student organizations, tutoring, student mentoring and lab assistance. The student must also demonstrate leadership, community service, and be recommended by faculty.

Computer Graphics Departmental Awards recognize students as emerging leaders in their field. Students are nominated by faculty and must demonstrate student leadership as well as outstanding achievement in the area of Web design, computer graphics, new media design or digital video.

The Experiential Education Recognition Award is presented to the student or team who demonstrated the greatest level of professionalism, reliability, responsibility and technical expertise in a university-sponsored experiential education internship, bringing honor and prestige to the School of Technology.

The Albert J. Mikula Award for Excellence In Academics, Leadership and Service is presented to a sophomore, junior or senior student who exemplifies the ideals and principles expressed by Albert J. Mikula, a driving force in the development of the School of Technology, by demonstrating a dedication to academics, the university and the community.

Admissions

Johnson & Wales University's admissions process goes beyond simply looking for academically accomplished students. The university seeks to attract and retain highly motivated and demonstrably capable students. Students' motivation and interest in succeeding in their chosen careers are given consideration along with their academic achievements.

While not required, students are encouraged to submit employment information and letters of recommendation for admissions consideration.

Applying for Admission

How to Apply

Students are encouraged to apply online (<http://www.jwu.edu/apply>) for quicker processing. Paper applications are also accepted. For either method, no application fee is required.

To submit your application on paper, you may request an application to be mailed to you by contacting the Johnson & Wales Admissions office noted below.

Completed paper applications should be mailed to the following campus addresses:

Providence Campus

Admissions
Johnson & Wales University
8 Abbott Park Place
Providence, RI 02903

North Miami Campus

Admissions
Johnson & Wales University
1701 NE 127th Street
North Miami, FL 33181

Denver Campus

Admissions
Johnson & Wales University
7150 Montview Boulevard
Denver, CO 80220

Charlotte Campus

Admissions
Johnson & Wales University
801 W. Trade Street
Charlotte, NC 28202

Be sure to complete your application in full, as an incomplete application could affect eligibility for Johnson & Wales scholarship programs. Additional information submitted after the initial application has been received will not be considered for additional scholarships. For U.S. students, eligibility for university need-based and federal aid is determined through the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid).

In completing the application form, students must indicate the term in which they wish to enroll. Applications are accepted for terms beginning in the fall, winter and spring. NOTE: Equine majors may only enter in the fall term.

There is no deadline for submitting applications, but students are advised to apply as early as possible before their intended date of enrollment for full consideration, as some programs may fill up.

Certain bachelor's degree programs are selective and require submission of an application at the end of the associate degree program before acceptance into a program. Students should check program descriptions if they are interested in applying for both an associate and a bachelor's degree program.

After completing the application form, students are responsible for requesting that their high school guidance office forward to the university an official copy of the secondary school record for admissions consideration.

When possible, Johnson & Wales University would prefer to receive the applicant's high school transcripts at the same time as the application for admission. Transfer students must also submit official transcripts from all high schools and colleges attended.

Students applying for admission to an Adult & Continuing Education program at JWU's Providence (<http://catalog.jwu.edu/admissions/applying/> providence-ce) or Denver (<http://catalog.jwu.edu/admissions/applying/denver-ce>) Campus, or to a graduate (<http://catalog.jwu.edu/admissions/applying/grad>) program, should refer to these catalogs for admissions information.

High School Completion Verification

Graduation from high school or equivalent education as certified by state departments of education is required for undergraduate admission. Graduation verification documents must be submitted to Admissions. Official verification documents include at least one of the following: correspondence from an authorized high school administrator, a high school diploma/transcript recognized by the student's state department of education or an official G.E.D. certificate. Additional methods of verification of high school completion exist for home-schooled students (p. 171). It is the student's responsibility to provide verification of high school completion. Without such verification, the student may not be allowed to register for the current term or continue enrollment and will be in jeopardy of revocation of admission to the university as well as losing all financial aid.

Admission Requirements

Test Scores

SAT and ACT scores are not required for general admission to the university, but are strongly recommended. The SAT and ACT are required for home-schooled students (p. 171).

Candidates for the university's honors program must submit SAT or ACT scores for acceptance consideration. Admission standards may vary for international (p. 173) and transfer students (p. 171).

Minimum Grade Requirements

For certain technology majors, a "B" average or better in math is required. Other majors may have specific grade requirements.

In the School of Arts & Sciences, for those majoring in Counseling Psychology, an overall "B" average and a college preparatory curriculum are required. Other majors may have specific grade requirements.

Students within The Hospitality College who are interested in pursuing a bachelor's degree in International Hotel & Tourism Management must apply through their department chair. Preference is given to students who achieve a 3.20 GPA or higher upon completion of their freshman year.

Program Requirements

Equine Business Management/Riding

- Students need to submit a riding video.
- Students need to interview with the equine admissions representative.

Accelerated Management

- Students need to have completed an associate degree or the equivalent in any non-business major.

Certain programs of study include technical standards in the academic requirements essential to the program. Students with disabilities should contact the Center for Academic Support for information about the technical standards. See technical (p. 171) standards (p. 171) for descriptions of the applicable technical standards. Copies of the technical standards applicable to various programs are also available from the Center for Academic Support.

For additional admissions requirements please review the other topics listed in the Applying (p. 170) section of this catalog.

Admissions Decision

The rolling admissions policy of the university makes it possible to notify students of the admissions decision, of their acceptance or of any additional conditions necessary for admission, soon after all of their academic records have been received and reviewed.

The $300 reservation fee is payable upon acceptance to the university. The university observes the May 1 reservation fee deadline and encourages students to research all schools before placing a reservation fee. Reservation fees received after May 1, 2013 will be accepted on a space available basis. Reservation fees received prior to May 1, 2013 are refundable. The student's account must be cleared by Student Financial Services by the July deadline to receive a room assignment. To best ensure consideration for on-campus housing, it is important to meet all deadlines throughout the enrollment process.

Equine Riding students are asked to submit a $500 reservation fee. These fees are credited to students' initial billings.

Requests for refunds of the reservation fee will be granted upon written request to the university prior to May 1, 2013. After May 1, 2013 the reservation fee of $300 (or $150 of such fee in the case of applicants to the North Miami Campus) is nonrefundable.

The university may revoke any student's acceptance or enrollment if any information or documentation provided by the student is false or incomplete or if the university learns of any past or present misconduct by the student that would affect the student's ability to represent and uphold the high standards of the university.

Deferred Enrollment

Johnson & Wales offers a two-year deferred enrollment to students who have applied and been accepted to the university but, for various reasons, wish to postpone their enrollment. Johnson & Wales University retains student application material and will honor the admissions decision for up to two years; after that time frame, the applicant will need to submit a new application and transcript for review. Reservation fees will remain effective during the deferment period. Merit scholarships awarded through the application process will be honored for up to two years from the time of initial acceptance. Federal student aid is awarded annually; a student must reapply for federal funds through the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Advanced Placement Credit

Students entering Johnson & Wales University with an Advanced Placement test score of "3" or greater will be granted 4.5 quarter credits for the equivalent JWU course. Students must submit an official AP Grade Report from the College Board Advanced Placement Program. For more information about AP credit, contact University Testing & Transfer.

Transfer Students

Transfer students are eligible to apply for most JWU majors; however, they are not guaranteed credit. Credit is usually granted for courses completed with a grade of "C" or better (with a numeric value of 2.00) at another institution accredited by an accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Department of Education or International Ministry of Education. Grades of "pass" are also acceptable for transfer if credit was awarded (and a grade of "P" has the numeric value of 2.00 or greater). Credits earned in developmental and remedial courses or CEUs are nontransferable. Transfer credit evaluations are based on previous college work as it relates to the student's intended field of study. Transfer credits are not calculated into the cumulative grade point average.

Transfer candidates must submit official college transcripts from all colleges previously attended prior to enrolling at JWU. Transcripts must be in English (students are responsible for providing official translations, if needed). Undergraduate credits earned more than 10 years ago and graduate course credits earned more than three years ago may not be accepted. Students must also submit final official high school transcripts and provide verification of high school/secondary school completion.

It is the responsibility of those candidates who are currently attending another college to have their updated transcripts sent to JWU as soon as final grades become available and no later than the first term of enrollment.

The university reserves the right to substitute courses at the discretion of the department chairs, directors or deans.

Home-Schooled Students

Home-schooled students will be required to provide a high school transcript and a copy of their ACT or SAT test scores. Both the grades on the transcript and the ACT/SAT test scores will be reviewed to determine admissions and scholarship eligibility. Combined SAT scores of 1000 (reading and math, 500 each) or ACT equivalent are required for admittance.

A home-schooled student must be able to document that he or she has completed high school. Verification documents for home-schooled students include at least one of the following:

- a high school diploma recognized by their state department of education;
- a G.E.D. certificate or, with respect to home-schooled students who are above the compulsory age of school attendance,

- a secondary school completion credential for home school (other than a high school diploma or G.E.D. certificate) provided for under state law;

or

- if state law does not require a home-schooled student to obtain the credential described in the preceding bullet, a certification that the student has completed a secondary school education in a home-school setting that qualifies as an exemption from compulsory attendance requirements under state law.

It is the student's responsibility to provide verification of high school completion. Without such verification, the student may not be allowed to register for the current term or continue enrollment and will be in jeopardy of revocation of admission to the university as well as losing all financial aid.

Early Enrollment

The Early Enrollment Program gives high school seniors an opportunity to enroll full time in college courses at JWU during their senior year of high school. Students should apply for admission to the Early Enrollment Program during their junior year of high school.

The Early Enrollment Program was designed to help students investigate the variety of college and career options available to them. Early Enrollment Program students earn college credits while completing high school graduation requirements.

For more information on the Early Enrollment Program, request a brochure from Admissions or review the PDF on our website (<http://www.jwu.edu/content.aspx?id=53379>).

For information regarding when and how JWU credit may be obtained for such courses, please contact Student Academic & Financial Services.

MIL 101 FUNDAMENTALS OF LEADERSHIP I WITH LAB

The purpose of this course is to introduce students to fundamental components of service as an officer in the United States Army. These initial lessons form the building blocks of progressive lessons in values, fitness, leadership and officership. Additionally, the course addresses "life skills" including fitness, communications theory and practice (written and oral), and interpersonal relationships. This course additionally includes a Leadership Lab which will reinforce the lessons learned in the classroom. Upon completion of this course, cadets should be prepared to receive more complex leadership instruction. This course is open to freshman and sophomore students. 3 credits at Providence College (these credits will transfer to applicable JWU courses).

MIL 102 FUNDAMENTALS OF LEADERSHIP II WITH LAB

This course builds upon the fundamentals introduced in the previous course by focusing on leadership theory and decision making. "Life skills" lessons in this course include problem solving, critical thinking, leadership theory, followership, group interaction, goal setting and feedback mechanisms.

This course additionally includes a Leadership Lab which will reinforce the lessons learned in the classroom. Upon completion of this course, cadets should be prepared to advance to more complex leadership instruction concerning the dynamics of organizations. This course is open to freshman and sophomore students. Prerequisite: MIL 101.

3 credits at Providence College (these credits will transfer to applicable JWU courses).

MIL 201 PRINCIPLES OF MILITARY LEADERSHIP I WITH LAB

This course contains the principal leadership instruction of the Basic Program. Building upon the fundamentals introduced in the MIL 101-102 courses, this instruction delves into several aspects of communication and leadership theory. The use of practical exercises is significantly increased over previous semesters. Cadets are required to apply communications and leadership concepts. Virtually the entire semester teaches critical "life skills" which are relevant to their future success in the Army.

The semester concludes with a major leadership and problem-solving case study which draws on virtually all of the classroom instruction received during the first three semesters of the Basic Program. This course additionally includes a Leadership Lab which will reinforce the lessons learned in the classroom. Upon completion of this semester, cadets should be well grounded in the fundamental principles of leadership and be prepared to intensify the practical application of their studies during the MS-III year. This course is open to sophomore students. Prerequisite: MIL 102. 3 credits at Providence College (these credits will transfer to applicable JWU courses).

MIL 203 PRINCIPLES OF MILITARY LEADERSHIP II WITH LAB

The final semester of the Basic Program focuses principally on officership, providing an extensive examination of the unique purpose, roles, and obligations of commissioned officers. It includes a detailed look at the origin of our institutional values and their practical application in decision making and leadership. At the core of this semester is the Basic Course's Capstone Case Study in Officership. This five-lesson exercise traces the Army's successes and failures as it evolved from the Vietnam War to the present, placing previous lessons on leadership and officership in a real-world context that directly affects the future of the cadets.

This semester, more than any before it, draws on the various components of values, communications, decision making, and leadership together to focus on a career as a commissioned officer. This course additionally includes a Leadership Lab which will reinforce the lessons learned in the classroom. Upon completion of this semester, cadets should possess a fundamental understanding of both leadership and officership, demonstrate the ability to apply this understanding in real-world situations, and be excited about the aspect of shouldering the responsibilities of a commissioned officer in the United States Army. This course is open to sophomore students. Prerequisite: MIL 201.

MIL 301 SMALL UNIT LEADERSHIP I WITH LAB

The Advanced Course accepts cadets with various levels of leadership competencies gained through life experiences and complemented by the ROTC Basic Course. The instructional content and activities in the MIL 300-level curriculum are intended to build leadership and facilitate the cadet's initial demonstration of individual leadership potential at Advanced Camp, while also preparing cadets for their future responsibilities as officers.

Because Advanced Camp uses small-unit infantry tactics as the context for the development and assessment of leadership, MIL 300-level instruction uses the same context. While a measure of technical and tactical understanding of small-unit operations is necessary, the focus of the instruction is on leadership. Much of the application and assessment of MIL 300-level leadership instruction will be conducted using the Leadership Development Program (LDP) for out-of-class activities: leadership positions during labs and unit operations.

Instruction in principles of war and purposes, fundamentals, and characteristics of the defense provide the necessary knowledge base for treatment of the Troop Leading Procedures (TLP). Instruction in the decision-making, planning, and execution processes of the TLP are followed by a refocus on the critical leadership task of communicating the plan using the Operations Order format.

An Advanced Leadership module addresses motivational theory and techniques, the role and actions of leaders, and risk assessment. The semester closes with instruction in small-unit battle drills to facilitate practical application and further leader development during Lab and Squad Situational Training Exercises (STX). This course additionally includes a Leadership Lab which will reinforce the lessons learned in the classroom.

Prerequisite: MIL 203.

MIL 302 SMALL UNIT LEADERSHIP II WITH LAB

The final semester of the MS III year continues focusing on doctrinal leadership and tactical operations at the small-unit level. It includes opportunities to plan and conduct individual and collective skill training for offensive operations to gain leadership and tactical experience. This critical semester synthesizes the various components of training, leadership and team building. Cadets are required to incorporate previous military science instruction from MIL 301 and the Basic Course for their practical application in a performance-oriented environment.

Upon completion of MIL 302, cadets will possess the fundamental confidence and competence of leadership in a small-unit setting. The MIL 302 curriculum complements progression through the cadet's campus evaluation process and in the culminating event of the MS III year in the field-training environment of Advanced Camp. This course additionally includes a Leadership Lab which will reinforce the lessons learned in the classroom.

Prerequisite: MIL 301.

MIL 401 LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT I WITH LAB

This semester of the Advanced Course concentrates on leadership, management and ethics, and begins the final transition from cadet to lieutenant. The course focuses cadets, early in the year, on attaining knowledge and proficiency in several critical areas they will need to operate effectively as Army officers. These areas include coordinating activities with staffs, counseling theory and practice within the "Army context", training management and ethics. The introduction of these subjects early in the MS IV year has the added benefit of preparing cadets to lead the cadet battalion throughout the remainder of the year.

While the proficiency attained in each of these areas will initially be at the apprentice level, cadets will continue to sharpen these skills as they perform their roles as cadet officers in the battalion and after commissioning. At the end of this semester, cadets should possess the fundamental skills, attributes and abilities to operate as competent leaders in the cadet battalion and confidently communicate to subordinate cadets their preparedness to shoulder the responsibilities entrusted to them.

This course additionally includes a Leadership Lab which will reinforce the lessons learned in the classroom. Prerequisite: MIL 302.

MIL 402 LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT II WITH LAB

The final semester of the Advanced Course focuses on completing the transition from cadet to lieutenant. As a follow-on to the ethics instruction in MIL 401, the course starts with a foundation in the legal aspects of decision-making and leadership. The next module reinforces previous instruction on the organization of the Army and introduces how we organize for operations from the tactical to strategic level. This is followed by instruction on administrative and logistical management that will focus on the fundamentals of soldier and unit-level support. The final module that introduces new information focuses on the often confusing process of changing duty stations and reporting to a new unit.

At the core of this semester is the Advanced Course's Capstone Exercise. This 12-lesson exercise will directly reinforce all modules from this semester and will also incorporate and reinforce many learning objectives from modules throughout the entire curriculum. The Capstone Exercise will require the cadets, both individually and collectively, to apply their knowledge to solve problems and confront situations commonly faced by junior officers. Upon completion of this semester, the cadets will be prepared to shoulder the responsibility of being a commissioned officer in the United States Army. This course additionally includes a Leadership Lab which will reinforce the lessons learned in the classroom. Prerequisite: MIL 401.

3 credits at Providence College (these credits will transfer to applicable JWU courses).

International Students

International Admissions Requirements

Listed below are the requirements for applying for undergraduate admission to Johnson & Wales University. In order to expedite the admissions process, students must enclose ORIGINAL or CERTIFIED documents from the institution or authorizing body when submitting an application. Please note that photocopies, fax copies, scanned or emailed documents are not valid.

1. An accurate, complete and legible International Application form that has been signed and dated by the applicant. All schools attended must be listed, with dates of attendance.
2. Certified bank statement or government sponsorship letter verifying financial support for one academic year.
3. The results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL), IELTS or other proof of English proficiency. (See "English Language Proficiency" and "TOEFL Requirements.")
4. Official secondary school transcript showing subjects and marks received with graduation date. Diplomas and any external examination results should be submitted, if applicable. If you have not yet graduated from secondary school, a transcript showing all completed work and expected results and graduation date may be submitted for review.
5. Transfer candidates must submit transcripts, marks sheets, diplomas or certificates from all post-secondary institutions attended, along with course descriptions and credit values for transfer review.
6. Copy of biographical section of applicant's current passport.

7. Certified word-for-word translations of all non-English credentials must be submitted.

All documents and information should be clear and legible; if important information cannot be read by the International Admissions staff, the admissions process is delayed and, as a result, so is the acceptance/Form I-20 process.

All documents must be sent to the campus where you intend to enroll:

English Language Proficiency

Applicants whose native language is not English must provide proof of English proficiency. English language proficiency is required for admission to all programs of study at Johnson & Wales University, regardless of country of citizenship or residency.

Students who do not provide proof of English proficiency will be enrolled in the English as a Second Language (ESL) program and registered for ESL classes prior to beginning regular degree studies.

Johnson & Wales University's English as a Second Language (ESL) program allows students to focus on the areas where they need the most improvement, and some advanced-level ESL students may take a regular undergraduate degree class in place of an ESL class which has been exempted because of proficiency in a particular area. This flexibility provides students with the most efficient transition into college.

English Language Placement testing for new ESL students will be given before the beginning of each term. JWU uses the students' scores from this testing to place students into the appropriate level of ESL. The Institutional TOEFL (Test of English Foreign Language) will be also offered to students who score at a high level in their ESL placement tests, to be determined by the English Language Institute's departmental policy.

English Proficiency Requirements

Johnson & Wales University recognizes the TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) as proof of English proficiency (p. 174). TOEFL scores must be received as official ETS scores. The Johnson & Wales University Designated Institution (D.I.) code is: 3465. This code should be used on your TOEFL registration form so that your scores will be sent to us directly.

Minimum TOEFL requirements (all levels, undergraduate and graduate) are as follows:

- TOEFL score of 80 (Internet-based or IBT)
- TOEFL score of 550 (pen/paper or PPT)

Individual section scores must also meet minimum score requirements.

Acceptable proof of English proficiency may also include one of the following comparable English proficiency examinations:

- IELTS (Cambridge), Band 6.5
- ELS Level 112 Certificate of Completion and Academic Report
- City & Guilds Pitman ESOL Examinations – Higher Intermediate or Expert Level
- The London Tests of English LTE, Level 4 (Advanced)
- MELAB (Michigan English Language Battery) – 77
- S.T.E.P. Eiken – (Society for Testing English Proficiency) – Grade 1

Other English language examination results will also be considered, and experience studying in the English language, as documented through school transcripts, will be taken into consideration.

To meet English proficiency requirements, all English language examination results must be submitted on an official test transcript that is no more than two years old.

Students may be exempted from individual ESL classes based on their individual TOEFL Test (or equivalent test) section scores. Individual section scores and total scores must also meet minimum score requirements; Johnson & Wales University also reserves the right to require a student to take ESL classes to increase proficiency in a particular area, regardless of total TOEFL or other test scores.

Transfer Credit

International Transfer Credit

Students who wish to transfer to JWU should submit an application (<http://www.jwu.edu/content.aspx?id=54194>) for admission listing all schools attended (including high school) with dates of attendance and degrees or diplomas completed or in progress.

Certified word-for-word translations of all credentials issued in any other language than English must be submitted along with those credentials.

To assist with the transfer credit review process, course descriptions, syllabi, credit values and program information should also be submitted.

Credit is generally awarded for courses a student completed with grades of "C" or better (or equivalent) which are similar in level, content and duration to JWU courses in the student's intended major. Accepted transfer students will be sent a copy of their degree audit showing the credit accepted toward their chosen major.

Articulation Agreements

JWU is proud to maintain a variety of international relationships through articulation agreements and transfer equivalencies with institutions and programs that facilitate student transfer to Johnson & Wales University for bachelor's degree completion. The university is continuously working to develop partnerships with institutions around the world for the purpose of offering diverse educational opportunities for transfer students. Please note that all majors are not offered at each campus, which may affect articulation agreement eligibility. Contact Admissions at the specific campus for more information. International Articulation Agreements include:

- At-Sunrice Global Chef Academy, Singapore
- Barbados Community College, Barbados
- Bermuda College, Bermuda
- College of the Bahamas (COB), Bahamas
- Higher Hotel Institute, Cyprus (HHIC)

- Technical & Vocational Training Corporation (TVTC, formerly Gotevot), Kingdom of Saudi Arabia

Placement Testing (non-credit, no fees)

Mathematics and English

These tests are administered to all new undergraduate students, including transfer students, prior to term start. Transfer students may be exempt from placement testing if transfer credit has been awarded for the appropriate mathematics and English courses.

Modern Languages

All undergraduate students who have studied more than one year of French, German or Spanish are required to take a placement exam. The placement exam will be scheduled at the beginning of each term. Students whose placement score indicates they have met a particular level of language proficiency will not be required to enroll in that language level. Students placing out of a required level of a language will be given the option to apply for the Departmental Challenge Examination to earn these credits (fees apply) or replace these credits with Arts & Science electives.

Academic Support & Disability Accommodations

Students with a documented disability requiring special accommodations must forward documentation to the Center for Academic Support at least two weeks prior to placement testing to ensure that accommodations can be made. No accommodations will be provided without appropriate documentation submitted prior to testing. Students who have already participated in placement testing and submit appropriate documentation will have the opportunity to retest with the accommodations in place.

Learning Assessment

For a listing of course options, annual examination schedules with examination dates and application deadlines, refer to the university's Standardized Testing and Prior Learning Assessment Brochure. This brochure may be obtained from Student Academic & Financial Services.

In all cases, the academic department determines policy as it relates to the testing options for each course in the department. Several options may be available to students, and it is recommended that students seek the advice of an academic counselor.

POLICIES FOR CHALLENGE, CLEP AND PORTFOLIO ASSESSMENT

1. Course prerequisite requirements must be completed before permission to participate in a standardized testing option will be granted.
2. The university recognizes up to a maximum of 45 undergraduate quarter credits earned through Standardized Testing and Prior Learning Assessment.
3. Portfolio Assessment, CLEP Exams and Challenge Exams must fall within the residency requirement (<http://catalog.jwu.edu/handbook/academicinformation/residencyrequirement>) for each degree.
4. Portfolio Assessment, CLEP Exams and Challenge Exams may not be substituted for a class previously failed or one where a Withdrawal (W) or Withdrawal/Fail (WF) grade has been issued. They may not be substituted for a class previously taken or a class in which the student is presently scheduled.
5. The CLEP Exam requires a passing score of 50 or higher for CLEP credit to be awarded.
6. CLEP Exams, if failed, can be repeated in six months.
7. Portfolio Assessment and Challenge Examinations cannot be repeated if failed.
8. Seminar, application and processing fees are nonrefundable.
9. Students must present a valid picture ID when testing.

After being determined eligible to test or enroll in a seminar, students will be notified by email of the time and location of their test or seminar. The Standardized Testing and Prior Learning Assessment brochure listing course options may be obtained online (www.jwu.edu > Select Your Campus > Student Life > Academic Services > Testing for Credit) or from Student Academic & Financial Services. For additional policies/information for Portfolio, Challenge and CLEP options, refer to the brochure.

Portfolio Assessment

(for credit, with fees)

Undergraduate students may earn credits for the knowledge or skills they have mastered outside the classroom through volunteer work, employment, travel programs, organizations or other comparable sources. Students must discuss this option with an academic counselor before they are eligible to enroll.

To apply for a Portfolio Assessment, students must meet the university's residency requirements and complete the Portfolio Development non-credit seminar. This seminar will meet for three two-hour sessions.

The seminar assists students with the development of a portfolio that describes and documents how the learning took place. The completed portfolio is submitted to the appropriate department designee for review. The assessor will review the portfolio and either validate the student's learning by awarding college credits, request additional information, or deny the request for credits. Portfolios will not be returned to the students; they become property of the university.

Once the seminar is completed, eligible students, in consultation with an academic counselor, may submit additional portfolios. Refer to the Standardized Testing and Prior Learning Assessment Brochure, available at Student Academic & Financial Services, for more information on required fees.

CLEP Examination

(for credit, with fees)

The College-Level Examination Program of the College Board tests are widely accepted national examinations in various subjects. The American Council on Education's recommended score is required to earn credit. JWU subject equivalencies are determined by each academic department for each exam. These exams are treated as transfer credit. JWU is a national CLEP examination site. Consult the CLEP application for required fees.

Departmental Challenge Examination

(credit by examination: for credit, with fees)

Departmental exams may be taken for specifically designated courses within a department. All matriculating students with previous academic and/or work experience, may request such an exam when they feel they have acquired the knowledge of a specific JWU course. Some testing options require specific criteria in order to take tests. Refer to the Standardized Testing and Prior Learning Assessment Brochure, available at Student Academic & Financial Services, for criteria and fees.

Accelerated Programs

Johnson & Wales University offers the following accelerated programs. (See list on left.) For more information, contact Admissions at the campus of your choice.

Culinary Advanced Standing

Prospective students who possess advanced knowledge and skills in food-related areas may apply for the Culinary Arts or Baking & Pastry Arts Advanced Standing Examination after they have been accepted to the university. The results of the examination are considered in addition to academic records and a letter of recommendation from a food-related employer and/or teacher.

It is generally recommended that applicants to this program complete an advanced food service curriculum or have a minimum of two to five years of extensive food service work experience.

Students who are selected for this accelerated program are required to complete a 10-week summer program. Upon successful completion of the summer program, students attain sophomore standing in the fall.

Contact Admissions for further information.

FAST & College Credit

FAST and Credit for College Programs

Johnson & Wales University offers students an opportunity to earn credits toward a JWU degree while they are still in high school through approved articulation agreements between Johnson & Wales University and the student's high school. Culinary Arts students enrolled in approved tech-prep programs who meet academic requirements may be eligible to earn up to nine quarter credits toward their Culinary Arts associate degree through our Freshman Advanced Study Track (FAST). Students enrolled in approved hospitality, business and technology programs who meet the academic requirements may also be eligible to earn transfer credits through our Credit for College Program.

For more information about the Freshman Advanced Studies Track, articulation agreements (<http://www.jwu.edu/content.aspx?id=53299>) or Credit for College programs, contact Admissions.

International Baccalaureate

International Baccalaureate

Johnson & Wales University recognizes the International Baccalaureate Diploma and Certificate Examination. JWU will award 4.5–9.0 quarter credits for standard and higher-level exams with a score of 4 or better as applicable for the intended JWU major. Students must submit an official I.B.O. examination transcript from the International Baccalaureate Organization.

General Certificate of Education Advanced Level (A-level)

Johnson & Wales University will award up to 12 quarter credits per subject for GCE Advanced Level Examinations (excluding General Paper) passed with grade equivalents of C or better. Up to 6 quarter credits may be awarded for GCE A.S. (Advanced Subsidiary) examinations. Students must submit an official or verified certificate or statement of results issued by the U.K. examinations board.

Caribbean Advanced Proficiency Examinations (CAPE)

Johnson & Wales University will award up to 13.5 quarter credits per subject for two-year CAPE examinations passed with a grade of IV or better. Up to 4.5 quarter credits may be awarded for single unit CAPE examinations. Students must submit an official or verified statement of results issued by the Caribbean Examinations Council (CXC).

SHARP

Special Honors And Rewards Program (SHARP)

SHARP is an honors program designed for qualified full-time undergraduate students in a day program who wish to accelerate their program to complete degree requirements in less than the normally required time. This is accomplished by increasing the student's course load each term as scheduling permits. SHARP results in savings of time and expenses for eligible students. Day program students accepted into SHARP may register for up to 25.0 quarter credits each term with no additional fees. Interested students must complete a SHARP application, returning the completed form to Student Academic & Financial Services. The following students are eligible for SHARP:

1. Incoming freshmen who are honors graduates of approved secondary schools, have been elected to their state or national honor society, or have maintained a minimum GPA of 3.0
2. New transfer students who maintained full-time enrollment at a previous institution and each term earned a cumulative GPA equivalent to Dean's List status for that institution
3. Students at Johnson & Wales who have maintained full-time enrollment and a 3.40 cumulative GPA at the end of each term

Note: The only exception to this policy is the first term of enrollment at Johnson & Wales, during which the cumulative GPA may be less than 3.40.

If a student does not exercise this option, SHARP eligibility may continue provided that the student maintains continuous full-time matriculation while maintaining a cumulative 3.40 GPA after all terms. The benefits provided by SHARP are not applicable during full-time internship terms or for an additional culinary/pastry laboratory class. Preferred scheduling and graduation acceleration are not guaranteed.

Failure to maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.40 or better after each term will cause the student to become permanently ineligible for the benefits provided by SHARP. Student Academic & Financial Services will only notify a student of their withdrawal from the SHARP program via their JWU email account, and it is the student's responsibility to drop extra credits, if registered, to avoid incurring additional charges.

4+1 Degrees

4+1 B.S./MBA/M.S. Programs

The five year B.S. and MBA or M.S. programs allow JWU hospitality, business or criminal justice seniors to earn a bachelor's degree in their major plus an MBA (hospitality or business majors) or an M.S. (criminal justice majors) usually within five years. Qualified students may enroll in a graduate course each term of their senior year and complete up to three graduate courses (at no extra cost) at Johnson & Wales while completing their bachelor's degree.

Financing Your Degree

This section of the catalog contains information on tuition and fees, financial policies and obligations, financial aid and payment options. There is also information on loans, grants, scholarships and work programs for eligible students depending on campus and degree program.

Tuition and Fees

The following tuition and fees schedule is effective for the 2013–2014 academic year. Tuition and fees are subject to change annually.

Tuition	Fee
Annual Tuition	$27,156
Orientation Fee	$300
Student Health Insurance	$1,299
Room and Board*
Tier 1	$12,000
Tier 2	$11,157
Tier 3	$10,140

* The fee for certain residence halls may include board. For more information contact Residential Life at 401-598-1141.

Tuition is applicable to all students, including those on approved off-campus programs including study abroad and internships. Students enrolled in courses in excess of a normal full-time schedule will be assessed an additional tuition charge. For purposes of tuition billing and financial aid eligibility, full-time status is determined on a term basis and consists of 12 to 21 quarter credit hours per term. Students carrying more than 21 quarter credit hours will be charged for each quarter credit over 21. When repeating courses already attempted, students may be assessed a fee for those courses. Students are assessed tuition upon course registration each term. Summer is considered a separate term. The quarter credit hour rate is $502.

Room Only is for the academic year and includes residence hall accommodations and does not include meals.

Room and Board is for the academic year and selected rooms have access to 15 meals per week. This does not apply to all residence halls. For more information contact Residential Life at 401-598-1141.

Reservation Fee and Other Fees

Reservation Fee

The $300 reservation fee is payable upon acceptance to the university. The university observes the May 1 reservation fee/deposit deadline and encourages students to research all schools before placing a reservation fee. Reservation fees received after May 1, 2013 will be accepted on a space available basis. Reservation fees received prior to May 1, 2013 are refundable. Students must also have an approved payment plan with Student Academic & Financial Services by July 19, 2013 in order to guarantee a room assignment. Students who establish an approved payment plan after July 19, 2013 could be placed in a temporary assignment regardless of fee payment date, although Residential Life will make every effort to assign students to permanent room assignments.

Requests for refunds of the reservation fee will be granted upon written request to the university prior to May 1, 2013. After May 1, 2013 the reservation fee of $300 (or $150 of such fee in the case of applicants to the North Miami Campus) is nonrefundable.

Orientation Fee

This nonrefundable fee, which is uniformly charged, is required of all new students for orientation and term start activities. It is charged to students who start during the fall, winter or spring term.

Medical Health Coverage While Enrolled

All registered, undergraduate day students, both domestic and international, and all international graduate and doctoral students attending Johnson & Wales University are required to have health insurance coverage that is accepted in the United States. If students have health insurance coverage through another means (i.e., parent's health insurance or an employer program) they do not have to enroll in the Johnson & Wales student health insurance plan. They can opt out of/waive the university plan by submitting the online waiver form to demonstrate evidence of coverage. A new waiver form must be submitted each academic year. Students who are required to have health insurance and do not waive the Johnson & Wales University plan will be charged for it. The online waiver form and details of the plan, including the full brochure and benefit flyer, can be found on the Health Services (<http://www.jwu.edu/content.aspx?id=10320>) page of the JWU website.

Extension Students

Tuition rates for extension students are billed based on the number of quarter credit hours scheduled.

Early Enrollment

Early Enrollment Program (p. 171) tuition is 50 percent of the 2013–2014 tuition charge. Early Enrollment Program students are also subject to appropriate university fees, including full room and board charges and student health insurance. Early Enrollment Program students are not eligible for any federal financial aid or institutional need-based aid while enrolled in the program. Early Enrollment Program students should contact Student Academic & Financial Services for information on alternative funding and to determine how eligible scholarships will be affected while in the Early Enrollment Program.

ESL Students

Students who are studying in the English as a Second Language (ESL) program will be charged $6,148 tuition per term. The quarter credit hour rate is $342. This program charge will be applied for each term the student remains in the ESL program. ESL students are not eligible for Johnson & Wales University scholarships or grants.

Other Fees

Books and Supplies

The cost of books and supplies is approximately $1,800 per academic year. These costs are not applied to the student's invoice. Books and supplies must be paid for at the university's bookstores at the time of purchase. The bookstores operate a textbook sales/buy-back program, as well as a rental program, to help students minimize these costs.

Complete textbook pricing and International Standard Book Number (ISBN) information is available via a link on each course registration-related page within jwuLink, the university's online student information system.

General Transportation Expenses

The cost of attendance includes a reasonable transportation allowance. These costs are determined annually by the university and are not applied to the student's invoice.

Payment Options

Annual Payments

The student may make one payment in full for the entire academic year. Students are responsible for paying all charges in full or making appropriate arrangements by the published due date of July 19, 2013.

Term Payments

Students may choose to make three payments a year, which are payable by the publicized due dates established prior to each term. The due date for September 2013 is July 19, 2013.

Monthly Payments

Students may choose to pay the annual amount due in convenient monthly payments. This option is available through Tuition Management Systems (TMS) (<https://www.afford.com>). There is an enrollment fee to participate. Most plans are essentially interest free, but some accounts may incur late fees, reinstatement fees or other fees. Students interested in this option must contract with TMS and pay the first payment, in addition to the enrollment fee, by the published due date of July 19, 2013.

All Johnson & Wales University students must fulfill their financial obligations to the university by the published due date of July 19, 2013 (all off-term entrants must meet the financial obligation by the published date for that term).

To meet your financial obligation you must do one of the following by the published due date:

- Make a full term payment.
- Contract with TMS and pay the first monthly payment, as well as the enrollment fee.
- Have an approved loan which covers the annual balance.
- Have an approved payment plan with Student Academic & Financial Services using a combination of the above options.

If you do not fulfill your financial obligation by the published due date, your housing assignment may be removed. In addition, your class schedule for the 2013–2014 academic year may also be revoked.

Refund Policies

General Policy

To the extent that any charges due to the university remain unpaid, no refund check will be issued. No tuition or fees (other than the reservation fee) will be assessed for terms that the student does not begin. Students who withdraw from the university prior to the end of the academic year will have their financial aid adjusted.* Institutional grants and scholarships will be reduced in proportion to any tuition credit received as defined in the university's Withdrawal Credit Policy. The distribution formula for refunds to the Federal Student Financial Aid program will be calculated according to federal regulations. The university's Withdrawal Credit Policy applies to all withdrawals from the university, voluntary or involuntary.

Term charges, institutional merit scholarships and institutional aid are subject to the university's Withdrawal Credit Policy upon withdrawal from the university. Term charges are defined as tuition, and if applicable, room only, room and board, and orientation fee. Tuition is applicable to all students, including those on approved off-campus programs including study abroad and internships. Merit scholarships and institutional aid are defined as any source of funding from Johnson & Wales University. The Orientation Fee is nonrefundable. The official notice of withdrawal from the university may be done in person or by written notification through Student Academic & Financial Services. Refunds are calculated by the date of termination which is based on the date Student Academic & Financial Services receives notification of withdrawal from the student or faculty member (culinary/pastry lab or experiential education courses only). Any refund due will be issued within 45 days after the date that the university was first notified of the withdrawal.

Unofficial Withdrawal from the University

Federal regulations require that a student who begins attendance but fails to earn a passing grade in at least one course in any term and who does not officially withdraw shall be considered as having unofficially withdrawn from the university unless the university can document that the student completed at least 60 percent of the period of enrollment and earned the grade of "F." A student must be engaged in academically related activities beyond the 60 percent of the enrollment period in order to retain eligibility for federal, institutional and external financial aid. If a student was not engaged in an academically related activities beyond the 60 percent, they will be assigned a withdrawal date based on the last date of an academically related activity. All other instances when a student withdraws without providing official notification will be the 60 percent point of the period of enrollment, as applicable. A student who does not earn at least one passing grade during a term for which federal funds were disbursed will have a Return of Title IV Funds calculation performed to determine how much of the federal funds were earned. Unearned federal funds must be returned to the source, in most cases with a charge to the student's university account.

University enrollment disputes must be submitted online within 30 days after the end of the term during which the student was enrolled. To submit a dispute, students must complete the appropriate form online (<http://www.jwu.edu/sas>). (Select your campus and then select Forms.) No adjustments to tuition and fees or financial aid will be made until the dispute is researched and either approved or denied. No disputes will be considered after 30 days from the end of the term in which the student was enrolled. Decisions will be made within 10 business days and students will receive notification via the email address provided on the dispute form.

* Any student enrolled solely in culinary lab courses, who fails to attempt any of the scheduled courses, will be considered to have withdrawn from the university.

Refund Policy for Georgia Residents

The following refund policy is applicable to prospective students and students attending Johnson & Wales University who are legal residents of the state of Georgia.

- An accepted applicant will receive a refund of any amount paid to the university with respect to a term if, prior to the commencement of classes for that term, he or she makes a request for a refund to Student Academic & Financial Services within three business days after making the payment.
- A student who provides official notice of withdrawal following the commencement of the academic term will receive a pro rata refund of tuition and fees* (other than the orientation fee which is used for the purposes of orientation) as follows:

Percent of total class days in the academic term elapsed prior to date of official notice of withdrawal	Refund of tuition and fees
1 day–5%	95%
6–10%	90%
11–25%	75%
26–50%	50%
More than 50%	No refund

* In the event that a refund is made under this policy, all institutional aid/scholarships for that term will be adjusted on a pro rata basis based upon the applicable refund. Official notice of withdrawal must be made by a student under this policy in person or by written notification to Student Academic & Financial Services. The date of an official notice of withdrawal is the date that it is received by Student Academic & Financial Services. Refunds are paid to students within 30 days of the official notice of withdrawal.

- In the event that the University Withdrawal Credit Policy is more favorable than this Refund Policy for Georgia Residents, the university will refund to the student the greater amount in accordance with the university Withdrawal Credit Policy.

Notice Regarding Georgia Nonpublic Postsecondary Education Commission (NPEC) Student Complaint Process

Any person/student claiming damage or loss against Johnson & Wales University may file a verified complaint with the executive director of NPEC after going through the university Complaints and Grievances process. The complaint must contain a detailed description of the claim, including dates, times, and full names of all involved. Verification means that the complaint must be signed by the student/person filing the complaint and notarized, and state that the matters set forth in the complaint are true and correct. The complaint shall be investigated by the appropriate Standards Administrator (SA) of NPEC. The SA shall attempt to resolve the complaint between the university and the student. If the complaint cannot be resolved, the SA will issue a decision and inform each party that either has a right to request a hearing in writing before the executive director of NPEC within 10 days of receipt of the SA's decision. The executive director may set a date and time for a hearing which shall be delivered to both parties by certified mail.

University Withdrawal Credit Policy

If a student terminates during:

- the first or second week of the term, the university will credit 90 percent of the term charges. If eligible, all institutional aid/scholarships for that term will be adjusted to 10 percent.
- the third or fourth week of the term, the university will credit 50 percent of the term charges. If eligible, all institutional aid/scholarships for that term will be adjusted to 50 percent.
- the fifth or sixth week of the term, the university will credit 25 percent of the term charges. If eligible, all institutional aid/scholarships for that term will be adjusted to 75 percent.

After the sixth week of the term, students will be responsible for 100 percent of the term charges and will receive 100 percent of that term's eligible institutional aid/scholarships.

Examples of university refund policies are available upon request in Student Academic & Financial Services.

Withdrawal Policy for Study Abroad programs and programs jointly administered by Study Abroad and Experiential Education & Career Services

If a student withdraws for any reason, either voluntary or involuntary, prior to June 1 for the fall programs, September 1 for the winter programs, December 1 for the spring programs and March 1 for the summer programs they may be eligible for a refund on the $500 deposit (if applicable) and/or a reduction for the cost of the program charged to the student's account. A written withdrawal letter or email is required and must be sent to the Study Abroad office. This letter must be written and signed by the student. A telephone call will not be sufficient. The date on which your letter is received will be the formal date of withdrawal.

The $500 study abroad deposit is nonrefundable as of June 1 for fall programs, September 1 for winter programs, December 1 for spring programs and March 1 for summer programs.

If a student withdraws after the dates listed above, the student will also be charged for a portion of the program cost. The amount charged (in addition to the $500 deposit) is based the date of withdrawal as well as the program start date. Please refer to the Withdrawal/Fee chart below for exact amounts.

If you withdraw after the deposit is non-refundable: The late withdrawal penalty is:

60+ days before program start date	Deposit + $500
30-59 days before program start date	Deposit + $1000
15-29 days before program start date	Deposit + $2,500
1-14 days before program start date	Deposit + $3,500
After program start date	Deposit + Balance of full program

Financial Obligations

Continued enrollment as a student in good standing and certain other student benefits (diplomas, transcripts, etc.) are conditioned upon being current in all financial obligations to the university, including loans in which the university appears as a holder or guarantor.

Financial Planning

The university understands that financing an education can be a very complex process for many students. To assist with this process, financial planning counselors are available to work with students and their families on an individual basis to help them best utilize their own funds and other available resources to meet educational expenses. For more information and assistance call 1-800-343-2565, locally at 401-598-1468 or email sfs.pvd@jwu.edu.

Federal financial aid is not available to international students. International students must provide sufficient evidence of financial support in order to receive an I-20. The university awards scholarships based on academic merit. International students can contact the EducationUSA advising center in their country to learn more about opportunities for financial assistance.

Financial Aid

Student Financial Services (SFS)

Financial Aid

To assist students in meeting their educational expenses, the federal government offers grants and low-interest loans. Financial aid is awarded on an annual basis and is disbursed in three equal installments (fall/winter/spring).

Financial Aid Programs

Grants and loans are financial aid resources available to students. Students may receive assistance from one or both of these funds. Student eligibility for these programs is based on completion and submission of the form(s) described in the How to Apply (p. 179) section. Since awards are not automatically renewable, students must reapply each year. All financial aid awards are determined based on an academic year (fall/winter/spring terms). Financial aid awards are disbursed based on this term system, which equates to three disbursements. All annual awards are posted in three equal amounts.

Federal loan programs are applied to the student's account with the university in equal disbursements per term based on the loan period and the student's entrance date.

How to Apply

To be considered for financial assistance, complete the steps listed below and submit all required documentation as soon as possible after January

1. Students must reapply for financial aid each year. Student Academic & Financial Services holds all information in strict confidence.

1. Personal Identification Number (PIN)

Students and their parents can apply for a PIN at www.pin.ed.gov (<http://www.pin.ed.gov>). The PIN allows students and parents to sign the FAFSA electronically and to correct previously processed FAFSA information online. Both the student and at least one parent must apply for a PIN.

2. Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (<http://www.fafsa.ed.gov>) is available online. This form must be completed as soon as possible after January 1.

The information for financial assistance is then processed by the Federal Processor and sent to Student Academic & Financial Services at the university. The FAFSA code for JWU is 003404.

3. Independent Students

To be considered independent for financial aid purposes for the 2013–2014 academic year, students must answer yes to one of the following questions:

1. Were you born before January 1, 1990?
2. As of today, are you married? (Answer yes if you are separated, but not divorced.)
3. At the beginning of the 2013–2014 school year, will you be working on a master's or doctorate program (such as an M.A., MBA, M.D., J.D., Ph.D., Ed.D. or graduate certificate, etc.)?
4. Are you currently serving on active duty in the U.S. Armed Forces for purposes other than training?
5. Are you a veteran of the U.S. Armed Forces?
6. Do you have children who will receive more than half of their support from you between July 1, 2013 and June 30, 2014?
7. Do you have dependents (other than your children or spouse) who live with you and who receive more than half of their support from you, now and through June 30, 2014?
8. At any time since you turned 13, were both your parents deceased, were you in foster care or were you a dependent/ward of the court?
9. As determined by a court in your state of legal residence, are you or were you an emancipated minor?
10. As determined by a court in your state of legal residence, are you or were you in legal guardianship?
11. At any time on or after July 1, 2012, did your high school or school district homeless liaison determine that you were an unaccompanied youth who was homeless?
12. At any time on or after July 1, 2012, did the director of an emergency shelter program funded by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development determine that you were an unaccompanied youth who was homeless?
13. At any time on or after July 1, 2012, did the director of a runaway or homeless youth basic center or transitional living program determine that you were an unaccompanied youth who was homeless or were self-supporting and at risk of being homeless?

Students who cannot answer yes to one of the above questions are considered dependent and must complete their Free Application for Federal Student Aid as a dependent student by providing both parent and student information. Please feel free to contact Student Academic & Financial Services with any questions.

4. Verification and Other Documentation

Student Academic & Financial Services may request additional documentation to verify information provided on the FAFSA (i.e. verification worksheet and untaxed income worksheet). The student and his/her parents may be required to submit signed and dated copies of their Tax Return Transcript. The transcript can be obtained online at www.irs.gov (<http://www.irs.gov>) or by calling 1-800-908-9946. The student's financial aid package will not be complete until all requested documentation has been received and reviewed by Financial Aid. In addition, all student loan borrowers must attend an entrance and exit counseling session during which the student will be advised on his/her loan obligations.

Student Eligibility Requirements

Financial aid will be distributed to the student based upon the student’s financial need. All students seeking financial assistance must file a FAFSA with the Federal Processor. The FAFSA form is used to determine the student’s financial need.

Financial need is the difference between the cost of the student’s education (tuition and fees, room and board, books and supplies, transportation and personal expenses) and the total contribution expected from the student and his/her family. The student’s total family contribution is based on an analysis of the information which the student and/or parent supplied on the FAFSA. Some of the items considered are total family income, assets, the number of people in the household, the number of siblings in college, and the student’s own resources, such as earnings, savings, and untaxed income which the student may receive. Johnson & Wales University also considers these items when determining eligibility for university funds.

Federal Grants and Loans

Federal Pell Grant

The Federal Pell Grant is a federally funded entitlement program to assist needy undergraduate students. Eligibility for these grants is determined by the U.S. Department of Education based on the information provided on the FAFSA. Pell recipients can attend at less than half-time status and remain eligible for a portion of their Pell Grant. Students with a previous bachelor’s degree are not eligible for a Federal Pell Grant.

The maximum, full-time Pell Grant award for the 2012–13 award year (July 1, 2012 to June 30, 2013) was $5,550. The maximum Pell Grant award can change each award year and depends on program funding. Further information may be obtained from the U.S. Department of Education (<http://www.ed.gov>).

Campus-based financial aid programs, including the Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG), Federal Perkins Loan and Federal Work-Study programs are administered by Johnson & Wales University. Students apply for these programs through the filing of the FAFSA.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG)

This federally funded program provides financial assistance to students who demonstrate exceptional financial need. The amount Johnson & Wales University awards ranges from $100 up to a maximum of approximately $500 per academic year and is based on financial need and the availability of funds. Students with a previous bachelor’s degree are not eligible for a Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant.

Federal Perkins Loan

This low-interest loan is funded by the federal government and administered directly by the university. Master Promissory Notes for this loan are available (<http://www.jwu.edu/financialaid>). (Select "Forms & Applications.") Students may borrow up to $4,000 for each year of undergraduate study (the total a student can borrow as an undergraduate is $20,000). However, the amount a student may borrow may be less than the maximum available. The university is authorized to award a certain amount of Perkins funds each year from the U.S. Department of Education. When all available funds for that award year have been distributed, no additional award funds can be made for that year. The amount a student will receive depends on financial need and the availability of funds.

Students must begin to repay this loan nine months after they leave the university or drop below half-time status. The repayment of principal and interest may be extended over a 10-year period. The amount of each payment depends upon the amount of the student’s debt and the length of the student’s repayment period.

Federal Work-Study Program

Federal Work-Study is a federally funded program that provides part-time employment to students with financial need. Positions are available throughout the university and with selected off-campus community service agencies.

Work-study gives students the opportunity to earn money to help pay educational expenses. Students are paid an hourly rate for actual hours worked. The amount earned cannot exceed the total work-study award. Work-study funds are paid biweekly directly to the student; therefore, funds will not be applied to the student’s account unless arrangements are made with Student Academic & Financial Services.

William D. Ford Federal Direct Subsidized Stafford Loan

This loan program provides low-interest loans to students who demonstrate financial need. First-time borrowers are required to complete a Master Promissory Note and an entrance interview. Both of these requirements can be completed online (<https://studentloans.gov>).

Students may borrow up to a maximum of $3,500 per academic year as freshmen for the first year of undergraduate study, $4,500 for the second year as sophomores, and $5,500 per year for the third and fourth years as juniors and seniors. The student must begin repayment six months after he/she leaves the university or drops below half-time status. The interest on the loan is not subsidized during the student’s six-month grace period. The amount of the student’s monthly payment will be determined based upon the amount of student debt and the length of the repayment period. Please contact Direct Lending at 1-800-557-7394 for more information on repayment options.

William D. Ford Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loan

Like the Direct Subsidized Stafford Loan program, this Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loan program also offers low-interest loans to students. While most of the loan terms are the same as the Subsidized Loan program, there are several major differences:

- 1. students do not have to demonstrate financial need to receive a Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loan, and
- 2. the federal government does not pay interest on the borrower’s behalf while the borrower is enrolled in school.

During that time, the student borrower can choose between making quarterly interest payments or “capitalizing” interest. “Capitalizing” interest means that the lender will add interest accrued to the principal balance. This will eliminate the need for interest payments while in school, but will result in a larger principal amount owed upon repayment.

William D. Ford Federal Direct Parent Loan Program for Undergraduate Students (PLUS)

The Direct PLUS Program provides loans to parents of dependent students to attend college. PLUS borrowers do not have to demonstrate need, but are subject to a credit analysis by the Department of Education. All students must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) if their parents plan to borrow a PLUS loan. The parent must also complete the Direct PLUS Master Promissory Note (MPN); an MPN can be completed online (<https://studentloans.gov>). In addition the parent must indicate how much they want to borrow. Repayment of this loan will begin within 30 days of the time the loan is fully disbursed annually, or the borrower can contact the Department of Education to request a deferment. The borrowing limit is the total cost of attendance, minus any financial aid being received.

Increased Unsubsidized Stafford Limits for Independent Students and Dependent Students Whose Parents Don’t Qualify for a PLUS

There are higher additional unsubsidized annual loan limits for independent undergraduate students. These higher additional unsubsidized loan limits also apply to dependent undergraduate students whose parents are unable to borrow PLUS loans due to adverse credit or other documented exceptional circumstances.

- $3,500 combined subsidized and/or unsubsidized plus $6,000 additional unsubsidized for independent first-year undergraduates;
- $4,500 combined subsidized and/or unsubsidized plus $6,000 additional unsubsidized for independent second-year undergraduates; and
- $5,500 combined subsidized and/or unsubsidized plus $7,000 additional unsubsidized for independent third-, fourth- or fifth-year undergraduates.

Subsidized Total (Subsidized and Unsubsidized)

Dependent Undergraduates (excluding dependent students whose parents don’t qualify for a PLUS)

Year	Range
First Year; freshman	$3,500 - $5,500
Second Year; sophomore	$4,500 - $6,500
Third Year and Beyond; junior, senior	$5,500 - $7,500

Independent Undergraduates and Dependent Students Whose Parents Don't Qualify for a PLUS

Year	Range
First Year; freshman	$3,500 - $9,500
Second Year; sophomore	$4,500 - $10,500
Third Year and Beyond; junior, senior	$5,500 - $12,500

Note: All undergraduate annual loan amounts are subject to proration.

Please note that a student/borrower remains responsible for the repayment of educational loans that he/she borrows even if the student is not successful in completing the educational program and/or obtaining employment.

No student is required to apply for, or accept, any particular type of financial aid.

Johnson & Wales University participates in the William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program. All Direct Stafford Loans and parent PLUS loans will be borrowed from the U.S. Department of Education.

Please note that the loan information described in this catalog is based upon the available information as of the date of the production of this catalog. Updated information regarding federal grants and loans may be obtained by visiting the U.S. Department of Education (<http://studentaid.ed.gov>) website.

Applications for these loans are available in Student Academic & Financial Services or on the Direct Lending (<https://studentloans.gov>) website.

Aid from these programs is awarded on the basis of financial need. In order to receive maximum consideration for financial assistance, it is recommended that the student apply as soon as possible after January 1. The award process for first-year students begins in March of each academic year. Renewal of financial aid is not automatic. Recipients are required to reapply each year by the announced deadline.

To be eligible for these programs, students must meet the following criteria:

1. demonstrate financial need;
2. maintain satisfactory academic progress (financial aid will be suspended until satisfactory academic progress is again achieved);
3. be enrolled in an eligible degree or certificate program;
4. be enrolled on at least a half-time (at least 6.0 quarter credit hours) basis (students enrolled on a less-than-full-time basis may have their financial aid reduced; some students enrolled on a less-than-half-time basis may qualify for a Federal Pell Grant);
5. be a U.S. citizen, permanent resident, or eligible non-citizen;
6. not owe a refund on a Federal Pell Grant or be in default on a Federal Perkins Loan, Federal Subsidized Stafford Loan, Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan, Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (PLUS) or Supplemental Loan for Students (SLS); and
7. sign a Statement of Educational Purpose, a Statement of Registration Status and a Statement on Overpayments and Defaults.

Students are eligible to receive financial aid as long as they maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) as defined in the SAP (p. 183) section of the catalog, and in the Providence Campus Student Handbook (<http://catalog.jwu.edu/handbook/providence>). Students who fail to maintain SAP will be notified by Student Academic & Financial Services. All financial aid will be suspended until satisfactory academic progress is again achieved.

Return of Title IV Funds (federal aid)

When a student withdraws (or becomes withdrawn) during a payment period or period of enrollment, the amount of student financial aid program assistance earned is determined by a specific formula. If the student receives (or the university receives on the student's behalf) less assistance than the amount earned, the student may be able to receive those additional funds. Students who received more assistance than what they earned must return the excess funds.

The amount of federal assistance earned is determined on a pro-rata basis. That is, if a student completes 30 percent of the payment period or period of enrollment, the student earns 30 percent of the federal assistance he or she was originally scheduled to receive. Once the student completes more than 60 percent of the payment period or period of enrollment, the student earns all scheduled federal assistance.

The student's loan monies (subsidized, unsubsidized and PLUS) must be on record with the Department of Education before the student's last day of attendance in order for the money to be considered within the formula. If the student is eligible for a post-withdrawal disbursement, a written notice will be mailed requesting the consent of the borrower to post the funds to the student's account. The amount of institutional assistance earned is based on the week that the student withdraws from the university and follows the percentage the university credits the student's charges.

If a student receives excess funds that must be returned, Johnson & Wales University must return a portion of the excess, equal to the lesser of

- the student's institutional charges multiplied by the unearned percentage of the student's funds
- the entire amount of the excess funds

If the university is not required to return all excess funds, the student must return the remaining amount. Any loan funds that the student must return, must be repaid by the student (or his or her parents for a PLUS Loan) in accordance with the terms of the promissory note.

If a student is responsible for returning grant funds, the student does not have to return the full amount. Students are not required to return 50 percent of the grant assistance received that is the student's responsibility to pay. Any amount not returned is a grant overpayment and the student must make arrangements with the university or Department of Education to return the funds.

Federal regulations establish the following allocation for students who receive Title IV, HEA program funds:

A refund owed to a student who received funds under any Title IV, HEA program will be returned to the Title IV, HEA programs from which the student received aid in the following order until the amounts received by the student from these programs is eliminated: the Unsubsidized/ Subsidized Stafford Loan, the Perkins Loan, the Parent PLUS Loan, the Pell Grant, the FSEOG program, all other sources of aid, and the student.

Institutional Aid

Johnson & Wales University Grant

This grant is awarded to students based on the annual financial aid awarding process and the student's financial need.

Financial Assistance, Scholarship and Work Programs

Last year, Johnson & Wales University awarded more than $134 million in institutional aid to students. Awards range from $500 to full tuition. Scholarships, grants, loans and work programs awarded depend on the university budget, and are dependent on students meeting program eligibility requirements. These programs are only available to full-time, undergraduate, day school students during the academic year and are not available during the summer term. Note: Scholarship funds are applied to the student's account with the university in three equal disbursements by term (e.g., a $3,000 Presidential Academic Scholarship recipient would receive $1,000 per term).

Most scholarships are renewable for up to four consecutive years of enrollment.

Important Note: There is a cap on the total dollar amount of scholarships, grants, awards, prizes and other aid that the university will award to a single student during a given academic year. The maximum amount is determined prior to each year's financial aid awarding process and includes both university funded and university administered monies. Please contact Student Academic & Financial Services for further information regarding this cap.

Outside Scholarships

There are many other potential scholarship sources that students should consider to help finance their education. Students should contact the Higher Education Assistance Agency in their home state for information about the possibility of state grants or scholarships. It is recommended that students apply for outside scholarships as soon as possible because most organizations have an application deadline as early as March 10.

Scholarship aid is often available from high school and community organizations with which students or their parent(s) may be affiliated. Local libraries are an excellent resource for finding information on scholarships from organizations throughout the United States. There are also a number of websites available to assist students in the scholarship search. View a guide to free scholarship searches online (<http://www.jwu.edu/content.aspx?id=11772>).

Many companies provide scholarship aid for children of their employees, while others provide aid directly to students who work for them part time while in school.

The American Hotel Foundation

Scholarship aid is allocated each year by the foundation to The Hospitality College. Awards are made on the basis of student intent to work in the hotel industry, cumulative average and need. Sophomores who are continuing their education should contact their hospitality advisor for further information. The American Hotel & Lodging Education Foundation also offers numerous other scholarships for culinary arts, travel and hospitality majors. Visit their website (<http://www.ahlef.org>) for more information.

Connecticut Chef's Association

Scholarships are reserved for second-year culinary arts students who reside in Connecticut. To apply, submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), letters of recommendation from instructors and a copy of your academic record to the Scholarship Chairman, Connecticut Chef's Association Inc., PO Box 136, Wethersfield, CT 06109.

Dollars for Scholars

Johnson & Wales University will match scholarship awards made to entering students by affiliated Dollars for Scholars chapters of Scholarship America.

The Educational Foundation of the National Restaurant Association

The Educational Foundation of the National Restaurant Association administers various merit scholarships. These scholarships are awarded to qualified undergraduate students in food service related majors. Visit their website (<http://www.nraef.org/students/scholarships>) for more information.

Work Programs

Fellowship Program

Selection for this program is based on strong academic performance and successful completion of the internship. Applications are available at Practicum Educational Facilities or Culinary Administration. Awards for 2013–2014 are up to $10,800 and are renewable based on annual employee performance and 2.75 GPA maintenance.

Resident Assistant Program

Students are selected for this program based on strong academic performance and residence hall experience. Applications are available at Residential Life. Awards range from $10,500 to $12,500 and are renewable based on annual performance.

Student Assistant Employment Program

Scholarships are awarded to all students selected for this program. No application is necessary, but a résumé is requested by the hiring department for consideration. Selection is based on strong academic performance and the possession of necessary skills. Awards for 2013–2014 are up to $3,600 and are renewable based on annual employee performance and 2.50 GPA maintenance.

Teaching Assistant Program

Selection for this program is based on strong academic performance and successful completion of the internship. Applications are available at Practicum Educational Facilities or Culinary Administration. Awards for 2013–2014 are up to $9,000 and are renewable based on annual employee performance and 2.75 GPA maintenance.

Important notice for international students: Please be aware that some of the above programs offer a room and board grant for eligible summer participants. Non-resident alien students with an F-1, J-1 or Q-1 visa will be subject to U.S. income tax withholding on any grant received for room and board.

Note: There are many complex IRS regulations regarding the taxability of scholarships and grants. The university is not in a position to determine the tax consequences of such awards in the case of any particular student. It is recommended that all students consult IRS publication 970 entitled "Tax Benefits for Education" and their tax advisor to determine how these rules apply to them. Non-resident alien students with an F-1, J-1 or Q-1 visa will be subject to U.S. income tax withholding on any grant received for room and board.

Academic Progress

Satisfactory Academic Progress

To be eligible for financial aid, all students must satisfy Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP), which is required by federal law. SAP measures a student's completion of course work toward a degree. JWU evaluates SAP at the end of each term, including summer, for each student. Students who do not meet all SAP criteria may lose their eligibility to receive all types of financial aid (e.g., federal, state, private, institutional and other aid). Students will be notified of the decision both verbally and in writing.

Maximum Time Frame Criteria

Completion of undergraduate or graduate programs cannot exceed 150 percent of the published length of the program measured in credit hours attempted as determined by the student's program requirements.

Pace Measure of Academic Progress Criteria

- Students must complete a specified percentage of all credit hours attempted, see below.
- This percentage includes all credit hours attempted regardless of whether or not financial aid was received.
- This pace measurement is calculated by dividing the cumulative number of hours that the student has successfully completed by the cumulative number of hours that the student has attempted.

- Credits attempted are defined as all classes for which a student receives a grade ("D" or better), or an F, I, W, WP, WF, NC, GP, S, U, PL, CX, NG, AU etc.
- All transfer credit hours accepted from another institution towards the student's educational program at JWU will be counted as both attempted and completed hours.
- The student's GPA and pace of completion are negatively impacted by course incompletes, withdrawals, failures or repetitions (incompletes, failures and withdrawals count in attempted credits, but not completed).

Grade Point Average Criteria

- All undergraduate and graduate students must maintain a minimum Grade Point Average (GPA).
- The student's cumulative GPA for financial aid eligibility must be calculated on all grades received.
- All students, regardless of their enrollment status (e.g., full or part time), must meet the following minimum academic standards to remain eligible for financial aid.

Program	Total Credit Hours Attempted	Minimum Cumulative Pace	Minimum Cumulative GPA
Undergraduate	0–21	45%	1.00
Undergraduate	21.1–42	50%	1.26
Undergraduate	42.1–106.9	60%	1.50
Undergraduate	107 or higher	67%	2.00
Graduate	0 or higher	67%	2.00
Doctoral	0 or higher	67%	3.25

Warning Period

Students who fail to meet SAP criteria will be placed on financial aid warning for one academic term and a hold will be placed on the student's record which will prevent them from course registration for all future terms. Students remain eligible for financial aid during the warning term. If SAP criteria are not satisfied at the end of the warning term, the student will be ineligible for financial aid. Students on warning must meet with an academic counselor to clear the hold prior to course registration, and/or to pursue an appeal. Students on warning must submit their appeal and supporting documentation before the eighth week of the warning term.

Ineligible for Financial Aid Period

Students who fail to meet SAP criteria after the warning period are ineligible for financial aid. If the student does not have an approved appeal, the student is no longer eligible for financial aid. Students may continue to take courses without financial aid to re-establish SAP standards; however, a payment plan must be established for the tuition and applicable fees associated with the course(s). Once a student is meeting JWU's minimum SAP standards, he/she may regain financial aid eligibility. Students who are interested in reestablishing aid eligibility should meet with an academic counselor to determine what they would need to do to meet JWU minimum SAP standards.

Appeal Process/Probationary Period

If extenuating circumstances impacted successful adherence to SAP criteria, the student may pursue an appeal. The appeal will require the student to indicate why he/she did not make SAP and what has changed in the student's situation that will allow the student to demonstrate SAP by the next term. Circumstances and required documentation are illustrated below. The appeal process begins with the student's academic counselor in Student Academic Services. If an academic plan can be created that allows the student to meet SAP criteria within two terms, the counselor will present it to the appeals committee. Appeals must include complete documentation and are reviewed during the warning period; incomplete appeals will be denied. Appeal decisions are final. Students will be notified of the decision both verbally and in writing. This notification will take place after final grades are reviewed for the warning period.

If an appeal is approved, the student will be placed on an Financial Aid Probation Period, which is a status assigned by JWU to a student who fails to make SAP and who has successfully appealed and has had eligibility for financial aid reinstated. To continue receiving financial aid, the student will need to satisfy both the academic plan as outlined in their appeal and the SAP criteria.

Circumstance	Required Documentation
The student's own mental or physical illness or injury or condition	Provide documentation (e.g., a physician's statement, police report or documentation from a third party professional, such as a hospital bill)
Death of a family member or significant person in the student's life	Provide a copy of a death certificate
Illness, accident or injury of a significant person in the student's life	Provide documentation (e.g., a physician's statement, police report or documentation from a third party professional such as a hospital bill) related to the individual for whom the student provided care or support
The student's own divorce or separation or the divorce or separation of the student's parent(s)	Provide an attorney's letter on a law firm's letterhead, petition for dissolution, or copy of divorce decree
Personal problems other than the student's own mental or physical illness or injury or condition with the student's spouse, family, roommate, or other significant person in the student's life	Provide a written statement from an attorney, professional advisor or other individual describing the circumstances
Natural disaster	Provide a written statement and/or supporting documentation
Military deployment	Active duty service orders

Student Services

Student Services at JWU provides professional support for students across various aspects of campus life, from academic support to meals and housing, health services, and student clubs and organizations. Click on a topic to view specific information.

Academic Support

The Center for Academic Support offers a variety of services to assist each student in preparation for graduation and career placement. The center's goals are to support students in their efforts to develop and maximize their talents, empower them to direct their own learning, and lead them to pathways of success. With emphasis on success, graduates acquire lifelong behaviors and attitudes which are recognized by employers.

Services Offered

- The Learning Center — individual, group, peer and professional tutoring
- Supplemental instruction
- Workshops in stress management, time management, test-taking strategies and other learning strategies
- Accommodations for students with disabilities with appropriate documentation as described below.

The Center for Academic Support complements students' academic and technical training by sharpening their ability to position themselves in today's competitive marketplace. This is accomplished with programs centered around personal and career success.

Learning Centers

The Learning Center in the John Hazen White Center on the Downcity Campus offers students academic assistance in business, hospitality, technology and arts & sciences courses. Writing assistance is also provided, including tutoring for all types of written projects, study skills remediation, and help in researching and designing papers. Tutoring in all first-year courses and most upper-level courses is available.

The Learning Center in The Friedman Center on the Harborside Campus offers students individualized and/or small group tutoring in culinary and pastry laboratory and academic classes, as well as in study skills. Writing laboratories for undergraduate students are available, including tutoring for all types of written projects, study skills remediation, and help in researching and designing papers.

Contact the Learning Center for more information:

- Downcity 401-598-1485
- Harborside 401-598-1703

Tutorial Assistance

The university provides tutorial assistance through the Center for Academic Support. Students are urged to take the initiative in seeking out-of-class help during faculty office hours as well as in the Learning Center.

In addition, peer and professional tutoring is available in math, accounting, writing skills, most major courses and study strategies. Tutors, directed by a learning skills professional, provide individual and/or group sessions as student needs and resources dictate.

Students with Disabilities

JWU is dedicated to providing reasonable accommodations to allow students with learning, physical or other disabilities the opportunity to succeed in academic pursuits. While maintaining the highest academic integrity, the university strives to balance scholarship with support services which will assist students with disabilities in succeeding in the university's academic environment.

Because some programs of study at the university have technical standards (p. 171) and requirements, applicants and students with disabilities should contact the director of the Center for Academic Support at 401-598-4689 to discuss the availability of reasonable accommodations or to obtain documentation guidelines, when appropriate.

Available reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities with appropriate documentation include, but are not limited to:

- Decelerated Course Load
- Preferential Scheduling

- Individualized Exams
- Note-taking Assistance
- Audio Recording in Class
- Voice Recognition Software
- Digital Texts
- Classroom Relocation
- Housing Accommodations
- Medically Excused Absences
- Reader or Scribe
- Assistive Technology

For further information regarding available reasonable accommodations and the accommodations procedure, please see the Academic Support (<http://www.jwu.edu/content.aspx?id=278>) section of the Providence Campus website or call the Center for Academic Support at 401-598-4689.

Information regarding Accommodation of Food Allergies for Students in the College of Culinary Arts and The Hospitality College

Food allergies can be life-threatening. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, food allergies cause 30,000 cases of anaphylaxis, 2,000 hospitalizations and 150 deaths annually.

Please note that the common food allergens (cow's milk, egg, peanut, tree nuts, fish, shellfish, soybeans and wheat) as well as less common food allergens are used regularly in the university's curriculum in the College of Culinary Arts and The Hospitality College.

The College of Culinary Arts and The Hospitality College have technical standards (p. 171) that must be met for participation in their academic programs. All College of Culinary Arts programs and some Hospitality College programs include the requirement that the student, with or without reasonable accommodations, must be able to safely and effectively test and evaluate the taste, appearance, texture and aroma of food and beverage products, and maneuver in professional or commercial kitchens, dining rooms and related facilities.

If you are an applicant with a food allergy who has been accepted for admission to JWU who intends to pursue studies in the College of Culinary Arts or The Hospitality College, we strongly urge you to call or visit the Center for Academic Support (401-598-1485) prior to attending your first class to discuss any reasonable accommodations that might be available to you during your academic studies. While the university will provide reasonable accommodations in compliance with applicable law, the university cannot guarantee it will be able to meet all requests for accommodations or remove all allergens from its curriculum.

Health Services

JWU maintains two Health Services (<http://www.jwu.edu/content.aspx?id=10320>) offices where health care is provided to students — one for the Downcity Campus at Wales Hall and one for the Harborside Campus at the Wildcat Center.

JWU's health services are available to commuting students as well as to residents.

Medical Records

Prior to the first term of enrollment, the university requires all new, full-time undergraduate students — residents and commuters alike — to submit proof of a complete physical exam conducted within the past year, including documented proof of two doses of the MMR (measles, mumps and rubella) vaccine (or titers if applicable), three doses of hepatitis B vaccine (or titers if applicable), three doses of tetanus-diphtheria vaccine (including at least one Tdap dose within the past 10 years), two doses of the chicken pox vaccine (or titers if applicable) or proof of physician-diagnosed disease, and one dose of meningitis vaccine (required for students residing in university residence halls). A waiver of the meningitis vaccine requirement is available for students 22 years of age and older (please contact Health Services for further information). In addition, a negative tuberculosis test or chest x-ray within the last year is required for entering students who are from highly endemic countries and have been residents of the United States for less than five years. A list of countries where tuberculosis is highly endemic is available upon request from Health Services.

The hepatitis A vaccine is strongly recommended but not required.

International Services

The main focus of International Student Services (<http://www.jwu.edu/content.aspx?id=49664>) is to help international students adhere to Department of Homeland Security regulations, maintain their student status and access all the benefits permitted by their student visa status. A variety of other programs and services have also been created to assist students from the moment they enroll in the university until the day they graduate and beyond. International Student Services offers orientation programs and cultural programming for international students and the university community. In addition, information sessions on employment, tax and other cultural adjustment issues are conducted every year.

New Student Orientation and Support Programs

Attendance at an orientation program is mandatory for all new students. Summer Orientation is offered to all new day students entering Johnson & Wales University in the fall term. At Summer Orientation, students meet with academic representatives in their chosen school or college and take academic placement exams. Students learn about campus resources, network with upper-class student leaders, familiarize themselves with the campus and make new friends. An abbreviated orientation program is also offered for all new students each term prior to the start of classes. Activities include academic orientation, placement testing, social activities, distribution of photo identification cards, and meetings with administration, faculty and residence hall representatives.

Policies

Computer and Technology Use Policy

All students are required to comply with the university's Computer and Technology Use Policy (<http://helpdesk.jwu.edu/policies.htm>).

The university's Computer and Technology Use Policy prohibits students from uploading, downloading, posting, publishing, transmitting, retaining, reproducing, sharing or distributing in any way information, software, movies, music, books, articles or any other material which is protected by copyright or other proprietary right, without obtaining permission of the owner. Violation of this policy may result in the termination of a student's access to the Internet via the university's Internet system and student conduct review actions up to and including dismissal from the university.

In addition, students should be aware that unauthorized distribution of copyrighted material (e.g., songs, music and other materials), such as through peer-to-peer networks, may constitute copyright infringement. Penalties for copyright infringement include civil and criminal penalties. In general, anyone found liable for civil copyright infringement may be ordered to pay either actual damages or "statutory" damages affixed at not less than $750 and not more than $30,000 per work infringed. For "willful" infringement, a court may award up to $150,000 per work infringed. A court can, in its discretion, also assess costs and attorneys' fees. For details, see Title 17, United States Code, Sections 504, 505. Willful copyright infringement can also result in criminal penalties, including imprisonment of up to five years and fines of up to $250,000 per offense. For more information, please see the website of the U.S. Copyright Office (<http://www.copyright.gov>), especially their FAQs (<http://www.copyright.gov/help/faq>). Please refer to the Computer and Technology Use Policy for a further description of prohibited activities regarding use of university technology resources.

Drug and Alcohol Policy

In accordance with the Federal Drug-Free Workplace Act and Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act, Johnson & Wales University prohibits the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession or use of narcotics, drugs, other controlled substances or alcohol at the workplace and in the educational setting. Possession or use of alcoholic beverages anywhere on university premises is prohibited except for lawful use at events, operations or programs sanctioned by university officials (see the Student Code of Conduct (<http://catalog.jwu.edu/handbook/studentaffairs/studentcodeofconduct>)). Unlawful for these purposes means in violation of federal, state or local statutes, regulations or ordinances. Workplace is defined as either university premises or any place where university business is conducted away from university premises. Educational setting includes both university premises and approved educational sites off campus.

Possession or use of illegal drugs, narcotics or drug paraphernalia is absolutely forbidden. Johnson & Wales is not, and cannot be considered, a protector or sanctuary from the existing laws of the city, state and federal governments.

Sanctions

Disciplinary sanctions which may be imposed on a student found to be in violation of the above policy include, but are not limited to, reprimand, revocation of certain privileges, campus service, deferred suspension, fine or restitution for loss, suspension or dismissal from the university and/or university housing, and referral to alcohol education classes. The university also reserves the right to notify parents of violations.

Alcohol and Its Effects

Alcohol abuse is defined as any drinking that harms or endangers the drinker or other people. It can be a single episode or a regular pattern. Alcohol consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Thought processes are slowed as alcohol numbs and destroys brain cells.

Symptoms of Drug Abuse

The key is change. It is important to watch for any significant changes in physical appearance, personality, attitude or behavior. Behavior signs include a change in overall personality or attitude with no other identifiable cause; a general lack of motivation, energy, or self-esteem; sudden oversensitivity, temper tantrums, or resentful behavior, moodiness, irritability or nervousness.

Possible Effects of Drug Abuse

Narcotics (opium, morphine, heroin) may cause euphoria, drowsiness, respiratory distress and nausea. Depressants (barbiturates) may cause slurred speech, disorientation and drunken behavior without the odor of alcohol. Stimulants (cocaine, amphetamines) may cause increased alertness, increased blood pressure and pulse, insomnia and loss of appetite. Hallucinogens (LSD, mescaline) may cause illusions, hallucinations and poor perception of time and distance. Cannabis (marijuana, hashish) may cause euphoria, relaxed inhibitions and disoriented behavior.

JWU's Substance Abuse Prevention Program

Several programming initiatives and alternatives are available to help students examine their own behavior related to alcohol and other drugs (AOD).

- Counseling Services provides an assessment of AOD usage for all students who seek counseling.
- Counseling Services provides AOD assessments for students who are specifically referred by Student Conduct.
- Referrals to community resources are available for individuals with more long-term or complex needs. A number of AA/NA/Al-Anon groups hold meetings close to campus and in the larger Providence community.
- Counseling Services offers AOD prevention through programming efforts with various student groups and Student Affairs departments.
- Counseling Services also collaborates with Student Conduct to provide educational and other resources for students with problematic drinking behavior and drug use.
- A number of programming initiatives take place each year as part of Alcohol Awareness Week activities, the campus Wellness Fair, as well as a variety of classroom and Residential Life programs.
- There is also an Alcohol Task Force to address alcohol abuse by students. This group has members from all segments of the university community.

State Penalties for Drug and Alcohol Offenses

Johnson & Wales University students are subject to state criminal prosecution and penalties for drug and alcohol offenses. These offenses include the following:

- Possession or delivery of marijuana, cocaine, heroin, LSD or PCP
- Possession of a needle and syringe
- Driving under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs
- Driving under the influence, death resulting

Criminal penalties for drug and alcohol offenses can include

- Mandatory drug or alcohol counseling
- Alcohol and/or drug treatment
- Driver retraining
- Suspension or loss of driver's license
- Community service
- Fines ranging from $200 up to $1,000,000
- Imprisonment for various periods of time up to life imprisonment

Residential Life

Generally, all first-year students are required to live in university housing unless they meet one or more of the following criteria. The student

- is married or has a same sex domestic partner relationship that meets certain eligibility requirements
- is a parent
- is at least 21 years of age
- is living at home with a relative, parent, or guardian and commuting within a 50-mile radius of campus
- is a transfer student
- is not a U.S. citizen, a permanent resident, or an eligible non-citizen able to receive federal financial aid
- is not eligible to live on campus

Please contact Admissions for further information regarding these exceptions. Students who have been convicted of certain felonies (or have had certain felony-type charges sustained in a juvenile proceeding), such as crimes of violence, serious drug offenses and sex offenses, are not eligible to live in university housing.

Residential Life (<http://www.jwu.edu/content.aspx?id=294>) provides information regarding a variety of living accommodations on and off campus, as well as programs for students and opportunities for involvement.

Safety & Security

Campus Safety & Security (<http://www.jwu.edu/providence/safety>) is responsible for the enforcement of university policies, security on campus, and providing public safety service for the university's students, faculty and staff. In addition, Emergency Management provides policy input, planning, exercises and guidance to improve response capabilities in the event of a campus or university emergency. Johnson & Wales University's Providence Campus & Security is accredited by the International Association of Campus Law Enforcement Administrators Commission.

Incidents of an emergency nature should be reported to the Providence Police at 911, followed by contacting Campus Safety & Security at extension 1103 from a university phone or 401-598-1103 from a non-university phone. Campus Safety & Security issues timely alerts to the campus community, and when necessary, has the ability to issue these timely alerts via an emergency notification mass-messaging system.

Students are encouraged to take advantage of the services and programs listed on our website.

In compliance with the Higher Education Act, Johnson & Wales University publishes an Annual Security Report and an Annual Fire Safety Report. The Annual Security Report discloses information about campus security policies and statistics concerning reported crimes that occurred on campus, on university-controlled property, and on public property immediately adjacent to campus. The Annual Fire Safety Report discloses information about the campus fire safety policies and procedures and fire statistics for each residence hall. A copy of the reports may be obtained from Campus Safety & Security in person or online (<http://www.jwu.edu/providence/safety>).

The university maintains a log of all fires that occur in on-campus housing, and a daily log of all reported crimes.

Student Activities

Student Activities (<http://www.jwu.edu/content.aspx?id=11598>) serves to create and promote diverse environments where students are engaged in opportunities that foster holistic student development through collective leadership and participation in purposeful campus programs and events.

About Student Activities

Student Activities has two locations: in the Citizens Bank Center for Student Involvement at the Downcity Campus and in the Wildcat Center at the Harborside Campus. Some of the programs and services include

- more than 100 clubs and organizations
- fraternities and sororities/Greek life
- concerts
- leadership institutes, workshops and retreats
- Halloween, Winter and Spring Week events
- spiritual life
- student government
- student-run newspaper, The Campus Herald
- free movies
- campus traditions such as Midnight Madness, One-Ton Sundae, Wildcat Wahoo Carnival and more

Clubs and Organizations

Opportunities abound for students to become engaged on campus and get involved in clubs and organizations at JWU's Providence Campus. See clubs & organizations (<http://www.jwu.edu/content.aspx?id=11298>) for currently available opportunities. Guidelines for starting a new organization are outlined in the Clubs & Organizations Handbook (http://www.jwu.edu/uploadedFiles/Documents/Student_Life/handbooks/JWUStuLifeClubOrgHandbkPVD.pdf).

Greek Life

Getting involved in Greek life at the Providence Campus is a fantastic way to build a network of resources that last a lifetime. See Greek Life (<http://www.jwu.edu/content.aspx?id=11084>) for currently available sororities and fraternities.

Athletics

Athletics at JWU's Providence Campus serves multiple functions within the campus community in supporting students' needs through intercollegiate, recreational and intramural sports programs, as well as fitness programs and facilities. See Athletics (<http://providence.jwuathletics.com/landing/index>) for current Athletics program information.

Leadership Development Programs

In addition to academic courses, one of the university's priorities is to equip students to be strong, ethical leaders in industry and in their communities. Working in conjunction with various academic and student affairs departments, Student Activities provides opportunities (<http://www.jwu.edu/content.aspx?id=292>) for students to complement their classroom education with the leadership knowledge, skills and abilities necessary to succeed in a competitive workplace.
